SUMMARY.

Surprise is expressed in India at the inaction of the Imperial Government in regard to the Indian strikers in Natal.

The query is frequently heard:—"Why cannot the Emperor protect his Indian subjects?"

In official circles in London General Botha's statement is regarded as a sound and fair exposition of the case.

The situation is recognised to be full of difficulties, but is one that does not call for Imperial interference.

Turbulent scenes were witnessed at a meeting held in Dublin to establish an Irish volunteer corps.

Larkin, in a speech at Sheffield, made a violent attack on the union leaders in Britain.

The secretary of the British Miners' Federation has issued a statement in reference to the strike.

He advises Larkin to "drop the fiery cross," and use his influence to secure a settlement in Dublin.

Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, has been married to Mr. Francis Sayre at the White House.

The New Zealand football team defeated a Vancouver fifteen by 41 points to nil.

Mr. Bramwell Booth and Mr. Ballington Booth have become reconciled after a separation extending over 20 years.

The Duchess of Connaught is threatened with a return of her former illness.

A protest against the torture of political prisoners in Russia is being published throughout Europe.

Baroness De La Roche has made a new record for women by flying a distance of 253 miles.

The death is announced of Sir Robert Ball, director of astronomy at Cambridge University.

The North-Eastern Railway Company has accorded a nine hours' working day for drivers and firemen.

Over 8000 people, principally Albanians, are homeless and destitute in Skutari. Montenegro is affording relief.

The miners' strike in Paris against the attitude of the Senate in connection with the Eight Hours Bill has collapsed.

In all 1400 German firms and corporations will take part in the Panama Canal Exhibition.

The Federal Executive has cancelled the proclamation imposing quarantine restrictions on Sydney.

An important return with regard to the efficiency of vaccination has been prepared by Dr. Cumpston.

It is emphatically asserted that no person successfully vaccinated within recent years had been attacked by the disease.

There were five cases of smallpox yesterday, three cases having occurred in Balmain.

The funeral of the late Mr. C. E. Frazer took place yesterday, the remains being interred in the Melbourne Cemetery.

Mr. Scaddan, Premier of Western Australia, is mentioned as a likely candidate for the vacant Kalgoorlie seat.

The back of the New Zealand strike is believed to have broken.

The Government intends to introduce legislation which it is believed will prevent or discourage strikes.

Conditions in Auckland are almost normal. The trams are running the full service.

A small sectional strike continues, but the waterside workers have resumed work.

A number of the farmers have returned to their homes.

The A.M.A. of Broken Hill has voted £1000 to the strikers in New Zealand.

The wharf section of the Clerks' Union in Sydney passed a resolution that clerks' work should be confined to clerical duties.

There are now eight boats held up in the port of Sydney.

The wharf-labourers refused to unload the Tofua, which arrived from the islands yesterday.

The Premier addressed a large audience at Ashfield last night, and was accorded a good hearing.

Sir Newton Moore has been re-appointed for another term as Agent-General for Western Australia.

Mr Glynn made a long statement in the House of Representatives in regard to the New Hebrides.

He said the Imperial Government had been approached in the matter.

The Treasurer moved for a month's supply, totalling £767,143.

The decrease in the revenue since the beginning of the financial year was £343,000.

Sir John Forrest thought, however, that the year would end much better than it had begun.

Householders in the higher parts of the northern suburbs are again experiencing a water famine.

The W. and S. Board has prohibited the use of sprinklers in gardens on the northern side of the harbour.

Mr. Holman's Gundagai speech has drawn a bitter retort from Father O'Reilly.

"We are not afraid of the coming to power of the Liberals," says Father O'Reilly; "they can read the signs of the times."

Mr. William H. Barkley has been appointed Collector of Customs in Sydney, in succession to Mr. Stephen Mills.

The Sydney Meat Preserving Company's works at Auburn are now practically closed down until after Christmas.

Eighteen of the strikers have been summoned to appear before Mr. Justice Heydon.

The principal Melbourne hospitals and the University will benefit largely under the will of the late Sir Samuel Gillott.

In an action for libel against the "Age" in respect to the publication of an advertisement, plaintiff was awarded £400 damages.

The Japanese are reported to be directing their attention to the Solomon Islands.

Mr. Justice Higgins has decided not to convene a compulsory conference between rural workers and the employers.

None of the farmers in the Wagga district whose harvest hands went out on strike have suffered inconvenience.

Seven persons were fined in the Industrial Magistrate's Court yesterday for breaches of awards.

In a case before the High Court the validity of the Seamen's Compensation Act was questioned.

The Minister for Works addressed a meeting at Delegate, and dealt with the financial administration of the Government.

The construction train from Moree is within seven miles of Mungindi.

Bush fires are raging in many parts of the West. Damage to the crops is feared.

An engine and a carriage were overturned on the line to the State sawmills at Dwellingup, W.A. Five passengers were injured.

A demonstration in domestic science was held at the Dulwich Hill Public School yesterday.

A woman named Collins was burned to death through her clothes catching fire at Lower Ferntree Gully (Vic.).

The Miners' Wages Board gave its decision yesterday in connection with the Stockton Borehole case.

The tonnage rate was fixed at 2s 2½d a ton for the working of a standard height of 4ft. in the long wall system.

The disappearance of a young woman named West, who came to Sydney from Goulburn three weeks ago is causing anxiety.

The finance committee of the City Council has recommended that the Queen Victoria Markets be remodelled.

Reid's box factory and timber yard in Playfair-lane were destroyed by fire last evening. Other buildings were damaged.

An at home was held at Bishopscourt yesterday in furtherance of the objects of the Home Mission Union.

The mining market continues quiet. Broken Hill silver stocks and Ardlethans are steady.

Forecast.—A few showers likely on the south coast, with southerly winds, but elsewhere fine and warm to hot generally, with winds veering to northerlies.

A heat wave approaching from west by the end of the week.

FOR THE FARM.

PROVIDE WINTER FEED.

There is ALWAYS SOMETHING to be thought about for the welfare of the stock, and it is now that the question of providing some crop that will GIVE WINTER FEED is one of interest to the agriculturist.

Sow for green fodder, Buckwheat, Amber Cane, Planter's Friend, Sorghum, Johnson Grass, and Hungarian Millet; Maize for seed crop and green fodder. If the weather is favourable, sow also ANDERSON'S Purple Top Swede—one of the best of our root crops, and yields enormously: as much as 25 tons per acre is not an unusual crop.

We have fine stocks of all the leading lines—Sorghums, Millets, Maize, etc., and samples and quotations for machine-dressed seed will be readily given.

WHAT BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT FOR "HIM" THAN A FOUNTAIN PEN?

Christmas Time—the holidays—is just the time when the need of a good Fountain Pen is most urgent. Why not combine usefulness with your Christmas Gift?

Get an "Enterprise" mounted Presentation Fountain Pen from Smith's. They are mounted both in silver and gold—beautifully engraved, with space for initials. With an "Enterprise" there is no need when holidaying to depend on Boarding-house Pens—you know what they are. You can write where and when you like.

We have the "Enterprise" at prices from 8/6 to 50/, according to richness of mount—and we can thoroughly recommend them all as being pens that will give years of good service. Call in and ask to see them any time TO-DAY; better come to-day though, Christmas is not far off.

CHRISTMAS AHOY!

PICCANINNIES' PARADISE has a NEW home at ANTHONY HORDERNS'. SANTA CLAUS has taken up NEW HEADQUARTERS on the HISTORIC Slope, located on the THIRD FLOOR occupying the WHOLE of the GEORGE-STREET FRONTAGE of the BIGGEST STORE in AUSTRALIA.

There are WONDERFUL ATTRACTIONS for YOUNG and OLD. NOTHING has been forgotten. NOTHING has been left out. EVERYTHING to delight the JUVENILE idea is SHOWN in ARRAY that is BEWILDERINGLY entrancing.

PICCANINNIES' PARADISE is READY to-day on a SCALE of GRANDEUR that ECLIPSES the efforts of PAST years; it is a FAIRYLAND scene REDOLENT of the CHRISTMAS ATMOSPHERE. The WHOLE SHOW bristles with EXCELLENCE, with ORIGINALITY, and with ATTRACTIVENESS. There is LOTS of ROOM for EVERYONE.

AN ILLUSTRATED GUIDE.
For the CONVENIENCE of COUNTRY FRIENDS, a GUIDE to PICCANINNIES' PARADISE has been printed—Forty-eight Pages of Illustrated Selections from this Home of Toys. This publication, together with OTHER XMAS LISTS—POPULAR PRESENTS, BOOKS for Xmas, and XMAS GROCERIES, will help to SOLVE the PRESENT problem. COPIES are POSTED FREE on request.

PICCANINNIES' PARADISE embraces everything LITTLE and BIG, GREAT and SMALL, useful and FANCIFUL, and a POINT that adds CHARM is that EVERYTHING is BROUGHT UNDER the POTENT influence of ANTHONY HORDERNS' FAMOUS LOW PRICES.

THE DOLL COMMUNITY.
CITY FOLK should include a TOUR of PICCANINNIES' PARADISE in their SHOPPING PROGRAMME. There is a WHOLE COMMUNITY of DOLLS, ranging from the simple "RAG" variety to the stately DUCHESS fashionably attired in PRETTY FROCKS and FURBELOWS that can be removed at the will of the owner. DOLLS with KID bodies, WOODEN dolls, CHINA dolls, UNBREAKABLE dolls, dolls with REAL hair and EYELASHES, and the wonderful "DOLL BABY," the new doll that assumes the ATTITUDE of an ordinary BABY doll as well as STANDS up, SITS down, or will lie down with outstretched limbs. The BEAUTIFUL PERAMBULATORS and GO-CARTS for DOLLS of EVERY degree must be SEEN; they will DELIGHT the little ones.

WONDERLAND OF NOVELTIES.
Among the TOYS for BOYS and GIRLS are Rocking Horses, Rockaways, Express Waggons, "Gee-Gees" in wonderful variety, Horses in Harness and Saddle, Bicycles for little boys and big boys, "Trikes" for boys and girls, and Hand or Trolly Cars.
There are marvellously ingenious MECHANICAL Toys; some rely on CLOCKWORK, others upon STEAM as the motive power; indeed, THIS section exhibits the GRANDEST show of Toys yet seen under one roof, ranging from Toys of extreme SIMPLICITY to Toys upon which NO END of INGENUITY has been bestowed.
The counters upon which are displayed Dolls' FURNITURE, Dolls' TEA SETS, Compendiums of Indoor GAMES, Masks, Flags, Diminutive MILITARY UNIFORMS, and all sorts of FIXINGS for the CHRISTMAS TREE, are PARTICULARLY PLEASING and well worth a visit.

STATIONERY AND BOOKS.
Quite an ATTRACTIVE FEATURE is made of STATIONERY, embracing a pleasingly varied assortment of XMAS and NEW YEAR CARDS, pretty Postcards, Autograph STATIONERY, PAPETERIES, ALBUMS for Postcards, Postage Stamps, or Photographs. Inkstands for OFFICE use, for HOME use, as well as ELEGANT CREATIONS for PRESENTATION purposes are shown, as well as LUNCH Boxes that will make USEFUL little presents.
BOOKS for XMAS and LEISURE HOURS occupy an IMPORTANT place in the XMAS BAZAAR. Nowhere else is there such a BIG COLLECTION of PRIZE books, CHILDREN'S Books, XMAS Annuals, Picture Books of every kind published, and general Literature to suit every LITERARY taste. The selections of EVERYMAN'S LIBRARY, and the WORLD LIBRARY, with the handy EXPANDING BOOKCASES, are WORTH inspecting.

SWEETS AND SUCH LIKE.
CHRISTMAS CONFECTIONERY of the FINEST quality, BON BONS and every description of CHOCOLATE are shown. All sorts of REFRESHING DRINKS, commonly known as "AMERICAN," may be obtained from the Marble Fountain.

PICCANINNIES' PARADISE is located on the THIRD FLOOR and occupies the WHOLE of the GEORGE-STREET Frontage. YOUNG AUSTRALIA is CORDIALLY INVITED to INSPECT the TREASURES of TOYLAND. No one is IMPORTUNED to PURCHASE.

HAVE YOU ANY LAND AT STRATHFIELD?
Many times during the past year we have been asked this question, but, unfortunately, were unable to supply the demand. We are now able to offer just a limited number of fine home sites in this most popular of high-class residential suburbs.
BOULEVARDE ESTATE, STRATHFIELD, is situated on the finest thoroughfare in the district, tree-shaded and surrounded by an excellent class of home, in keeping with the locality.
THE ASHFIELD-BURWOOD TRAM PASSES THE CORNER OF THE ESTATE.
And in every way it is a thoroughly suitable property for residential purposes.
AUCTION, NEXT SATURDAY, NOV. 29,
AT 2.30 P.M.
Clients are advised to be on the ground promptly, as the number of lots are limited, and will be quickly taken up. They average 50 x 125 feet, and will be offered on OUR EASY TERMS
of £1 deposit and 10s monthly, including interest for every £25 purchased. The Title is Torrens.

THE TERMS OF SURRENDER.

BY LOUIS TRACY.

(ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.)

CHAPTER XVIII.—Continued.

Thus doing good by stealth, and ever widening his knowledge of mankind, he passed thirteen busy years. It would serve no useful purpose to go more fully into the records of that long and fruitful period of his life. Though crammed with incident, and rich in the vivid tints of travel in many lands, it calls for none other than the briefest summary in a narrative which, at the best, can only deal with the chief passes of a remarkable career.

He was in his forty-eighth year, and was paying a deferred visit to Dacre, when he entered upon the last, and, in some respects, the greatest of his trials. Howard was in London, showing the sights to some relatives, and Power had elected to motor to Devonshire. His chauffeur, a tall, well-built youngster, who answered to the name of Maguire—being, in fact, Rafferty's grandson—was eager to test a car which was supposed to possess every mechanical virtue, and Power was not disinclined for the run through a June England. Nothing daunted by the prospect of twelve hours' continuous excess of the speed limit, master and man determined to reach Devonshire in the day. But the machine decided differently. Two burst tyres cost them a couple of hours on the road, and a speck of grit in a valve caused such trouble that it became necessary to stop for the night in a town, where careful overhauling of the engine was practicable; so they ran slowly into Bournemouth, and there, in one of the big hotels on the cliff, Power met his own daughter.

He thought, and not without reason, that he was the victim of hallucination. He had halted for a moment in a soft-carpeted corridor to look at a spirited painting of wild ponies in the New Forest, when a door opened close at hand. He heard no footstep, but the rustle of a dress caught his ear, and he moved aside to permit the passing of some lady, of whose presence he was only half-conscious. But a sudden impulse—perhaps due to the action of the magnetic waves which link certain kindred individualities without their personal cognisance—caused him to turn and look at the stranger, and he saw—Nancy.

The light in the corridor was dim—for instance, he had been obliged to peer closely at the picture before he could decipher the artist's signature—but there was no mistaking the extraordinary resemblance which this girl bore to the Nancy Willard of the Dolores ranche days, the Nancy with whom he used to gallop along prairie tracks where now ran the steel ribands of electrically-propelled street cars, Nancy as he knew her before he had won and lost her twice.

The shock of recognition was so unexpected that he reeled under it. Then, seeing that the girl was evidently wondering why he was looking at her so strangely, he forced himself to walk on towards his own apartments.

There, when calmer thought became possible, he realised he had seen Nancy's child, a girl now in her twentieth year. She was so like her mother at the same age that there was no possibility of error on his part. The same glory of golden hair, the same changeful eyes of blende Kagoul blue, the same winsome features, the same graceful carriage—he could not be mistaken. And, to make more fierce the fire that was consuming him, he had again found a subtle hint of Marguerite Sinclair in the sprightly maid who had passed him so silently and swiftly. He smiled with a sort of bitter weariness when it dawned on him that this vision would probably control the future course of his life. He was face to face with destiny again. There was less chance of escape for him now than for the sailor swept from the gale-submerged deck of a tramp steamer in mid-Atlantic, because miracles did sometimes happen at sea, but, where he was concerned, fate planted her snares so cunningly that he was always fast pinioned before he even suspected their existence.

"I am fey to-day. I peer into a dim future . . . . Some day, some how, you will understand that which is hidden from my ken."

He could not comprehend the full meaning of those words yet, but the day of reckoning was at hand. Well, it was better so. Surely the settlement would be final this time!

He was minded to dine in privacy, but he was no coward, and the inclination was dismissed as unworthy. So he dressed with care, reached the crowded dining-room rather late, and was allotted to a small table near a window. In that particular window was a party of six, and among them were Marten and the girl. She raised her eyes when Power entered, and a look of recognition came into them. On her right sat a small, polished, olive-skinned man, who seemed to be more engrossed in her company than she in his. The faces of these three were clearly visible from Power's place; the others, two ladies and a man, were not so much in evidence.

He strove to catch some of the girl's accents, but she spoke but little, and that in a low voice. She gave him the impression of being among people whom she disliked, but whose presence had to be endured. Once or twice she addressed Marten and then her manner reminded him more than ever of her mother. To all appearance, father and daughter were wrapped up in each other, and Power knew not whether to rejoice or be sad because of it. Marten looked old and worn. He showed every one of his sixty years. The burthen of finance may be even weightier than that of empire.

Power's mind ran back to the night, just twenty years ago, when he sat at a table in another hotel, and found Nancy Marten gazing at him. Skies and times may change, but not manners; he had met mother and daughter under precisely similar conditions, save that he was alone now, and a complete stranger to the girl. Marten was so taken up with his friends that he gave no attention to others in the room. Perhaps he had trained himself to that useful habit. At any rate, he only glanced Power's way once, and obviously regarded him as one among the well-dressed throng.

Later, in a lounge where people smoked, chatted, drank coffee, or played bridge to the accompaniment of an excellent band, Power contrived to pass close behind the girl's chair. She was with one of the ladies now, and talking animatedly. Yes, she had her mother's voice. What long dormant chords of memory it touched. How it vibrated through heart and brain. Nancy, dead and yet speaking.

Next morning the car, in chastened mood, bore him smoothly and quickly away through the Hampshire pines, and the blossom-laden hedges of Somerset. He reached Dacre's house early in the afternoon, and was somewhat surprised when his friend suggested that they should start forthwith on a rambling tour up the Wye Valley, and thus to the lakes, by way of North Wales.

This spirit of unrest was so unlike Dacre's wonted air of repose that it evoked a question.

"I have just come here to escape from the ceaseless rush of things," said Power. "Why do you want to bustle me off so promptly?"

"I thought a change of scene might be good for both of us," was the offhand answer.

"Yet it is only a week since you wrote and reproached me for neglecting the Devon moors. I can slay you with your own quotation. You bade me join you in

This other Eden, demi-paradise.
This fortress built by Nature for herself, and now you would have us cavort along dusty highways to other joys. Why is it?"

"My quotation applied to the whole of this sceptred isle."

"You are quibbling, Dacre, and I think I guess the reason. Have you heard anything of Marten recently?"

His companion did not try to conceal the surprise that leaped to his eyes.

"Your Indians made you a bit of a wizard," he said. "I'll tell you now what I meant to hide from you. Marten has rented Lord Valescure's place on the hill yonder, and is due here to-morrow or next day. I only heard the name of the new tenant this morning, and I decided that we ought to quit if we want to be happy."

"No. If you'll let me, I'll remain."

"Is it wise?"

"I endured the major wrench last night. Marten and—and his daughter—were staying in the same hotel as myself."

"So you have seen her—at last?"

"Yes, and I'll confess my weakness. Having seen her, I wish to speak to her. I admit my folly, but I cannot help it. Somehow—I think—that her mother—would wish it. I'll placate Marten, grovel to him, if I may be allowed to meet her."

"My dear Derry, I've said my say. You ought to have lived two thousand years ago, and Euripides would have immortalised you in a tragedy."

The eyes of the two men clashed, but Power repressed the imminent request for an explanation of that cryptic remark. He dared not ask what Dacre had in mind. His comment might have been a chance shaft, but it fell dangerously near the forbidden territory of Nancy's close-veiled secret. When next he spoke, it was to give a motorist's account of the mishaps of the road.

(To be continued.)

RELIEF AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS.
"For fifteen years I suffered from constipation and I could get no relief," writes Mr. Frederick Fuller, Saddler, New Canterbury-road, Petersham, N.S.W. "Then I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised, and taking them according to directions, found they relieved me after the first dose or two. At one time I was completely doubled in two with wind in my stomach, but I do not know what that is now, for Chamberlain's Tablets have completely cured me."—Advt.

LAW REPORT.

HIGH COURT.

(Before the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Barton, and Mr. Justice Isaacs, Mr. Justice Higgins, Mr. Justice Duffy, Mr. Justice Powers, and Mr. Justice Rich.)

SEAMEN'S COMPENSATION APPEAL.

VALIDITY OF ACT QUESTIONED.

Clarke v Union S.S. Company.

The validity of the Seamen's Compensation Act, 1911, was brought into question in response to an appeal by Lincoln Clarke from a decision of Judge Docker, holding that he was not entitled to compensation at the hands of the Union Steam Ship Company of New Zealand, Ltd., in respect to an accident that occurred on the steamer Moana. Clarke signed on at Sydney for a voyage to San Francisco and back, and on October 16, 1912, when 200 miles from San Francisco on the return trip, he sustained an injury to a hand, and, his right to compensation being disputed, the matter came before Judge Docker, in the District Court, on March 13 last, in accordance with the provisions of the Act. His Honor dismissed the claim without costs, ruling that on the facts Sydney was not the port of destination, and that the port of destination was not within the Commonwealth, the ship, therefore, not being subject to the law of the Commonwealth at the time of the accident. Against this decision Clarke appealed, and on behalf of the respondent company the further question was raised as to whether the Act was not ultra vires.

Mr. Watt and Mr. Bavin (instructed by Messrs. Sullivan Bros.) appeared for the appellant; and Dr. Brissenden and Mr. Broomfield (instructed by Messrs. Creagh and Creagh) for the respondent firm.

Mr. Bavin mentioned that prior to the existing Act a Seamen's Compensation Act was passed in 1906, which was held to be ultra vires by the High Court because there was no distinction drawn between its application to the interstate and intrastate trade.

Mr. Justice Isaacs: We did not hold the whole of the Act invalid.

Mr. Bavin said that in any case the Act was repealed, and the Act of 1911 substituted. The plaintiff was injured by an accident arising in the course of his employment within the meaning of section 5 of the Act, this being undisputed. The amount of compensation was provided by the schedule. Section 4 provided, however, that the Act should apply to the employment of a seaman on the classes of ships that were enumerated in the section. Summed up, the point was whether the ship was subject to the law of the Commonwealth at the time of the accident, she being a ship not registered in the Commonwealth. In this case the ship was not registered in the Commonwealth, but the articles of agreement were entered into in Australia. The plaintiff's articles were dated September 4, 1912, and the voyage to San Francisco and back commenced on September 7.

Dr. Brissenden said the respondent's case depended on two points—firstly, whether the ship was subject to the law of the Commonwealth; and, secondly, whether the Act was ultra vires, as dealing with matters outside the legislative powers of the Commonwealth. The Act dealt with a relation between master and servant, which was entirely incidental to commerce, and indicated practically compulsory insurance by employers. Its tendency was not in the way of making commerce better or surer, and was not within the commerce laws. It did not practically, substantially, and approximately affect commerce.

Mr. Bavin argued his case on the assumption that the Act was valid, and contended that on the facts the ship was within the laws of the Commonwealth, both her first port of clearance and her port of destination being within the Commonwealth, Sydney, and not San Francisco, was the port of destination in this case, as Clarke signed for a voyage from Sydney to Sydney.

Dr. Brissenden said a ship's destination was the place where she discharged her cargo according to her bill of lading. In this case San Francisco was the Monna's destination. A sailor was part of the mechanism, and had no more to do with the destination than the piston rods, and his agreement with the master had nothing to do with whether the ship was within Commonwealth law or not.

On the point as to whether the Act was ultra vires, Dr. Brissenden said he could not see under what clause of the Constitution the appellant would attempt to justify the statute.

Mr. Bavin: To save trouble, I may say now that I will principally rely on the trade and commerce clause.

Dr. Brissenden argued that the power to pass a Workmen's Compensation Act was not one that came within the trade and commerce clause, and that the Legislature, in passing the statute, was virtually effecting a compulsory insurance system. Section 3 of the Act made an employer liable absolutely in the case of injury to a servant. Parliament had therefore enacted a statutory contract of insurance, or liability of insurance, between employer and employees, and the liability could only be cancelled by serious and wilful misconduct on the part of the latter. Such legislation was beyond the scope of the clause and the Constitution referred to.

The case stands part heard.

COMMONWEALTH ARBITRATION COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Higgins, President.)

APPLICATION FOR PREFERENCE.

Merchant Service Guild v North Coast S.N. Company.

The hearing was continued of evidence called on behalf of the North Coast Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., in answer to a summons to show cause why an order for preference should not be made against them under the terms of section 40 of the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Act, on the application of the Merchant Service Guild of Australasia. The grounds on which preference was sought were that discrimination had been shown against members of the guild.

Captain Lawrence appeared for the applicant guild; and Mr. C. W. McDonald for the respondent company.

Alexander Allen Brown stated that the managers for the company at Grafton, Coff's Harbour, and the Manning, were members of the guild and had been promoted to their positions.

Captain Lawrence: Do you think you are better off as a non-member of the guild, as far as the North Coast Company is concerned?

Witness: Better as a non-member. Witness, when asked to explain why, added that members of the guild were always dissatisfied and had grievances. He had come to Australia from the United Kingdom because conditions were better.

The witness had joined the Noorebar in December, 1912, as chief officer, the pay being £18 a month, with overtime allowance. He had never put in an account for overtime. Asked whether he would have been satisfied with £12, which was what the first mate on the same vessel received at the time the North Coast Company acquired it in 1905, he replied that he would have been if he were able to live on the sum.

Captain Lawrence: How long hours would you be prepared to work for £12?

Witness: Twelve hours a day. Cross-examined as to a conversation with Captain Manning, an emissary of the guild, he denied that anything was said as to the attitude of the company towards the guild.

The further hearing was adjourned.

SUPREME COURT.

NO. 1 JURY COURT.

The only case in the day's list was an undefended claim on a promissory note, and judgment was given, in default of appearance by defendant.

NO. 2 JURY COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Sly and a jury of four.)

CLAIM FOR COMPENSATION.

VERDICT FOR £16,500.

The case of Richard James, hotel-keeper, of the Victoria Hotel, William-street, Darlinghurst, against the Municipal Council of Sydney, for compensation in respect to the resumption of the hotel and site, was resumed. Mr. Shand, K.C., Mr. Pike, and Mr. Harry Stephen, instructed by Messrs. W. H. and F. B. Jones, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Campbell, K.C., and Mr. Edwards, instructed by Mr. T. W. K. Waldron, acting City Solicitor for Messrs. Dawson, Waldron, and Glover), for the defendant council. His Honor, having finished his summing up, the jury retired, and after about an hour and a half's consideration, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, with damages, £16,500.

On the motion of Mr. Edwards, a stay of proceedings was granted.

CLAIM FOR DAMAGE BY WATER.

Sindell v Granville Municipality.

Mr. W. A. Walker and Mr. McKean, instructed by Mr. E. H. Abigail, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Loxton, K.C., and Mr. Hayes, instructed by Mr. E. K. Bowden (of Messrs. Bowden and Bowden, of Parramatta), for the defendant. This was an action brought by Robert Sindell, a produce and wood merchant, blacksmith, and wheelwright, carrying on business at Guildford-road, Guildford, against the council of the Municipality of Granville, to recover compensation for damage done to his property by rain water, etc., as plaintiff alleged, to the faulty construction of a kerb gutter. His case was that not far from Guildford Railway Station he owned a vacant piece of land, and certain premises adjoining, where he carried on business. Up to the end of last year, or the beginning of this year, there was a water table in the vicinity, which was amply sufficient to carry off the rain water; but the defendant council subsequently substituted a concrete gutter, which was only eight inches in depth. The result was that when heavy rain fell the water flowed over on to the pathway, eventually running along the centre. About the end of March plaintiff noticed the water coming down the middle of the footpath, about 60 or 70 feet above his premises, and, after passing under a building, it reached his property, turning the vacant land into a quagmire, and doing damage to his adjacent premises and some of the goods therein. He attributed this to the defective construction of the concrete gutter, which, instead of keeping the water in its course, allowed it to run on to the pathway. Although complaint was made to the defendant council, the defect, as plaintiff asserted, was not remedied, and he, therefore, brought the present proceedings. Damages were laid at £500. Defendant pleaded not guilty by statute, and not guilty of negligence.

After some evidence on behalf of plaintiff had been given the case was adjourned till to-day, a settlement being probable.

IN EQUITY.

(Before the Chief Judge, Mr. Justice Simpson.)

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT OF TRADE MARKS.

Stanley Works, Ltd., v Murrays, Ltd.

This was an application respecting a suit in which the plaintiffs, the Stanley Works, Ltd., of New Britain, Connecticut, U.S.A., asked for an injunction to restrain Murrays, Ltd., of Parramatta, general merchants and importers, from infringing certain trade marks belonging to plaintiffs, and registered in New South Wales.

Mr. Davidson (instructed by Messrs. Rawlinson and Hamilton) appeared for plaintiffs; and Mr. H. G. F. Walker, for defendants.

By consent, the motion for injunction was turned into a motion for decree, restraining the defendants, their servants, and agents, from infringing plaintiffs' trade marks, or from using the figures or numbers 800, 814, and 828, or any part of the packages enclosing articles of builders' hardware, manufactured by plaintiffs, or from otherwise passing off, or attempting to pass off, any such goods, not manufactured by plaintiffs, as and for the plaintiffs' goods.

His Honor made the decree as asked.

(Before Mr. Justice Harvey.)

SUIT FOR SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

SMITH v MOON.

This was a suit for the specific performance of an agreement, and for an injunction, restraining the defendant from signing judgment in a certain action, or in the event of defendant having already signed judgment, to restrain him from issuing execution on the judgment.

Mr. Jordan (instructed by Messrs. MacKenzie and MacKenzie, agents for Mr. R. A. C. Adams, of Camden), appeared for the plaintiff, Alice Eliza Smith; and Mr. J. A. Brown (instructed by Mr. R. T. J. Dawes), for the defendant, Edmund Vincent Moon.

Plaintiff set out in her statement of claim that, on August 13, 1912, she agreed to purchase from the defendant eight acres of land, at Bankstown, for £150, £75 of which was to be paid on the signing of the agreement, and the balance on the completion of a cottage, which defendant was to erect for her at a cost of £112. The £112 was to be paid by quarterly instalments of £4 11s, with 6 per cent. interest. She paid the £75 deposit, and on October 12, 1912, she paid defendant £39 11s, as instalments under the agreement, and a further instalment of £7 10s on November 26, 1912. She has also expended about £20 for additions to the cottage. About March, 1913, she applied to defendant for the loan of £30, which he agreed to lend her, on her agreeing to repay him £35 in three months. She accepted the terms, and defendant told her to call at the residence of a Mr. Dobbie, at Cabramatta, to receive the money. Shortly afterwards, she visited Mr. Dobbie, who requested her to sign a paper for the money, which she did. Dobbie did not read the paper to her, or explain its contents, nor did she read the contents herself. She signed the paper, in the belief that it was an agreement to repay the £35 in three months. She had recently learned that the paper purported to contain an agreement, by which she agreed to purchase the land and cottage for £292, and to repay the £35 on or before June 1, 1913.

The paper also purported to contain an agreement, by which she was to pay for the insurance on the cottage, and a sum of 15s a week as tenant of the cottage, and a proviso for re-entry by defendant, on default of payment of the instalments or interest for 14 days. When she signed the paper she was ignorant that it contained any such agreement, or that it referred to the cottage or land in any way. On August 12, 1913, defendant demanded payment of the £35, and threatened to take proceedings to eject her unless the money was paid. On September, 1913, she was served with a writ, whereby defendant claimed to be entitled to possession of the land since June 16, 1913. She entered an appearance to the writ on September 25, 1913, and the action came on for trial on October 9. She had no defence at common law, and a verdict was entered for defendant, who was the plaintiff in the action. She feared that, unless restrained by injunction of the court, defendant would sign judgment, and recover execution for the recovery of possession of the land, and that she would be turned out. She, therefore, prayed, as already stated.

The defendant stated that about March, 1913, plaintiff applied to him for the loan of £30 at three months, and he informed her that he would only grant the request on her giving him security over her interest in the land and cottage. He suggested to her that the best means of doing so would be to have a fresh agreement, including a mortgage to ensure the repayment of £30, with £5 interest, to the agreement then existing between them, and she consented to that being done. He told her he would get Mr. Dobbie to write out a fresh agreement, and that, upon her signing the same, he would advance her the £30. He denied that he agreed to lend her the £30, if she would agree to repay him £35 in three months' time; or that he told her to call on Mr. Dobbie to receive the £30. He believed the agreement prepared by Mr. Dobbie intended to carry out the arrangement mentioned in paragraph 3, and that the same was read over to plaintiff, she stating at the time that it was all right. He did not know, and could not admit, that Dobbie requested plaintiff to sign a paper for the money, or that she had signed any such paper, nor did he know that Dobbie did not read over or explain the agreement, which she signed at his request. He denied that plaintiff had never discussed with him, and he did not know or admit that she had never discussed with Dobbie, the question of entering into such agreement relating to the land or cottage. He believed that the agreement contained in the memoranda mentioned in paragraph 2 of the statement of claim had been cancelled and the agreement mentioned substituted for it. He submitted that the suit should be dismissed, with costs.

The suit stands part heard.

IN DIVORCE.

(Before Mr. Justice Gordon.)

ROSEN v ROSEN.

Ephraim Alfred Rosen applied for a divorce from his wife, Rosetta Rosen, formerly Rose Myers, on the ground of misconduct with Joseph Lee, who was joined as co-respondent. The petitioner and respondent were married on November 19, 1895, at the Chapel House, Castlereagh-street, Sydney, according to the rites of the Particular Baptist Church. It was also alleged that the respondent, during three years and upwards, had been an habitual drunkard, and had habitually neglected her domestic duties. Mr. R. W. Fraser appeared for the petitioner; and Mr. H. A. Moss for the respondent and co-respondent.

Respondent denied the allegations of misconduct and drunkenness. The co-respondent also denied misconduct with the respondent. Evidence was given in support of the respondent, showing that the house was always well kept, and that she had never been seen under the influence of drink.

Judgment was reserved.

MORTIMER v MORTIMER.

Teresa Annie Mortimer, formerly Tierney, asked for a dissolution of her marriage with Alfred William Mortimer, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married on January 5, 1903, at Rosedle, according to the rites of the Roman Catholic Church. A decree nisi was granted, returnable in six months. Mr. E. H. Gardner appeared for the petitioner.

McKECHNIE v McKECHNIE.

Herbert McKechnie asked for a dissolution of his marriage with Winifred Jane McKechnie, formerly McCormick, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married at Yalgogrin, near Gilgandra, according to the rites of the Presbyterian Church, on December 2, 1903. A decree nisi was granted, returnable in six months. Mr. Boyce (instructed by Mr. A. C. Hobbs, agent for Mr. R. H. Nelson, solicitor, Dubbo), appeared for the petitioner.

PROBATE COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Street.)

MOTION BY THE CURATOR.

Re Will of L. A. Humphreys.

Mr. R. H. L. Innes, instructed by Messrs. Salwey and Primrose, appeared for T. W. Garrett, Curator of Intestate Estates, who petitioned for an order that James Humphreys might be ordered to hand over to him the sum of £164 1s 1d, with interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum from the date of demand of payment. Mr. Bonney, instructed by Messrs. Mackenzie and Mackenzie (agents for Mr. E. P. Richards, of Lithgow) appeared for respondent, James Humphreys, in his petition the Curator set out that Louisa Ann Humphreys, late of Tingha, married woman, died intestate on, or about January 11, 1912, and petitioner was authorised to collect, manage, and administer the estate. Portion of the estate consisted of £164 1s 1d withdrawn by deceased from her account with the Savings Bank of New South Wales, Tingha. After the death of the intestate the £164 1s 1d was found to be in the possession of James Humphreys, a son of the intestate, who, however, declined to hand the money over to the petitioner, alleging that the sum was given to him as a donatio mortis causa. Petitioner therefore asked for the order now moved for. Evidence was given by the husband of deceased and by Arthur Humphreys, another son, that the money was given to respondent on behalf of the family generally, and that respondent had on several occasions admitted the fact. The respondent, however, denied this, and stated that his mother, who was ill at the time, after getting the money from the bank, gave him £55 for his wife absolutely, and handed him the balance, saying that if she died he was to keep it for himself, but that if she recovered it was to be returned to her. She also asked him to keep the matter secret from the family.

His Honor said the parties so directly conflicted with one another that he would like to read the evidence over again in the light of the comments of counsel. He would, therefore, defer his decision till the following day.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

(Before the Registrar, Mr. F. H. Salusbury.)

CERTIFICATE APPLICATIONS.

Re Xavier William Quill. Adjourned to December 3.

Re George Jacobs. Adjourned to December 3.

Re John Henning. Adjourned to December 10.

Re John Thomas. Mr. Foord appeared for the bankrupt. In this matter the affidavits of publication and in reply to the report of the official assignee were sworn and filed on the morning of the date of hearing. The Registrar held that the affidavits had, under the rules of the Court, been filed too late. The application was, therefore, adjourned to December 3.

MEETINGS AND EXAMINATIONS.

Re John Stewart. Bankrupt was examined by the official assignee, and the meeting was closed, and public examination declared concluded.

Re Patrick James Lawnham. Bankrupt was examined by the official assignee, and the matter was adjourned to December 10.

INDUSTRIAL MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

(Before Mr. C. C. Addison, Chief Industrial Magistrate.)

BREACHES OF AWARDS.

Silvester W. Trompp, Victoria-avenue, Pennhurst, was charged with failing to exhibit a copy of the Baking (Metropolitan Hand Bakers') Board Award, and with failing to keep correctly-written time and pay sheets. He pleaded guilty, and was fined 15s in each case, with 11s costs in the first, and 6s costs in the second case.

Samuel Colvin, of Forest-road, Hurstville, was charged with a breach of the Wood Supply and Distribution No. 1 Group, No. 1 Board Award, in suffering W. Pearse, a bread-carter, to work before 5.30 a.m. A plea of not guilty was entered. An order was made against defendant for £2, with £1 2s costs.

W. Pearse, St. George-parade, Hurstville, was then charged with a breach of the award, under which he was working, in working before 5.30 a.m. He was fined 10s, with 16s costs.

Samuel Colvin was further charged with failing to keep correctly-written time and pay sheets, and with failing to exhibit a copy of the award. A plea of guilty was entered, and defendant was fined £2, with 6s costs, or four teen days' hard labour on the first charge, and £4, with 6s costs, or one month's hard labour, on the second.

Robert Harold Pointing, of West-street, North Sydney, was charged with a breach of the award of the Butchering (Metropolitan Retail) Board, in failing to pay Sydney Cook, a carter, the minimum weekly wage of £2 5s. Defendant pleaded guilty, and was fined 10s, with 16s costs. For failing to exhibit a copy of the award, and not keeping correctly-written time and pay sheets, he was fined 5s, with 6s costs, on each charge.

J. Wilson, Liverpool-road, Ashfield, was charged with failing to keep correctly-written time and pay sheets. It was stated by defendant that he left the matter to a clerk, who neglected to keep the records. A penalty of £3, with 6s costs, or one month's hard labour, was imposed. Defendant was also charged with a breach of the Shop Assistants' Metropolitan Drapers' Board Award, in failing to pay W. Ryan, a senior male shop assistant, over time due, 2s 10d. Defendant pleaded guilty, and said he had no idea there was any breach. Both he and the employee thought they were working within the proper hours.

An order was made against defendant for £2, with 16s costs.

John Sands, Ltd., Druitt-street, Sydney, were charged with a breach of the Printing Trades Group, No. 6 Board Award, in permitting an employee, Sylvia Blair, to do dusting-off work for more than two hours on one day.

Defendants pleaded guilty. It was stated that the girl had done the dusting-off for three hours. It was in respect of embossing, and was light.

An order was made against defendant for £1, with 17s costs.

AN IMPORTANT POINT.

Matthew Campbell, of 100 Phillip-street, trading as D. Campbell and sons, was charged with a breach of the Plumbers' Board Award, in failing to pay an apprentice, Douglas Ayres, in his fourth year of apprenticeship, the minimum weekly wage of 22s 6d. Inspector Clark appeared for complainant (Minister for Labour and Industry); and Mr. V. Read for defendant.

The magistrate was asked to decide whether the award deals with apprentices that had entered into indentures, prior to the date of the award; whether the court, or an industrial board, had jurisdiction to alter or vary the terms of such indentures; whether, if the award purported to do so, it had operation as regards apprentices, whose indentures had been entered into prior to the award; and whether the court had jurisdiction to determine the complaint.

After considerable argument, Mr. Addison held that an industrial board has jurisdiction to fix the wages of apprentices, irrespective of the wages fixed by indentures of apprenticeship entered into, either before or after the date of the award; further, that the award wages must be paid, even if higher than those prescribed by the indentures.

He reserved his decision as to whether the Plumbers' Board intended the apprentices' provisions in their award to apply to apprentices who had entered the industry prior to the award.

DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Judge Backhouse.)

MOTOR CAR AND TAXI COLLISION.

Smith v Beaumont.

The hearing was concluded of the action in which Joseph Smith, taxi-cab proprietor, of 22 Young-street, Redfern, claimed £100 from William Norman Beaumont, merchant, of 17 Grosvenor-street, Sydney, for damage occasioned to his taxi-cab in a collision with defendant's motor car in Cleveland-street, Moore Park, on July 5, which collision, defendant alleged, was caused by the negligent and improper driving of defendant. The defence was that of not guilty, and that the collision was caused by the negligence of plaintiff.

Mr. Arthur Emery appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. Pickburn, instructed by Mr. H. T. Bell (Messrs. Read and Read), for defendant.

His Honor reserved his decision.

SALE OF A BUTCHERY BUSINESS.

Geddes v Quilliam.

This was an action in which Raymond Geddes, butcher, of Roselle, sought to recover from C. E. Quilliam, butcher, of Henderson-road, Waterloo, £131, alleged to be the balance due by defendant in respect of the purchase of plaintiff's business at Waterloo.

The defendant claimed £400 by way of a cross action. He stated that he was induced to purchase the business on certain representations of plaintiff. He alleged that plaintiff told him the net weekly profits were £20, and that he had full right and title to sell certain plant, which statements were untrue; and further, that plaintiff did not assign and transfer to him the balance of a lease, which, he said, had about nine years to run, and that the weekly rental for the balance of the lease was not as represented by plaintiff.

Mr. Hammond (instructed by Mr. E. H. Tebbutt) appeared for plaintiff; and Mr. Flannery (instructed by Mr. E. R. Abigail) for defendant.

His Honor found a verdict for plaintiff for the amount claimed in his action, and a verdict for defendant, for £30 in his cross action.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Ferguson and a jury.)

Mr. Herbert Harris, Crown Prosecutor.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

David Maule, a young man, was charged with having committed a serious offence at Sydney on October 31.

Mr. C. G. Addison, instructed by Mr. J. J. Carroll, appeared for the accused, who pleaded not guilty.

The Crown alleged that the accused was one of six men who assaulted a woman in Prince Alfred Park. She was in Sydney from the country on a visit, and drank two glasses of brandy, which made her feel tired, and while resting herself in the park about 9 p.m. she went to sleep. She had tried to engage a room in the city, but failed, and at the time was on her way to Newtown. When she was assaulted about 1 a.m., her cries for help were heard by a policeman, who hurried to the scene and arrested the accused. When taken to the police station a bottle of scent which was given to the woman by her husband before leaving home was found on him.

Maule, in his defence, denied having participated in the assault. He said that he had been in town alone all the evening, and while on his way home to George-street, Redfern, he heard a woman scream, and when he went to see what was wrong he saw six or seven men running away. He saw a woman sitting on the ground, and she struck at him with one of her shoes. Shortly afterwards she gave him a bottle of scent. He was asking her what was the matter when the policeman arrested him.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and added a rider that it considered that there was not sufficient police protection in the park.

In sentencing the prisoner to death his Honor said, "You have been found guilty of one of the most serious crimes known to the law." His Honor added that whether the death sentence would be carried out was a matter for the Governor to decide.

SHOOTING CASE POSTPONED.

Owen Hegarty pleaded not guilty to a charge of having maliciously shot at Glenlivet Ackerman, at Sydney, on November 13, with intent to do grievous bodily harm, but the hearing was postponed till the next sitting of the Central Criminal Court.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

(Before Judge Murray and a jury.)

Mr. C. A. White, Crown Prosecuter.

NOT GUILTY.

Horace Frank Cooper pleaded not guilty to a charge of having assaulted a female at Sydney on October 14.

Mr. J. W. Abigail appeared for the defence. The accused was found not guilty, and acquitted.

TEN YEARS' PENAL SERVITUDE.

Charles Snow, who had been convicted of maliciously wounding William Kipdness, a visitor from Mackay, on October 13, and robbing him of 12s, was sentenced to 10 years' penal servitude. His Honor said that it was one of the worst cases that he had come across for a long time. A long list of previous convictions was read out against Snow.

TWO MEN SENTENCED.

Harold John May and Thomas M'Nulty, who had been convicted of a serious offence, were called up for sentence, the former being sent to gaol for 12 months, with hard labour, and M'Nulty to two years.

RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY.

George Clift, a young man, who had pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property, was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment, with hard labour, concurrent with a similar sentence he is now serving.

POSTPONED.

The hearing of two charges of assault preferred against Nicholas Coronoeo, was adjourned to the next court.

Maurice Brown was charged with having attempted to choke William Edward Brown, at Sydney, on October 14, with intent to rob, but the hearing of the case was postponed to the next court; as was also the hearing of a charge of perjury against Walter Woods.

LAND APPEAL COURT.

(Before Mr. H. A. G. Curry (President), and Messrs. W. Houston and C. E. Rennie, Commissioners.)

RESERVED JUDGMENTS DELIVERED.

The trustees of the Murrumburrah Park and Murrumburrah Race Club appealed against the recommendation of the Local Land Board for resumption of the park and racecourse. The Court said that it appeared to it that the present position of the racecourse was inimical to the expansion of Harden; that such lands as were vacant were not sufficiently favourably situated; and that a sufficient demand existed to justify part of the racecourse being resumed. It recommended the resumption, not of the whole area, but of the part lying west of the line AB, on exhibit B. To this extent the Court sustained the appeal.

This was an appeal by Edward Mahon against the appraised price of the land comprised in his additional conditional purchase at Deniliquin, being conversion of his special lease. The Court sustained the appeal, and determined the appraised price of the land comprised in the subject additional conditional purchase at £1 16s 8d.

This was a reference by the Minister for Lands for decision in respect of a claim by the trustees of the late Robert George Higgins, for compensation for a certain improvement (sucker ing), on improvement lease, at Walgett, withdrawn for settlement. The Court dismissed the reference, but remitted to the board for further evidence the question whether the compensation awarded was excessive, and determined on insufficient grounds.

HOW THIN PEOPLE MAY PUT ON FLESH.

GREAT DISCOVERY BY EMINENT SPECIALIST.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing the arms, neck, and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness, and it therefore gives us real pleasure to publish herewith a simple prescription which by correcting faulty metabolism and stimulating the activity of certain sluggish vital organs quickly produces a marvellous transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently averaging from 4lb to 5lb the first week, and very rarely less than 2lb. This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Catarrh, dyspepsia, and nervousness, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, all gradually disappear; dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with a bloom of perfect health.

The prescription, which is absolutely harmless, calls for 4oz Tincture Cardiamoms Compound B.P., 3oz Salrado Compound, 3oz Elixir Simplex, and enough water to fill an 8oz bottle, and can readily be prepared by any chemist. One to two tablespoonfuls should be taken about 20 minutes before each meal. Eat all you want, but chew your food thoroughly.

CAUTION.—Although the above prescription is unequalled for relieving nervousness, indigestion, and catarrhal troubles, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

YOUR PIANO

—the most conspicuous article in your drawing room.

Your Piano is easily the most conspicuous article in your drawing room. Almost every individual who crosses your threshold sees your piano—and many play it.

If YOUR Piano is of poor tone quality and ancient casework, it naturally makes you "feel small" before your guests, and often and often you feel like making all sorts of apologies for the condition of the instrument.

THE EXQUISITE

SAMES PIANO.

(BRITISH BUILT)

To possess one of PALING'S SAMES PIANOS is to be calmly confident that your instrument speaks volumes for your wise judgment and refined musical taste—that it places you in line with the most discriminating buyers.

THE SAMES PIANO is a British-made instrument of Sterling Quality and Great Durability. We selected this beautiful piano after most exhaustive tests and recommend it to those who desire rich tone quality, responsiveness of touch, and durability.

A SERVICEABLE PIANO SOLD WITH OUR GUARANTEE.

So well are we satisfied with the SAMES PIANOS—and our experience covers 60 years—that we recommend them with the utmost confidence, and sell each instrument covered by our own full guarantee, and our guarantee is is worth having.

Bedrock Prices.——Easy Terms.

You are specially invited to visit our Show Rooms and inspect our SAMES PIANOS. We sell these handsome instruments at bedrock prices and on easy time payments spread over one, two, or three years.

We will take your old piano in part payment of a brand new SAMES PIANO, of artistic quality and modern design, allowing you it's utmost honest value. Write us a letter and one of our authorised representatives will call on you and value your old instrument free of charge.

Our Catalogues are free—call or write for them.

TUBERCULIN TEST.

It is pleasing to note that the official organ of the co-operative movement in the dairying industry has adopted the sensible view that the tuberculin test must be applied to our dairy herds. Commenting upon Mr. Bavin's drastic report concerning the prevalence of tuberculosis in dairy stock in our coastal districts, it recognises that the problem has to be faced, and writes:—"The compulsory application of the tuberculin test may be, at the present stage of things in this State, too drastic, but it must come ultimately, unless dairymen themselves forestall it by systematically applying the test to every animal in their herds. A good number do that now, and finds it pays them; and the day may not be far distant, when, apart from any official interference, but by pressure of public opinion, the dairyman who cannot produce evidence that his herd is healthy will find himself out of business." On the whole, this is a welcome attitude, seeing that most progressive reforms are so consistently opposed in the same quarter. As the great importance of the co-operative forces in this State must be admitted, the above remarks should do some good. At the same time, we hardly see the logic of contending that compulsory application of the test may be too drastic at the present time, yet that it must come ultimately. The whole point is the efficacy and value of the test. Our contemporary admits that, and in that case can its general application come too soon? Will it be less drastic if we delay—will the loss, if there is to be a loss, be less? According to Mr. Bavin's report, the position is such now that the community takes a great risk in permitting its continuance.

We are told by our contemporary that "dairymen also are suspicious of anything that has the 'compulsory' brand upon it." This is true to a great extent, and the reason is found in the constant misrepresentation and opposition that comes from the above quarter, when any reform in the industry is mooted. The reactionary force has created a bogey which it now finds stands in the way of a most necessary reform, that "must come ultimately." Can it be contended that the position can be remedied without some compulsory measure, when we remember how other matters are treated in the industry? As we have often pointed out, there would be no necessity for compulsion or Government interference in this or any industry, if those concerned would only do what is necessary for the good of the industry, even in matters upon which there is general agreement. But while suppliers are dirty and careless; while buttermakers accept inferior cream as first class, while shippers export stale and bad butter—what hope is there without compulsion? Similarly with the tuberculosis problem—what hope is there of effective reform while dairy farmers resolutely ignore the truth, while they take a risk and plant the suspicious cows in a back paddock during the inspector's visit? It may be true that in time "the dairyman who cannot produce evidence that his herd is healthy will find himself out of business"; but that development will be very slow indeed unless there is some strong compulsory force that causes it. And in the meantime what of the grave question of the health and safety of the community? This is not a matter that concerns the dairy farmer alone.

THRIP AND ITS CONTROL.

(BY E. K. WOLSTENHOLME.)

II.

Injurious insects are controlled in two ways: either by their natural enemies or by artificial means. No natural parasitic control of thrips has yet been found. This means we must use the best artificial means, and all work must be based on an exact knowledge of the insect.

We know that the thrips are in the ground from the end of November to the beginning of October, some shallow and some deep. Therefore, a very large proportion of these thrips can be disturbed between these dates by digging round the trees and ploughing between them, more particularly ploughing near them, as it has been found that the further you go away from the stem of the tree the fewer the thrips. It has been calculated by careful experiment that 70 per cent. are killed in ground ploughed and cross-ploughed and twice dug round the trees, and harrowed to break the clods. The important point, and one upon which too much stress cannot be laid, is that this does not mean to plough at any time when the thrips are in the ground, but only during the period that they are most susceptible to injury. This is from June 1 to September 1, and on no account later than September 10. If ploughing is done after this date, it is too near the time when the thrips are naturally coming out, and it is likely to open up the ground, so that they can get out much earlier, or at least assist them. This work helps to destroy the pest, but is by no means complete control.

It is now that one of the orchardists' best friends, the spray pump, assists us. We know that thrips do not take internally any of the surface tissues of the tree which might be poisoned. Therefore arsenical poisons are useless. It follows that the insect must be attacked with a contact spray, one which is an external irritant, or a poison such as nicotine, which causes death from simple application. The method of spraying thrips is important. It differs, and in part is the opposite to that employed on most well-known insect pests and fungus diseases. In general spraying practice, the ideal is to cover the trees completely with the use of as little material as possible, and not to allow it to run to any extent down the trunk.

Thrips race for shelter at the first danger signal, and crawl under the woody scales and small new leaves of the newly-opening buds; really into every minute harbour. To reach into these places with the spray the tree must be drenched with at least double the amount of liquid that would be used for, say, ordinary aphis, and at a higher pressure, 180 to 200 lbs. at least, with angle nozzles giving a direct coarse spray. Many thrips will then be destroyed by the actual blow of the spray. The nozzles must be held close to the bud clusters to force the spray directly into the ends of the buds, to secure complete penetration. It is like trying to force spray through a shingle roof, and to do this thoroughly gallons of mixture seem to be wasted, but it is the only way.

A point to be emphasised in spraying is to be on time. You cannot afford to be a few days late, as you can with codlin moth, and still obtain good results. If rain comes and prevents spraying, the enforced wait does not matter, as thrips cannot stand continuous rain. We know thrips commence to come up with the bursting of the buds, and work rapidly. Therefore the first spraying must be done just at this time. The second application from four to ten days after the first. The time for this spraying will depend on the rate of emergence of the insect and the class of fruit, also in accordance with the stage of bud development. On apples this would be when the earliest bud-clusters are spreading. The third and very important spraying for the larvae, which work on the under side of the leaves, and are active from the beginning to the middle of November, could be applied with the second arsenate of lead (codlin moth) spray.

It has been found that the date of the larval stage varies considerably. They are small, whitish, and active, can be easily seen working in clusters. Spraying can be carried out accordingly. The tree at this time has a heavy leaf surface, and the force should be directed at the underside of the leaves as much as possible.

Almost every conceivable mixture has been tested, and the great handicap in all these experiments was to find a mixture that would kill by contact, and not injure the tree at this its tenderest stage of development. The first spraying is not so difficult, for the tree is only passing from the dormant into the active stage. Nicotine is only partly effective, although it will kill all thrips that it reaches, but it fails to reach a large proportion of them, as it will not penetrate into the buds. In fact, it only makes a dew-drop on the tip, with the thrips snug inside, cheerful, dry, and defiant. By the combination of a nicotine solution and a weak distillate oil emulsion, the oil not strong enough in itself to kill the thrips (which would ruin the buds), but heavy enough to act as a carrier for the nicotine, has given excellent results, for the solution penetrates into every crevice.

To prepare the emulsion, dissolve eight pounds of soap by boiling in three gallons of water; add five gallons of distillate oil, 32deg. to 36deg. Baume, and agitate violently to make a thorough emulsion. Use one gallon of this stock emulsion to twenty gallons of tobacco water, made from soaking eight pounds of stems to twenty gallons of water. Or prepared tobacco extract can be used with the emulsion. One class, a dark, sticky liquid, known as "black leaf," to be used, one to seventy-five of water. It contains 2.75 per cent. nicotine, or the other more expensive extract, which contains 40 per cent. nicotine, can be diluted one to fifteen hundred, or a shade over a pint, to a two hundred gallon vat. The nicotine in the latter is much less volatile, and it in consequence lasts much longer as a killing agent. There are other obvious advantages of such a concentrated poison.

Another spraying suggestion which in some instances proved very effective was a lime application, using fifty pounds to one hundred gallons, this to be done just before the buds open. The theory is that the bladder-like structure of the thrips' feet cannot keep in action on the lime. This has been disproved by the best authorities. Nevertheless, many orchardists in California claim to have saved their crops by this treatment.

It was thought by many that soil fumigants would be of value, and after experiments which extended over a number of years, it was found that it would take many tons per acre of such remedies to kill even a small percentage of the thrips.

There is some evidence of great value to be noticed from the attack in New South Wales. The first clear point is that early blossoming varieties of apples escaped to a great extent, while those which blossomed later failed. This applies to most of the State. It is, then, obvious that a few days make a great difference, and that the thrips did not arrive in dangerous numbers, say, in Bathurst, until after the 12th of October, for all varieties, with odd exceptions, which blossomed on or before this date, set from excellent to fair crops at Montavella. Those varieties which blossomed from October 18 onwards failed badly. I quote a novel recommendation, which is strongly supported, and is apropos, viz., the spraying of late blossoming varieties (instance Five Crown and Rome Beauty), with heavy oil emulsion in the autumn to hasten the blossoming from five to seven days in the spring. As I have a particular aversion to the use of oil in the orchard, and never use it except in experimental work, I cannot claim any knowledge of this treatment, but if such a result can be achieved without weakening the blossom, it is well worth while. The most interesting and valuable information gained at Montavella, and I am sure it will be supported in many other orchards, is that where the thrips have not been in overwhelming numbers on the blossom (such as late blossomers) those trees which have been in a position to receive perfect cross pollination have set a full crop. But the crop decreases on trees of the same variety in direct ratio to the distance they are away from the supply of foreign pollen. The explanation is simple, and to make clear, it is necessary to describe how the thrips attack the blossom. They commence upon the rounded, unopened corolla as it pushes aside the sepals (the parts which afterwards form the calyx of the apple). If the attack is severe, the exposed part browns over, and the bud fails to open. When the attack is less severe, and days before the petals expand, and while still in the button stage, the thrips enter between the petals, and commence upon the tender internal structure of the blossom, which is composed of stamens surmounted by the anthers, which produce the pollen, and the pistil, the innermost part and receptive organ, which terminates in the stigmas. This stigmatic surface when mature eventually gathers the pollen, and so completes fecundation. The thrips have a decided preference for the stamens and anthers (the pollen producers), and this part is the first to collapse once the thrips get inside the blossom, for they either eat the pollen, and from their mouth structure this seems impossible, or more likely they ruin the basal portion of the stamen, and the anther does not dehisce naturally, or in other words, the pollen supply is reduced. Many pistils even after such damage remain receptive.

It can now be reasoned how, with a restricted supply of pollen, the bees and other insects could not give adequate cross pollination in areas which, in years free from thrips' attack, the setting has been excellent. This is not a theory, but a fact, proved by close microscopic examination at Montevella, and is another argument (if any is wanted) to prove that extraordinary provision for cross pollination of the apple is the most vital point in the planting of an orchard.

To sum up, thrips work rapidly, and may destroy all prospects of a crop in less than a week. Oil emulsion combined with tobacco sprays will help to control thrips, if done on time. And to be on time, all material must be on hand and spraying machinery to give a high pressure ready. Spraying must go on, wind or no wind, and the trees drenched. The orchard must be ploughed and cross ploughed, and the trees dug round twice (not chipped), when the thrips are in the pupa stage, and on no account must this work be done so late as to assist the insect. The value of this treatment is accumulative from year to year.

WHEAT-GROWING.

EXPERIMENT AT TRANGIE.

TRANGIE.—Messrs. Mumford Bros. have completed the harvesting of their experimental wheat plots, the result being in every way satisfactory, and of value to wheatgrowers. The wheat was planted at the rate of 40lb to the acre, a similar weight of superphosphate being drilled in. The seed was sown on April 15, and the growth eaten off in June when from 12 to 18 inches in height. The varieties experimented on were Cedar, Warren, Florence, Zealand, Federation, Jonathan, and Rymer, none of which were pickled prior to planting, the desire being to discover which were the best smut and rust resisters. In this regard the test was not of much value, as, on account of the dry spring, none of them showed the least sign of disease. The total rainfall during the growing period was 881 points, only 151 points of which fell between July 1 and harvest time, and half of this fell in the first month of the period mentioned. The months of August, September, and October were particularly hot, dry, and windy, and that the crops did so well under the unfavourable conditions is ample testimony to the value of cultivation prior to cropping for retention of moisture. Federation was not manured this year, the idea of the experimenters being to discover how this variety, without the assistance of a fertilising agent, compared in yield with others which had been accorded this advantage. The results show that whilst the yield was very satisfactory, 24 bushels per acre, it was eclipsed by two others, viz., Warren 25 bushels, and Rymer 27 bushels per acre. The experiments shows clearly, despite the yields, that in an uncertain climate such as Trangie, Florence, Warren, and Cedar have proved the most suitable varieties, for whereas these were assured a good grain yield (no matter the weather) on September 23, the others were then at a crucial period of their growth; i.e., in the flowering stage, and the yield would have been light had it not been for a scudding shower in October, which yielded 48 points. By September 30 Florence was almost ripe, and the result here with this wheat corresponds with that obtained at the Government farms at Coonamble and Nyngan. Rymer did well, and seemed to withstand the heat and droughty conditions excellently. The only variety giving a yield of less than 20 bushels per acre was Jonathan, and from our inspection of this variety during its growing period one would express the opinion that it is not suitable for the district, being extremely susceptible to both heat, frost, and wind. The crop was harvested on October 27, and 29, November 13 and 14, as the various varieties ripened. In every case the grain was clean, plump, and of good colour. Following are the yields:—Cedar, 22½ bushels per acre, weight 63lb; Warren, 25 bushels, weight 64lb; Florence, 20 bushels weight 62lb; Zealand, 23½ bushels, weight 63½lb; Federation, 24 bushels, weight 63½lb; Jonathan, 19 bushels, weight 63½lb; Rymer, 27 bushels, weight 63½lb. The total yield from the 14 acres under experiment was 322 bushels 49lb, averaging 23 bushels per acre.

CLOSER SETTLEMENT.

A tabulated statement showing the operation of the Closer Settlement Promotion Act since the passing of the measure towards the end of 1910, has been prepared by the Minister for Lands. It shows that during the years 1911, 1912, and 1913, 933 farms, with an approximate area of 360,672 acres, and valued at £1,961,096, were dealt with. Out of this number 127 farms, with an area of 37,876 acres, and valued at £231,006, were approved for payment, and action is proceeding regarding them. One hundred and twenty-one farms with an area of 47,952 acres, and valued at £266,878, were recommended for payment when funds are available. The department is treating with regard to another 116 farms, containing 49,097 acres, and valued at £262,089. The operations during 1913 absorbed £991,645, and practically consumed £1,000,000 allotted for the year.

RESUMPTION NEAR CARCOAR.

The Minister for Lands announces that he has just received an interim report from the Closer Settlement Advisory Board No. 1, intimating that they have succeeded in arriving at an agreement with the lessee as to price in regard to the resumption of Hopkins's well-known improvement lease, situated from three to ten miles from Carcoar.

All attempts made in the past to arrange for the resumption of this lease by agreement with the lessee proved unsuccessful. Mr. Trefle recently instructed the board to go into the matter again, and negotiations have so far been successful that a satisfactory price has been arrived at. Some of the land is, however, within a mining reserve, and the final report by the board is awaiting reply to a reference to the Mines Department as to curtailment of the said reservation.

The lease comprises about 13,000 acres, which is well watered by the Belubula River and creeks. The land is suitable for mixed farming, and probably about 12 or 13 farms will be provided. In the event of the Mines Department not raising any serious difficulties, subdivision will be put in hand immediately after receipt of the advisory board's final report, so that the farms may be made available early next year.

MONSTER APPLES.

ENGLAND CLAIMS RECORD.

BUT BEATEN BY AUSTRALIAN PRODUCT.

Under the heading "Largest Apple in the World," the "Westminster Gazette" writes:—"The largest and heaviest apple ever grown in the world has been raised this season in England—at King's Acre, Hereford. It is a Gloria Mundi. It weighs no less than 32¼ ounces, and the announcement of its advent has created quite a sensation in the fruit world. This wonderful apple was grown in an eleven-inch flower pot, the tree producing six mammoth fruits at the same time. It was this very tree which bore the giant apple of 1910. Coupling the advent of these monster apples with the fact that this season in one plantation in the south of England, there were hundreds of trees carrying over 10 bushels of immense apples per tree, equal to over 800 bushels to the acre, it looks as if commercial fruit culture was proving a veritable gold mine. To show the importance attached to this latest colossal fruit, six casts have been taken of it, so that a permanent record may be kept of its phenomenal proportions. Britain has now the credit of producing the biggest, heaviest, and highest-priced apples grown."

The above claim will not stand. Two years ago an apple was shown in Sydney, which was grown by Mr. Frank Clarke, Woodside, Rylstone. It was a Lord Russell variety, and weighed 33¼oz, or an ounce more than the apple referred to above. At the time it was claimed to be the heaviest apple ever grown, and apparently it still holds the record.

RHINOCEROS BEETLE.

DESTRUCTIVE FUNGUS PROVING EFFECTIVE.

Writing further with regard to the fungus which the German scientist, Dr. Fredericks, had developed to destroy the rhinoceros beetle plague which afflicts the cocoanut grower, our Apia correspondent states that it is accomplishing more than was claimed for it. Not only the larvae is being destroyed in the breeding beds, but the adult insects who visit these beds contract the infection, and carry it with them to the trees, and so spread it about. The infected districts are recovering, and people are much more hopeful of results of their investments. Dr. Fredericks discovery was fully reported in the "Herald" of October 2.

MEAT EXPORT TRADE.

CONTINENTAL AND U.S.A. MARKETS.

CONFERENCE IN GERMANY.

LONDON, Oct. 24.

Continental markets are still taking comparatively small shipments of refrigerated meat, and buying is going on for the U.S.A. Shipments are gradually increasing for North America, of both chilled and frozen beef, though, of course, with what result, cannot be stated yet. The Argentine is now shipping direct to the U.S.A., and this week a boat left the River Plate with 2000 quarters of chilled beef for New York. Shipments of chilled beef for Great Britain have been lighter, and prices have taken a jump, though, on the whole, trade at Smithfield, throughout the past fortnight, has been, if anything, but a shade better. Prices for chilled beef advanced sharply until the highest point reached was 6d per lb. Since then, violent fluctuations have taken place, quotations falling as low as 4½d to recover, towards the end to 5¾d for hinds. These higher values have helped the sale of frozen beef, which has also been selling at advanced values. Frozen mutton and lamb, however, have only met with moderate inquiry. At the moment of writing, values are a shade easier, and are:—Beef, chilled, hinds, 5½d to 5¾d; fores, 3½d to 3¾d; frozen, hinds, 4½d to 4¾d; fores and crops, 3¼d to 3½d. Mutton, best New Zealand, 4½d to 4¾d; secondary, 4¼d; ewes, 3¾d to 3⅞d; Australian wethers, 3¾d to 3⅞d. ewes, 3½d; River Plates, 4¼d. Lambs, Canterburys, under 36lb, 5½d, 36 to 42 lb, 5¼d, over 42lb, 5d; other brands, ⅛d to ¼d under these quotations. A few new season's Australian lambs have arrived, but the quality has been only indifferent. Prices have ranged from 5d to 5½d, according to quality.

It is reported that great ranch developments are about to take place in Rhodesia, not only by the Chartered Company, but by large American firms. Several companies are said to be in course of formation, and one, with a capital of £1,000,000, is said to have been already registered. The idea is to import beef into the United Kingdom and the continent of Europe.

Last week the conference was resumed, in Germany, in regard to the regulations as to the importation of frozen meat into that country. Mr. Cherry, of the Commonwealth Offices, was present. As is well known, one of the German regulations provides that hearts, lungs, and kidneys must be in natural attachment to the carcase. To allow of examination at the port of landing, these have to be thawed out sufficiently to make them soft to the touch. Then the carcases have to be refrozen, if for despatch inland, and in addition, there are but few insulating cars available. This hampers the trade, and the importers want such relaxation of the regulations as will allow of the organs being taken from the carcase for examination, without thawing the whole carcase. The matter is left to see if the German Government will agree to any relaxation of the regulations, and, if so, carcases will be prepared and sent to Australia in order that shippers may see what is wanted. The agrarian interest may, however, be counted upon to oppose any relaxation.

THE MAYOR OF THE GLEBE IN REPLY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I was much amused at the leading article appearing in your paper to-day. I might be almost permitted to call it a "misleading article." Also at the attitude of the Lord Mayor on the subject, who stated "that all the matter taken in our (the City Council) punts is of such a nature that it must sink to the bottom at once." The enclosed photograph of the city punt at Buckle's wharf, Blackwattle Bay, will be sufficient answer to the Lord Mayor's assertion.

In regard to your leader, I claim that you have absolutely misquoted me, as I summarised the position that the debris was largely due to discharges of coal and coke ashes and vegetable matter from vessels entering and leaving the Heads while close to our coast.

The surfers who complain of dead animals coming in on the tide are perhaps not always responsible for their actions. It is a well-known fact that "rats" are fairly frequent among them, and that some surfers have been able to distinguish even snakes in the first line of breakers.

Your threat in the leader "that something is to be enforced soon" needs no comment, as it will be found that the Glebe and other suburban bodies will in the future, as they have in the past, so control the health and prosperity of their localities as to meet with the approbation of the ratepayers and residents—and this without the dictation of any newspaper.

I am, etc.,
F. L. ARTLETT,
Mayor of the Glebe.
Nov. 26.

[The defence of the Mayor of the Glebe, referred to in our leader yesterday, was: "Captain Burrell, our punt contractor, assures me that less than two per cent. of the Glebe refuse matter can possibly be carried back on the foreshores, and that all our garbage is taken well outside the three-mile limit. With reference to dead animals, so far as possible, all are consumed by fire at our depot at Glebe Point."

It is quite conceivable, as the Mayor of the Glebe asserts, that the ratepayers and residents of the Glebe are quite satisfied with this method of "controlling the health and prosperity of their district." They might even be satisfied by a still cheaper system of carting them over their border into neighbouring municipalities and leaving them there. Unfortunately, however well this might suit the health and prosperity of the Glebe, it would not suit the residents of other districts. Even if there were no already existing law preventing this, the Glebe Council would not have long to wait before it discovered where the limit of its liberties came in; and so will it—or any other body—that chooses to make the beaches of our ocean suburbs the potential receptacle of even something under two per cent. of its refuse, and the surplus of those dead animals which "as far as possible" had been consumed by fire at Glebe Point.]

ON THE MARKET.

FATHER O'REILLY AND THE PREMIER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—It would be both interesting and instructive to know who gave Father O'Reilly authority to give the admirable Catholic Federation a political significance that is repugnant to the great body of Catholics.

The writer ventures to hazard the assertion that Father O'Reilly's official superiors do not approve of his sensational bailing-up of Premier Holman.

A number of parish priests have refused to inaugurate branches of the Catholic Federation in their centres, not because they are not strongly in accord with the sane social aims of the Catholic Federation, but because they object to the said federation's being allowed to degenerate into the priestly part of any political machine.

Father O'Reilly will sorely find that he has thrown a boomerang badly, that his impertinent and illogical attack on the Premier will return to hit himself hard, and, possibly, that the boomerang blow may be the means of modernising and Australianising his antiquated and eminently one-sided ideas. Such ideas may have suited the bad old days, when sectarianism was a putrid power in this slowly awakening country, but they are utterly out of place in the Australia of to-day.

It would pay the brilliant but belligerent priest to remember how the intellectually independent Australian Catholics turned down the great, late, and truly lamented Cardinal Moran in his Federal Convention candidature. Though his late Eminence was a Prince of the Church, and a much beloved prelate, holding fast to many splendid big Australian ideas and ideals, his own faithful flock refused deliberately to recognise him as a political leader—and so he was defeated.

The Catholics of Cootamundra-Gundagai district are second to none in their love and loyal devotion to their grand old Church—as a spiritual guide, guardian, helper, protector, refuge, and solace—but, like the famous Irish liberator, O'Connell, they are not prepared to take their politics from Rome. They do not want to see the House of God turned into a place for political murder.

Thousands of stanch and practical Catholics, like the writer, will resent strongly and resolutely the attempted political assassination of their brilliant representative, the Premier; and they will show their deep disgust at the outrageous effort to establish sacerdotal or sectarian domination by working harder than ever to secure the return of Mr. Holman by a mighty and memorable majority.

If Father O'Reilly and his few fanatic followers really represented the great bulk of the Catholics of this State, his undeserved denunciation would carry great weight; but it is apparent to even semi-superficial observers that it is only the small but savage section of the extremists in the great Catholic community that degrades politics by openly putting itself "up for sale," as if there were no other political problems of infinitely greater importance to the welfare of the nation than State aid to denominational schools.

Mr. Holman has again signally demonstrated his splendid courage in a way that compels the admiration of even his fiercest political opponents for his shining sincerity and steadfast honesty. His reply is characterised by a manliness and fearlessness that must win him many votes from the fair-fighting, straight-going Australians. He has shown that he plainly and unequivocally refuses to sacrifice a great principle to secure peace with Father O'Reilly and the Catholic Federation; he prefers political death to political life conditioned by a dishonourable peace.

The pulpit of our beloved Church must not be turned into a political forum by any priest or prelate, however able, energetic, and enthusiastic.

It is capable and courageous Father O'Reilly who has made the mistake of his life—a boomerang blunder, a blunderbuss blunder.

Bailing-up does not suit the spirit and the sense of the Australian Catholics of these enlightened days. We'll none o' it.

I am, etc.,
J. M. DODD.
Chairman of Cootamundra Electorate Labour Council, and Mayor of Gundagai.

SECTARIANISM v POLITICS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—A good deal of correspondence has appeared concerning the Roman Catholic vote being "on the market." It has been there for long. The only difference is that previously it was "for private sale," now it is "for public auction" to the highest bidder. It appears to me altogether irrelevant to the issue raised to accuse Father O'Reilly and the Catholic Federation of some new political iniquity. The Roman Catholic Church has persistently been asking from the State financial assistance for its Church schools and its charitable institutions. If it thinks that way it is entitled to say so, and equally entitled to advise its members to vote only for those Parliamentary candidates who will promise to give that Church what it wants. I make no complaint, therefore, against the procedure of the Catholic Federation.

It is what the Roman Catholic Church wants that ought to be our main concern. It is seeking to reintroduce the banished system of State aid for denominational schools and to fence off our public education into ecclesiastical paddocks. Assent to the catechism of the Catholic Federation means this or nothing. The majority in this State takes the view that denominationalism shall not be subsidised in any way by the State. The Roman Catholic Church is out for denominational interests, and generously offers here what it will not grant where its power is more effective—that other denominations shall share in the golden opportunity, knowing well that the other denominations are not on the market at all, nor even waiting to share in the proceeds of the bargain. The one and only beneficiary is the Roman Catholic Church.

I for one rejoice in the action of the Catholic Federation. All that was needed to give the Roman Catholic claim an effective set-back was just this blatant action, which has made clear to all parties the claim of sectarianism to regulate politics. It would be equally sectarianism if my own Church (the Presbyterian) were so lost to itself as to put forward such a claim. Is it too much to suggest that both political parties should effectually rule out this sectarian issue by emphatically refusing to have any dealings with the Catholic Federation or to take any political advantage of so much of the Roman Catholic votes as accepts the guidance of the Federation? I do not believe that the Federation influences more than a small minority of the Roman Catholic Church, but in some constituencies that may have decisive weight in the scales. Already, so far as my information goes, an almost equal number of Labour and Liberal candidates have "gone under" to the Federation. They are in the peculiar position of accepting votes on a policy which is opposed by the responsible leaders of their party. Is the party machinery to be used in favour of such men? These men know that whichever party is returned no such policy will be put forward by the Government. The Liberal party especially has, as a party, repeatedly declared against the claim now voiced by the Catholic Federation. In such circumstances how can it ask Liberals to support a man who is opposed to the declared policy of the party? For a Liberal candidate to angle for the Roman Catholic vote by assenting to the Federation catechism is nothing short of political dishonesty, and should be marked as such by every self-respecting Liberal. If Liberal candidates seek to make capital (against Liberal policy) out of the political honesty of Labour candidates who stand firm against sectarian pressure then any victory so gained will be blackened with dishonour. Let the election be fought on other issues than sectarianism.

I am, etc.,
RONALD G. MACINTYRE.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I see by a late issue of your paper that my name has been included amongst those candidates who answered "Yes" to all the questions submitted by the Catholic Federation. I take this, the earliest possible, opportunity of stating that my name was erroneously included in the list, inasmuch as several questions were answered in the negative, and others were qualified. I am taking immediate steps to explain my exact position in relation to these questions to the electors in my electorate.

I am, etc.,
R. J. HIGGINS.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED.

"Coo-ee," Chirnside-street, Footscray, Vic.—"The affection from which I suffered is, thanks to Cuticura, quite cured. It first appeared around my knuckles and finger joints. I first noticed it by my hands constantly itching. On putting my hands in water the burning feeling would nearly send me distracted. The palms of my hands were all cracked and the skin completely peeled off them, and on awakening during the night the continual itching would keep me awake for hours. I would rub and scratch them until the backs of my hands would look like raw flesh. I determined to try the Cuticura Remedies, and [illegible] I bathed my hands with Cuticura Soap and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I suffered with this dreadful affliction for [illegible] weeks, but persevered with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and am now quite recovered. I always use Cuticura Soap as a toilet soap, and would not be without the Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss C. Florence Daley, October, 1912.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a sample of each, with 32-page Skin Book, will be mailed free on application to R. Towns and Co., Dept. T., Sydney, N.S.W.—Advt.

[illegible] Rheumatism, Biliousness, all troubles arising from impurity of the blood, relieved by taking [illegible] 6d, 9d, and 1/-.—Advt.

THE CAMPAIGN.

CHILD PRISONERS.

A MINISTERIAL STATEMENT.

In reply to the questions asked by Mr. Levy yesterday on this subject, Mr. Hall, Minister for Justice, made the following statement:—

Mr. Levy was surprised apparently when I mentioned the fact that 400 children had been put in gaol during the time Mr. Wade presided over the Justice Department. He takes up an attitude quite typical of Liberals generally, and says, first, that the statement is absolutely untrue, and then proceeds to ask questions as to the facts. I shall reply to his questions categorically. He asks:—

(1) How many children under the age of 16 years were actually sent to gaol from the date of the passing of the Neglected Children and Juvenile Offenders Act by the Carruthers Government in the year 1905, until the end of the Liberal regime in October, 1910?

Reply: The returns are not yet complete giving details. Probably there were 150, certainly over 120, from the date the Act came into operation—October 1, 1905.

(2) If any such children were so gaoled, of what offences had they been convicted?

Reply: Throwing stones, petty thefts, deserting ships, and in a few instances more serious offences.

(3) Has a child of 11 years ever before been arrested and imprisoned in New South Wales for non-payment of a fine or costs? If so, when and where?

Reply: Yes; I have not particulars of the whole of Mr. Wade's 400 cases before me, but amongst the very first that took place in his time I pick the following:—On the 15th December, 1904, at a town within 50 miles of Sydney, five children were charged with stealing fruit. One was 8 years of age, one was 10, and one 11. They were fined 5s, with 5s costs, or 48 hours' imprisonment with light labour. They were given a month in which to pay the fine. As their parents did not pay, they were arrested, and served their sentences. I decline to treat these children in the same shameless fashion as the Liberals have treated Alice Wilkins, so I will neither give their names nor the name of the town where the cases were heard, but if confirmation of my statement is desired I am prepared to place the papers before the Lord Mayor.

(4) Does Mr. Hall still think that there is no occasion for indignation over the case of Alice Wilkins?

Reply: Most certainly; I quite agree that there is still cause for a great deal of indignation over the case of Alice Wilkins. First, it is a matter for indignation that her father, who was in regular employment, would not pay 1s a week to keep his daughter out of gaol; secondly, it is a matter for indignation that Mr. Levy and his friends should have so little regard for the welfare of this girl as to give to her the undesirable notoriety now attaching to her; thirdly, it is a matter for indignation that she should have appeared upon the Liberal platform at Enmore to help Dr. Bohrsmann; and, finally, it is a matter for indignation that visitors to Australia should receive the impression from Mr. Levy and his friends that Australian elections are fought out on children's quarrels, and not upon honest differences on questions of statesmanship.

ALICE WILKINS.

MR. WADE SEEKS INFORMATION.

"Mr. D. R. Hall," said Mr. Wade last night, "has made many remarkable statements in his endeavour to defend Mr. Holman's action in ordering Alice Wilkins to gaol. The latest is the most remarkable, namely, that during the six years I was Attorney-General over 400 children under the age of 16 were actually imprisoned. On the face of it this seems to be only a partial truth. It is necessary to have the following points cleared up. It must be remembered that until the Neglected Children's Act was passed every child, both on arrest and after conviction, was liable to be gaoled. The measure was intended to stop that barbarous practice, and it provided for gaol only in extreme cases of hardened offenders, who, in fact, had criminal instincts. The Act did not become law until 1906. Will Mr. Hall kindly state how many children under the age of 16 have been convicted before the Children's Court under that Act: how many have been released on probation, how many have been committed to the care of guardians, to asylums: how many have been sentenced; how many have actually gone to gaol; and how many of those were girls? Mr. Hall's method of calculation may be as abstruse as Mr. Holman is in working out the cost of cutting down the two fig trees, but I am positive that there is no other case on record of a child being found guilty of slapping a schoolmate and being ordered to gaol, in spite of appeals for clemency on behalf of the child. It is also important to know if any cases do exist of girls sent to gaol, whether an appeal for mercy had first been refused by the Attorney-General."

IN THE ELECTORATES.

CANTERBURY.

A REDUCED ELECTORATE.

J. E. Draper (Selected Liberal).
H. J. F. Peters (Selected Labour).
E. A. L. Dent (Independent Liberal).
R. C. Messiter (National Progressive).

Total on the roll, exclusive of supplementary list, 13,520.

Polling last election:—Varney Parkes, 5824; E. H. Burgess, 4622. Total on the roll, 14,975.

The voting in 1910 for Canterbury really furnishes no approximate criterion by which to forecast the chances of the candidates on this occasion, as present Canterbury is all that remained over when the old electorate was operated upon surgically to make up partially Hurstville and Dulwich Hill.

This is another of the seats in which the standard of the National Progressive party is being raised, but the real contest is between the forces of Liberalism and Labour. The Liberal candidates is a well-known local identity, Alderman Draper, and the Labour candidate is Mr. Peters, whose electorate, Deniliquin, which he represented since 1907, has disappeared in the redistribution scheme. Alderman Draper has lived all his life in the electorate, and has been a prominent figure in its municipal life. The Liberal party is sanguine of victory, and is leaving no stone unturned to that end.

The selected Labour candidate, Mr. Peters, is conducting an active campaign. A journalist by profession, Mr. Peters is, perhaps, one of the most lucid speakers in his party. He will rely upon the block Labour vote. A question that is as prominent in the electorate as in any country electorate is that of freehold and leasehold. Canterbury is a new growth for the most part, and many people there own their own homes. There is thus a big body of voters who regard the Labour plank of leasehold only, and land nationalisation as anathemas, and that is one of the elements in the opposition that Mr. Peters finds himself confronted with.

DULWICH HILL.

A NEW SEAT.

T. J. Hoskins (Selected Liberal).
A. A. Jones (Selected Labour).
H. T. McConnell (Independent).
E. O. Prosser (National Progressive).

Number on the role, exclusive of supplementary list, 11,616.

The new Dulwich Hill electorate is made up of portion of old Canterbury, Petersham, and Marrickville. All four candidates are unknown political quantities.

The selected Liberal, Mr. T. Hoskins, has had a long municipal career, and has filled the Petersham mayoral chair. He is a local coach-builder and farrier, and is a member of the council of the Royal Agricultural Society. Here again, it is anticipated that the real fight will be between the selected Liberal and the selected Labour candidate. The Labour representative, Mr. A. A. Jones, is a member of the Clerks' Union. Being a new constituency, Dulwich Hill is being canvassed with great thoroughness, and the Liberals, who are well organised, expect Mr. Hoskins to win outright on the first ballot. Mr. Hoskins is a speaker of the rough and ready order, and gives his hearers the impression that he takes his politics very seriously, believing that the State has now entered upon such a stage in its development when farseeing and capable hands are required at the helm of affairs.

MARRICKVILLE.

A STRENUOUS FIGHT.

Thomas Simpson Crawford (Selected Labour).
Samuel Davison (National Progressive).
William Wallace (Selected Liberal).

Number of electors on the roll, 11,244.

Voting last election: T. S. Crawford, 4730; R. S. M'Coy, 3730; A. A. Blackwood, 577; T. Barden, 17.

In this electorate, although a third candidate in the person of Mr. Davison, the National Progressive, is in the field, the issue is considered to be that of Liberalism versus Labour, and a most strenuous fight is in progress. Mr. Crawford won the seat for Labour at the last general election, when he defeated Mr. Rupert M'Coy by nearly 1000 votes, and his chance of re-election is considered by his party to be good. That the Labour party is determined not to lose the seat if it can be helped is proved by the fact that on different occasions four of the strongest men in the State Ministry have addressed meetings in the electorate in support of Mr. Crawford.

Marrickville for many years was looked upon as a safe Liberal seat, and if the convincing arguments used by Mr. Wallace, who is carrying the Liberal banner, bear the weight many consider that they do, it should be again represented by a Liberal after the elections. Mr. Wallace is one of the few Liberals who has been a member of a trades union—and a prominent unionist, too—and, as at the present time there are many Labourites who are not wholly satisfied with the way in which the affairs of the country have been administered by the Labour party during the past three years, and are in doubt as to which candidate should get their votes, there seems a prospect of Mr. Wallace gaining these. As he is sure to get the very solid Liberal vote in the electorate, his friends think that he has not a hard task before him in making up a sufficiency of votes to put him at the head of the poll. On two occasions Mr. Wade has spoken at Marrickville in favour of Mr. Wallace.

Mr. Davison is well known as an advocate of single tax, but, as stated above, he is looked upon as not having a chance of gaining the seat—in fact, the opinion locally is that he will not poll 100 votes.

NEWTOWN.

LIBERAL AND LABOURITE SANGUINE.

Robert Hollis ...... Selected Labour.
Luke Jones .... Socialist.
P. C. L. Stevens .... Selected Liberal.

Voting last election: R. Hollis, 4221; W. J. Ferguson, 2492; P. Quinn, 22.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Hollis has been returned as the Labour representative for Newtown for a number of years, he is leaving no stone unturned to retain the seat, for he doubtless recognises that to hold it against such an opponent as Mr. Stevens he must put his best work into the contest. Every night for weeks past Mr. Hollis has addressed meetings in the electorate, often receiving assistance from the best speakers in the Labour ranks, and although many of his supporters look upon his return as a certainty, he recognises the fact that the carrying-out of a good campaign is time well spent.

Mr. Stevens, though not as well-known in the district as Mr. Hollis, has made a very good impression, and his forcible speeches are attentively listened to. This is the second contest in which he has taken part, for he made a strong fight in the Liberal interest for the Pyrmont seat against Mr. M'Neil three years ago, and although defeated he was far from being disgraced, for he polled a large number of votes in such a pronounced Labour centre. There he was leading a forlorn hope, but in Newtown his chances of winning the seat for the Liberals are looked upon by many as being hopeful. Judging by the results throughout the State at the last Federal elections, Newtown looks a very likely place for a surprise to occur when the results are posted on December 6.

Mr. Jones, the Socialist, though given credit locally for his sincerity of purpose, is considered not to have a chance.

PARRAMATTA.

W. F. Jago (Independent Liberal).
T. R. Moxham (Selected Liberal).
F. Walford (Selected Labour).

Total on the roll, exclusive of supplementary list—11,522.

Voting last election:—Moxham, 3965; D. O'Reilly (Labour), 3166. Total on the roll—7496.

Parramatta, as the result of the redistribution scheme, has been considerably altered. The eastern portion of the old constituency has been cut off to contribute towards the Ryde Electorate, while a portion of the Sherbrooke Electorate (which now disappears altogether as a single entity), consisting of Baulkham Hills, Galston, and some other centres, have been incorporated with Parramatta. The change is calculated to make Parramatta more Liberal in character than before. Last election Mr. Moxham defeated Mr. Dowell O'Reilly, the Labour candidate, by over 800 votes. Being a well-known local identity, and having been in Parliament before, Mr. O'Reilly was a formidable opponent. On this occasion the Government is represented by an unknown candidate in the political world—Mr. F. Walford.

Mr. Moxham, who, in the latter part of last Parliament acted as deputy Opposition Whip, has represented Parramatta in the Legislative Assembly since July, 1901, and his supporters are looking confidently forward to a renewal of the confidence of the electors in him. His record in Parliament is one of stanch consistency to principle.

Of recent years Parramatta has regained a good deal of its old-time importance, and not only has the town shown signs of fresh activity and growth, but the orcharding industry there has received an impetus. There are several big local questions to the front, one being the improvement from the point of view of navigation of the Upper portion of the Parramatta River, and all three candidates in the field are paying considerable attention to the question of local wants.

Mr. W. F. Jago is running as an Independent Liberal, and the committee of the selected Liberal are working hard to prevent a second ballot. Mr. Jago is a well-known figure in Parramatta political circles, but the friends of Mr. Moxham say that, in view of the fact that the sitting member has stuck to his party, and has been an active local representative, no reason exists for making a change.

As Opposition Whip, Mr. Moxham has proved remarkably alert and tactful. On the rare occasions when he does take part in the debates of the House, his remarks are invariably to the point and serviceable to the business of the Chamber.

RYDE.

M. McLeod .... (Selected Labour)
C. R. Summerhayes ....
.... (National Progressive)
W. Thompson .. (Selected Liberal)

Total on the rolls, exclusive of supplementary list, 12,558.

Ryde is a new electorate carved out of portions of old Gordon and Sherbrooke. It includes that part of Gordon that lies between Pymble and the Hawkesbury River, and the Beecroft-Pennant Hills portion of Sherbrooke. Liberals regard it as essentially a Liberal constituency. Whether this is so or not remains to be seen, but the competition to secure the Liberal nomination was a particularly keen one, and engendered more or less friction. Mr. W. Thompson was successful in the selection, and he is now receiving the solid support of the various candidates who had opposed him for the selection.

Mr. Murdock McLeod is the selected Labour candidate, and Mr. C. R. Summerhayes is one of the few followers of Mr. Beeby, who is contesting the new seat. Judging by the progress of the various public meetings, the selected Liberal candidate's views are receiving considerable endorsement, and his committee predict a win for Mr. Thompson on the first ballot.

SURRY HILLS.

PROBABLE LABOUR DEFEAT.

Henry Clement Hoyle (Selected Labour)
Ludwig Klausen (Socialist).
William John Walker (Independent Liberal).

Number of electors on roll, exclusive of supplementary list, 11,162.

Voting at last election:—H. C. Hoyle, 3711; Sir James Graham, 2399; J. Eaton, 38.

A strenuous and interesting fight is proceeding in Surry Hills. This is another of the seats which fell to Labour for the first time at the 1910 general election, when Mr. Harry Hoyle, a railway engine-driver, secured a majority of 1312 votes over the late Sir James Graham.

Surry Hills has been the scene of many memorable battles, and at least two conspicuous political careers have ended unexpectedly in the ballot boxes of this constituency, viz., those of the late W. P. Crick, and the late Sir James Graham. It is remarkable that in the last four Parliaments the seat has been represented by four different men. In 1901 Mr. A. D. Nelson secured the seat by three votes over Mr. J. C. Waine. In 1904 both Mr. Nelson and Mr. Waine were turned down in favour of Mr. John Norton, who polled 3646 votes out of 5784 votes split up amongst six candidates, of which Mr. Waine polled 1963 to Mr. Nelson's 513. In 1907 Sir James Graham was returned (Mr. Norton was not a candidate) on a minority vote. He polled 2237 out of 5967 votes cast. The feature of this contest was the presence of the late Mr. W. P. Crick, ex-Minister for Lands, who had given up a safe seat at Blayney to make an effort to win a metropolitan seat for his party. Mr. Crick would not sign the Labour pledge, however, and Labour ran a strong candidate in Mr. J. E. Birt, who polled 2104 votes to Mr. Crick's 1442.

It would thus appear to be treading upon dangerous ground to attempt to predict the result of the election in such a seat as this. Surry Hills has never been a strong party seat. Its record shows rather that it is partial to strong independents. Thus it is that Alderman Walker's chances are considered to be so bright. He is a strong candidate, and although attached to neither party, it is generally understood that a win for Mr. Walker will mean a supporter for Mr. Wade. The Independent Liberal is very well known as a vigorous and successful representative of Flinders Ward in the City Council. In 1909, he was returned for that ward with Alderman Lawrence, polling 722 votes to his colleague's 730. After three years' representation in the City Council, he was re-elected by Flinders Ward ratepayers in 1912 top of the poll, with 1248 votes, to Mr. Lawrence's 716. And at this election there were two reputably strong Labour municipal candidates in Messrs. Thrower, M.L.A., and Slade, secretary of the Labour Municipal League. Alderman Walker beat his two Labour opponents by two to one. As an evidence of the popularity he enjoys, he has held the positions of president of the Friendly Societies' Association of New South Wales, and the Sydney United Friendly Societies' Dispensary. He is a life-governor of the Prince Alfred Hospital, and of the Benevolent Society of New South Wales, and is also the present president of St. Margaret's Hospital for Women, in Bourke-street, Surry Hills. His campaign has been of the very vigorous order, big public meetings at night, and systematic canvass of the electorate all day. He expects to win the seat.

On the other hand, the Labour camp is confident. It is said that the socialist candidate will not be taken seriously, and will not therefore split the Labour vote. The sitting member, Mr. Hoyle, enjoys a large measure of personal popularity. His is an attractive personality, and he is the class of man to make and hold friends. During the last year of the Parliament just expired, he was elected to the position of secretary of the Labour Parliamentary party, and is very highly thought of by his colleagues as an organiser. The keenness of the contest is recognised in the Labour camp, and all its forces are in the field to retain the seat. For many years an employee of the State Railway Department, Mr. Hoyle came into prominence as a young man in a well-remembered controversy with the late Chief Commissioner Eddy, as a result of which the late Railway Chief established the present Railway Institute, intending it to be a counter-move to the growing spirit of unionism in the railway service. Mr. Hoyle has always been a strong unionist. He was returned as a protectionist in 1891 as one of the four members for Redfern, and sat until the dissolution in 1894. In 1901 he stood for the Federal seat of South Sydney in opposition to Mr. M'Gowen and the late Mr. Edwards, but was defeated. Mr. Hoyle was first elected to the State Parliament as a pledged Labour member in 1910.

ST. GEORGE.

MR. WOOD'S CANDIDATURE.

W. R. C. Bagnall (Selected Labour).
H. Broe (National Progressive).
W. H. Wood (Selected Liberal).

Total on the list, exclusive of supplementary list: 11,868.

Voting last election:—Taylor (Liberal), 6196; Bagnall, 4.396. Total on the roll, 13,969.

Both numerically and geographically, St. George is a different electorate now, compared with three years ago. While there were close on 14,000 on the roll then, there are over 2000 fewer to-day. Portion of Kogarah, Oatley, and Carlton have been taken out of old St. George to help make the new Hurstville electorate. The necessity for the creation of two new electorates, Hurstville and Dulwich Hill, to the south-west of the metropolis shows what a great residential expansion has taken place hereabouts.

St. George has always proved a stronghold of Liberalism. For many years it was represented in the Legislative Assembly by Sir Joseph Carruthers, and on his retirement from active politics on account of ill-health in 1908, Mr. William Taylor was elected member for the electorate, and only retired to make way for the deputy-leader of the party, Mr. W. H. Wood, who, by reason chiefly of the claims of his position, sought a suburban seat, his old electorate of Bega having been amalgamated with that of Clyde. Another reason that actuated Mr. Wood in seeking another seat near the metropolis was a chivalrous objection to opposing an old party comrade, Captain Millard, the member in the last Parliament for Clyde.

It is generally conceded by members of the Liberal party that the cause of Liberalism in New South Wales owes much to the deputy-leader of the Opposition. During the intervals when it has fallen to him to lead the party in Mr. Wade's absence, he has more than adequately risen to the occasion, and has proved a first-class fighting man on the floor of the House. During critical periods in the life of the Government, while temporarily at the head of the Opposition, Mr. Wood has given signal proof of a high degree of strategy, and he succeeded in earning the commendation both of the leader, Mr. Wade, and of the rank and file of the party. The last Parliament possessed no keener debater than Mr. Wood, and no more untiring party worker, and, under all the circumstances surrounding his position in the House and the Liberal party, it is not surprising to find St. George Liberals rallying enthusiastically around him in order to secure his return. Mr. Wood has had 19 years' Parliamentary experience, and has served in several Ministries. He is included among the successful young Australians, who have entered public life, and, being still comparatively a young man, is one of the fighting spirits in the House that Liberalism cannot afford to lose.

The fight in St. George has resolved itself into a duel between the representatives of Liberalism and Labour. It was at the outset of the contest thought that, with a follower of Mr. Beeby in the field, there would be a chance of a second ballot taking place, but on present appearances that does not seem at all likely. Mr. Broe, the National Progressive candidate, according to outward indications visible at public meetings, is not cutting much political ice. Mr. Bagnall, the Labour candidate, is working hard to reverse the verdict against him last election. He is a fluent speaker, and full of energy. It is highly probable that Mr. Wood will secure a solid Liberal vote. He has displayed characteristic energy in the conduct of the campaign so far, and great assistance has been lent by Mr. Taylor, who has loyally brought the whole of his influence to bear in the interests of the deputy-leader.

FIVE OR SIX SEATS.

WHAT MR. WADE EXPECTS TO GAIN.

"During the last month I have covered the chief centres in the west and southern parts of the State," said Mr. Wade, yesterday, "and one cannot help being struck by the same remarkable features that characterised the Federal campaign. There is a very marked swing over of the farming community from Labour to Liberalism and the desire manifested at all meetings to listen and learn rather than to disturb. The disturbing element that was so common three years ago has been reduced to a minimum, and they are mostly boys. I ventured the opinion during the Federal campaign that the public at large were thinking what was best for them. The results of the poll endorsed that, and whilst the swing towards Liberalism is even stronger now, I have found no cases of any reversion amongst those who went Liberal in the Commonwealth elections. Whilst Liberal supporters are very sanguine throughout the country, I desire to be on the conservative side in forming any estimate, but I feel I am safe in saying that Liberals will win at least five or six seats."

ASHFIELD.

MR. ROBSON'S CAMPAIGN.

Ashfield Town Hall was filled when Mr. W. E. V. Robson, the selected Liberal candidate, opened his campaign. The chair was taken by Alderman C. H. Algie (Mayor of Ashfield).

Mr. Robson, who has just recovered from illness, was very well received. He said that during his eight years' representation of Ashfield he had done his best to give faithful service both in Parliament and in municipal matters. Reforms were essential in the present electoral system. The second ballot had resulted badly, as had been anticipated. This system had produced unholy alliances and compromises. Parliamentary procedure, as now carried on, caused a strain that few persons could stand. Speeches were of inordinate length, and there was too much midnight legislation. The Liberals favoured a fair deal to everyone, irrespective of party. They believed in the right of every man to work without being questioned whether he was a unionist or not. Liberals had reduced taxation by about a million pounds. The Labour Government had increased taxation to an alarming extent, and its policy was "spend, spend, and let the country 'bust.'"

The Labour party, he added, was on its trial, and it would be found guilty of the following offences:—Prodigal and reckless expenditure; failure in financial matters; increase of cost of living; degradation of Parliament; suppression of free speech; bringing the administration of justice into contempt; weakening the tenure of the man on the land; and perpetrating the meanest act ever committed by any Government, viz., the ejection of the Governor-General.

GOVERNMENT PAMPHLET.

AT TAXPAYERS' EXPENSE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

DUBBO, Wednesday.

In the course of his address at Dubbo this evening, Mr. Wade said:—"I have before me a pretty pamphlet printed by the Government Printer, showing the Labour Government and some of its doings. There is a variety of things, including the Daceyville Suburb, State Brickworks, Education Department Building, Government House grounds, Uhr's Point Timber Yard, Sydney Stock Saleyards, etc., and the remarkable thing is that the Government, which claims to be saving the country interest above all else, distributes a pamphlet amongst you, and everything in it represents something built in Sydney, being built, or going to be built. The only exception is the afforestation scheme for prisoners, which is located in the country. Money has been spent on metal quarries, timber yards, clothing factory, sandstone quarries, lime works, in which there has been sunk in the course of the last two or three years all round about Sydney no less than £400,000. It gives employment to a handful of men about Sydney, but it has proved a loss to the whole community. A return of 4 per cent. would have been £16,000, yet the return was only £420."

LIQUOR LAW MISREPRESENTATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In reply to the Liquor Trades' Defence Union, I have to say that I do not accept any of its statements, without outside verification. If any no-license canvasser has said that compensation would be paid a publican who lost his license, the position has not been rightly stated. If Mr. Stooke will furnish the Alliance with names and other particulars, an inquiry shall be made, and anything shall, as far as possible, be frankly corrected. It will treat the matter very differently to the way the Liberty League answered the complaint of the Alliance that some of its canvassers were trying to show that it was endeavouring to put down picture shows, Sunday trams, etc. The league denied the statement, and when the Alliance offered an independent inquiry, it dropped out of sight.

In this case, very probably, the canvasser called the allowance of three years' notice "time compensation," as is often done—hence the misunderstanding. I would remind the Liquor Trades' Defence Union that at its interstate conference last year Mr. Sutton's proposal that money compensation should be demanded, was set aside, and the debate showed that it preferred plenty of "time." The three years given here to a vetoed license is an extraordinarilyy liberal allowance.

There are 150,000 in New Zealand, 2,000,000 in Canada, 45,000,000 in the States, who have adopted no-license or prohibition, and there has not been a penny paid in compensation. The vetoed licenses have merely been allowed to finish the year for which they may have been issued, and, I blieve, not always even that.

I am, etc., F. B. BOYCE,
President N.S.W. Alliance.

FATHER O'REILLY'S POSITION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In the endeavour to fasten a sectarian system of education on the State, Father O'Reilly in to-day's paper, says:—"I do not wish to speak as a priest, but as a Catholic, a citizen, and a ratepayer."

You can correct me if I say that I think I am the living contributor of the largest amount of leading matter to the oldest daily paper in this State, if not in Australia, during a period of over a quarter of a century. From one occupying such a position, a better judgment of a question affecting the relations of Church and State will be looked for than from a sectarian priest, whose headquarters are at Rome. I mention the fact to enable the public to judge on the point.

But I can correctly say I do not write as a pressman, for you know I have severed official connection with work for over eight years, but "as a Catholic, a citizen, and a ratepayer." Father O'Reilly writes as a Roman Catholic, as only half a citizen, for he is a celibate, and as a ratepayer, who has only contributed taxes for himself. I have had to pay for seven. As a controversialist he is in an altogether inferior position. He cannot disconnect himself from his priesthood. He is a priest. And if he stuck to his work it would be better for the State, for his work, and for his flock.

I am, etc.,
P. PROCTOR.

TRADES AND LABOUR.

STOCKTON BOREHOLE AWARD.

NEWCASTLE, Wednesday.

The Miners' Wages Board to-day gave its decision in connection with the Stockton Borehole case. The tonnage rate was fixed at 2s 2½d a ton for the working of a standard height of 4ft on the long wall system. For every inch under 4 feet the miners should be paid ½d.

The board assessed the wage that should be earned by a man on the contract system working at a fair rate of speed, at the basis of 6¼ tons. That gave a rate of 2s 3½d for the seam. The height for the longwall system was settled at 4ft. The rate of increase and decrease, according to the variation of the seam from that height, should be ½d an inch. That would really give the rate of a standard seam of 4ft 2s 2½d.

There was a number of matters on which the board thought it had not received sufficient information to enable it to give a satisfactory award, and yet it felt that it should give some determination. Those matters had been determined in a tentative way only. For fast end work, where the face was kept uniformally advanced, the men should be paid 2d a ton extra, crosscut 1½d extra, end work 2d extra, winning out 2s 6d a yard extra if the fall went to the top of the face, and 1s if it did not stop for temporary chocking, 6d for drawing and setting stop slabs, 6d for the 6ft slabs, and 1d a foot up to 12ft, removing stone 6d a skip, working wet places 1s a man a shift, relaying rails 6d a pair. The rise and fall on the selling price would be 3d in the 1s.

The chairman added that the award would be drafted on those lines, and published in the "Gazette." He understood that, as soon as the announcement of the award was made, the Stockton Borehole men would return to work.

Before the board adjourned, it was arranged that the Lambton B. case should be commenced to-morrow.

GAS EMPLOYEES.

A mass meeting of those employed in the gas trade was held at the Trades Hall last night to consider the position of the union regarding the payment of the fines inflicted as a result of the gas strike. Some hundred members were prosecuted, and fined in all a little over £900. The union paid the Government £300, and asked for a reduction of the fine, which the Government refused to give. At the conclusion of last night's meeting the secretary said there was nothing to report.

CAUSED PAIN AND INCONVENIENCE.
"I am subject to bowel troubles, which have caused me considerable pain and inconvenience," says Mr. Alfred Wane, 135 Auburn-road, Auburn, Vic., "but was advised to try Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I find it always effects a complete cure after the second dose. I am pleased to know that there is such a safe and certain remedy as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I always keep a bottle handy now."—Advt.

"INVISIBLE BIFOCAL" LENSES.

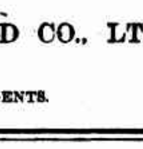

NO UNSIGHTLY DIVIDING LINE.
ONE PAIR FOR ALL OCCASIONS.
Many persons who would like to combine near and far glasses in one pair find that the sharp outlines of the reading lenses are very annoying. "KRYTOK" near and far lenses are easy to wear and young-looking, because the line sections are invisibly joined.

IN MEMORIAM.

BEARD.—In everlasting memory of my dear husband, George, who passed away November 27, 1912. Deeply regretted.
The flowers I place upon your grave
Will wither and decay;
But the love for you who lie beneath
Will never fade away.
Inserted by his sorrowing wife and granddaughter, Mary and Vide Beard.

BEARD.—In loving memory of my dearly beloved father, George Beard, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
The cheerful smile and friendly grasp
Are pleasant to recall.
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
We little thought his time so short
In this world to remain,
Nor thought that when from home he went
He'd never return again.
Inserted by his loving son and daughter-in-law, George and Edith.

BEARD.—In sad and loving memory of our dear father, George Beard, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
No matter how we long for you,
No matter how we call,
There is nothing left to answer us
But your photo. on the wall.
Inserted by his loving son and daughter-in-law, John and Edith Beard.

BEARD.—In loving remembrance of my dear father, George Beard, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
It is sad, yet true—we cannot tell why—
The good are the first that are called to die.
In heaven we trust to meet you some day,
For death is a tribute we all have to pay.
Inserted by his loving daughter, Claudie.

BEARD.—In sad but loving memory of my dear father, George Beard, who departed this life on the 27th of November, 1912.
We little thought his time so short
In this world to remain;
We little thought when he left home
He'd ne'er return again.
Inserted by his loving son, Charles Beard.

BEARD.—In lasting remembrance of my dear father, who passed away November 27th, 1912. Loved by all who knew him.
For many years our family chain
Was firmly linked together;
But, oh, that chain is broken now,
One link has gone for ever.
Inserted by his sorrowful daughter and son-in-law, Isobel and Arthur McIntyre.

BEARD.—In fond memory of dear dad, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
With tearful eyes I watched you, dad,
Going on your lonely way;
Although I loved you, dada dear,
I could not make you stay.
Inserted by his loving daughter and son-in-law, Emma and George Wilson.

BEARD.—In ever loving memory of my dear father, George Beard, who departed this life November 27, 1912, aged 58 years.
His cheerful smile and friendly grasp
Are pleasant to recall.
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
We little thought his time was short
In this world to remain,
Nor thought that when from home he went
He'd never return again.
Inserted by his loving daughter, Margaret Scholes.

BENNETT.—In ever-loving memory of our dear son, Francis Henry, who died November 27, 1904. Inserted by his sorrowing parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bennett.

BENNETT.—In loving memory of our dear brother, Frank, who died November 27, 1904. Mr. and Mrs. O. Dyson.

CARLSON.—In loving memory of my dear brother, Ernest Frederick (Ernie), who was accidentally killed in the Geraldton Baths, Western Australia, on November 27, 1912, aged 29 years 9 months.
Far and oft my thoughts do wander
To a grave so far away,
Where they laid my darling brother
Just one year ago to-day.
Inserted by his loving sister, Queenie. Western Australia and Adelaide papers please copy.

CONNELLY.—In sad but loving memory of our dear son, John F. F. Connelly, who departed this life November 27, 1910, aged 3 years and 10 months. R.I.P. Inserted by his loving parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Connelly.

EDWARDS.—In loving memory of my dear wife (nee Violet Bishop), who departed this life on November 27th, 1906, who sleeps in Waverley Cemetery. Inserted by her loving husband.

EDWARDS.—In loving memory of my dear daughter (nee Violet Bishop), who departed this life November 27th, 1906, who sleeps in Waverley Cemetery. Inserted by her loving mother.

FORTY.—In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Annie Forty, who departed this life November 27, 1910.
No matter how we pray,
No matter how we call,
There is nothing left to answer,
Inserted by her loving daughters, Tricey and Gladys.

GARBUTT.—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandma, Catherine Garbutt, who departed this life November 27, 1909, at her residence, 149 George-street. Inserted by her loving daughter and son-in-law, M. and R. Trueman, also grandchildren, Ella, Stanley, and Leslie.

GRAHAM.—In sad and loving memory of our dear little son and brother, Leslie Andrew, who departed this life November 25, 1906, aged 2 years. Gone, but not forgotten. Inserted by his mother and father and sisters, Elsie and Irene.

HARDACRE.—In fond and loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister (Nellie), who passed away November 27, 1909. Peace, perfect peace. Inserted by her sorrowing father and mother, and brother Charlie.

HARDACRE.—In fond remembrance of our beloved sister (Nellie), who departed this life November 27, 1909. Dead, but not forgotten. Inserted by her loving brother and sister-in-law, Albert and Elizabeth Hardacre.

HARDACRE.—In loving remembrance of our dearly beloved sister (Nellie), who departed this life November 27, 1909. Sadly missed. Inserted by her loving brother and sister-in-law, William and Jessie Hardacre.

HARDACRE.—In loving remembrance of our dear sister (Nellie), who passed away on November 27 1909. At rest. Never forgotten by her loving brother and sister-in-law, Walter and Edie.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear sister, Maggie, who departed this life November 27, 1902.
I often think of days gone by,
When we were both together;
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
Dear sister has gone for ever.
Inserted by her loving sister, Julia Quinn.

LARTER.—In loving memory of my dear mother and grandmother, Emma Larter, who departed this life November 27, 1911, aged 67 years.
You are not forgotten, mother, dear,
Nor will you ever be;
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
Inserted by her loving daughter and son-in-law, Henry Lette, Emma Lette, and grandchildren.

LARTER.—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, who departed this life November 27, 1911. Gone, but not forgotten. Inserted by her loving daughter and son, E. and J. Saunders, and grandchildren.

LARTER.—In loving memory of our dear mother, who died November 27, 1911. Inserted by M. and W. Vincent.

IN MEMORIAM.

LASRIES.—In loving memory of my dear wife and our mother, who was called home November 27, 1912.
There are days of stony anguish,
When the tears refuse to fall,
But the parting with our mother
Was the hardest of them all.
Inserted by her loving husband and children, Essie, Leon, Maurice, and Stella.

LASHIES.—In loving memory of my dear friend (Lefty), who passed away November 27, 1912.
I do not forget her,
I loved her too dearly
For her memory to fade
From my life like a dream.
M. L.

LOMAS.—In loving memory of our dear father, Edward David Lomas, who departed this life November 27th, 1911. R.I.P. Inserted by his loving son and daughter-in-law, Leo and Annie Lomas.

LOMAS.—In loving memory of our dear father, Edward David Lomas, who departed this life November 27th, 1911. R.I.P. Inserted by his loving daughter and son-in-law, Sarah and M. Sullivan.

LOVERN.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary J. Lovern, who departed this life November 27 1912. Inserted by her loving children.

McGRATH.—In loving memory of our dear father, John J. McGrath, who died November 27, 1911, aged 65 years. Inserted by Jack, Tom, Minnie, and Cecil.

McMAHON.—In ever-loving memory of my dear mother, Sarah Elizabeth, who died November 27, 1912, aged 46 years.
What is home without a mother?
What are all the joys we meet?
When her loving smile no longer
Greets the coming of our feet.
Inserted by her only loving child, Polly, and son-in-law, George, and grandchildren, Neta, Reggie, Ida, Ethel, Jackie, Stanley, Lonard.

McMAHON.—In sad but loving memory of our dear sister, Sarah, who departed this life November 27, 1912, after a long and painful illness.
No pen can write; no tongue can tell,
What pain she bore, as she lay ill,
But God alone, Who thought it best,
Did ease her pain and gave her rest.
Gone, but not forgotten by her loving brother and sister-in-law, George and Sarah, and family.

MINCH.—In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear father, Andrew Minch (late of railway), who passed away November 27, 1893, at Newcastle.
Worthy of everlasting love was he,
From those he left behind;
A better father and husband could not be,
Nor one more true and kind.
Inserted by his loving wife and children.

MINTY.—In loving memory of my beloved brother, Albert Ernest Minty, who passed away at Chatswood November 26, 1912. W. J. Minty, Christchurch, N.Z.

MULLINS.—In loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away on November 27, 1912, aged 67.
One year has passed away, and none can tell
The loss of a mother I loved so well;
But while she lies in peaceful sleep,
Her memory I will always keep.
Inserted by her only daughter, Amy.

MULLINS.—In loving memory of our dear grandmother who passed away on November 27, 1912, aged 67.
Gone but not forgotten.
Inserted by her grandchildren, Hilda, Alice, and Cecil Cogger.

NAYLON.—In loving memory of my dear wife and our mother, who died November 27, 1912; also Mary, infant daughter of the above, who died February 9, 1913, aged 11 weeks. Inserted by her loving husband, Patrick Naylon, and children, Veney, Willie, and Eric.

NEVILLE.—In sad and loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, M. Neville, who departed this life November 27, 1911, aged 76 years. Inserted by her loving son and daughter, and grandson, T. Neville, C. M'Cormick, B. M'Cormick.

PLUMB.—In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear father, William Plumb, who departed this life November 27, 1912, aged 80 years. Inserted by his loving wife and family.

PLUMB.—In loving memory of our dear father, William Plumb, who died November 27, 1912, aged 79 years. Inserted by his loving sons and daughter-in-law, Alf and Rose Plumb.

PLUMB.—In loving memory of our dear father, William Plumb, who departed this life November 27th, 1912. Inserted by his loving son, William, and family.

POWELL.—In sad but loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Laura Linda, who died November 27th, 1908, aged 13 years and 5 months. Inserted by W. L. and E. L. Powell and family.

ROBARDS.—In ever-loving memory of our darling mother, Susie Hebblewhite Robards, who departed this life on November 27th, 1909, aged 57 years.
Worthy of everlasting love was she
From those she left behind;
A dearer mother could not be found,
Nor one so true and kind.
Inserted by her loving daughters, Lillie, Rose, Olive, and Ivy.

ROGERS.—In sad and loving memory of our dear daughter, Ada Rogers, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
Immaculate Heart of Mary,
On her your prayers extol,
Sweet Sacred Heart of Jesus
Have mercy on her soul.
Inserted by her sorrowing mother and father.

ROGERS.—In loving memory of our only sister, Ada, who departed this life November 27, 1912, aged 36 years.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear Ada, how I think of you;
Roses may wither, leaves may fade and die,
Some may forget you, but never shall I.
Inserted by her loving brother and sister-in-law, George and Ethel Birtles.

ROGERS.—In affectionate remembrance of our dear sister, Ada Mary Rogers, who departed this life November 27, 1912.
In the bloom of her life, death claimed her,
In the pride of her womanhood days;
None knew her but to love her;
None mentioned her name but in praise.
Inserted by her loving brother and sister-in-law, Frank and Eileen Birtles.

ROGERS.—In everlasting remembrance of our darling sister and sister-in-law, Ada, who died November 27, 1912, aged 36. "Love's memory lasts for ever." Inserted by her loving brother and sister-in-law, Alf, and Clara Birtles.

ROWLEY.—In loving memory of my darling son and our brother, Harry Ronald, who departed this life on November 27, 1907.
An angel at the throne of God.
Inserted by his loving mother and brothers and sisters, Stanly, Irlean, Jack.

SMYTH.—In sad but loving memory of my dear husband and our father, George Montague, who departed this life November 27th, 1909. Sadly missed. Inserted by his loving wife, son, and daughter-in-law.

TEMPLETON.—In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear father, Henry Thomas Templeton, who departed this life November 27, 1912, aged 45 years.
Just as life's day was sweetest,
White flowers were laid on his breast.
Just as his hopes were brightest,
He was laid away for ever to rest,
Away in a lonely graveyard,
Resting in peace with God.
Inserted by his loving wife, Alice Templeton, and children, William, Mary, Eileen, and Harold.

THELWELL.—In loving memory of mother, who passed peacefully away, November 27, 1911, aged 78 years. Remembered always by her loving daughter, May.

TOWNSEND.—In loving remembrance of my loving mother, Alice, who died November 27, 1902.
I loved you in life;
You are dear to me still.
Inserted by Daisy.

WARK.—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mary Ann Wark, who departed this life November 27, 1912. Inserted by her loving son, F. H. Wark.

WARK.—In loving memory of my dear sister, Mary Ann Wark, who departed this life November 27, 1912. Inserted by her loving sister and brother-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. J. Maroe.

WARK.—In loving memory of our dear friend, Mrs. Wark, who died November 27, 1912. Gone, but not forgotten. Inserted by her loving friends, Mr. and Mrs. King, and Mollie.

WATTS.—In loving memory of our dear grandson and nephew, William George, died November 27, 1912, aged 2 years 7 months; also our dear only daughter and sister, Florence May, who died November 2, 1910.
A painful shock, a dreadful blow;
This parting had to come.
Inserted by her parents and grandparents, and Mary Griggs.

WENDEN.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, Eustace Henry Wenden, who passed away on November 27, 1912. Inserted by his loving wife, Amy G. Wenden.

WILLIAMS.—In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Emma Williams, who departed this life November 27, 1911. Inserted by her loving father and mother, brother, and sisters, J. Reilly and family.

"GIVE US YOUR POLICY."

What the electors of New South Wales are immediately concerned with is a policy for the future. It has been necessary, no doubt, for Liberal candidates to attack Labour legislation and administration, and to show that a continuance along the lines indicated by Mr. Holman and his colleagues must inevitably lead to disaster. Thoughtful men and women throughout the State must make up their minds upon this issue, and it has needed to be thoroughly discussed from both sides. Moreover, it is the business of the Opposition to criticise and attack. Its role is offence, and not defence. Yet back of everything in the public mind is the future and what is to happen if the Liberals are returned to power. "Give us your policy" is, therefore, a pertinent reminder offered as often as not by friends as by foes of Liberal candidates. Especially is it representative of the main thought in the mind of the balancing voter. To him, indeed, is the principal appeal being made by spokesmen of party organisations everywhere; since upon the elector with his mind not quite made up may be said to hang the fate of parties for the next three years. That this is the truth may be seen from the attention paid to Mr. Robson by the large audience which filled the Ashfield Town Hall on Monday night. The Liberal candidate's speech on this occasion was almost wholly devoted to policy. Very little time was given to the flogging of past issues, and none at all to personalities. "Here is the position, and this is what we propose to do about it" in effect declared Mr. Robson, and almost at once he set about expounding the policy laid down last month at Chatswood by Mr. Wade. This is the proper line to pursue, in our opinion, where the ground has been properly prepared; and both city and country will attend and be interested when commonsense and sound business acumen are seen to be uppermost in dealing with the future. It is, after all, a business proposition. We all know that at bottom things are thoroughly sound.

Perhaps one point of Mr. Robson's speech deserves emphasis here. He held that the country was sick of legislation, and inferentially condemned the Labour appeal for a further lease of power because of the number of measures it had passed. A point was made in this connection of Sir Henry Parkes's view that "one good measure in a session was quite sufficient." But the real hit came when it was contended that "the country required sound, honest, and economical administration of the Public departments." Administration, and not legislation, may well be advanced as the core of Liberal policy, because infinite good or endless harm may be done if Parliament appreciates or ignores the fact that a bad law advertises itself as such, while evil administration runs under cover, and is only revealed after much suffering. Yet legislation must have its place, and Liberal policy to-day undoubtedly is strong in the determination to rectify wrongs, and to insist upon clearing the way for closer land settlement and for private enterprise. There is room for reform in the State electoral system, and for the restoration of the postal vote. Taxation ought not to be increased, but reduced, since we should keep our reserves for times of stress, instead of trenching upon them as Mr. Holman proposes, when things are well with us. A land settlement policy must be coupled with railway construction, and with vigorous assistance to immigration. This is again going to the heart of the country's needs, and Mr. Wade has spoken with no uncertain sound as to the party's intentions should Liberalism prove victorious on December 6. Decentralisation comes into the programme in this connection, with an extension of agricultural colleges and experiment farms. Water conservation and irrigation also figure therein, but Liberal policy has already been proved and found sufficient in this connection by the foundations laid with Barren Jack and Yanco. We are quite sure that Mr. Robson's expansion of his leader's speech at Chatswood has struck the right note at the present moment. The electors are anxious that the coming Parliament shall be made up of sober, sensible men, who will give sound administration its chance, and who will legislate for safety and fair play. To this end they want Liberal candidates to show that a policy exists to secure these essentials, and as thought for the public weal is allowed to get the better of personal feeling Liberalism will secure its majority.

NEW HEBRIDES AND THE COLONIAL OFFICE.

Mr. Glynn has made it clear that the interests and views of Australia with regard to the future government of the New Hebrides have been and will be fully represented to the Imperial Government. We are glad that this is the case, for, whilst the immediate decision which has to be taken is of great importance, a general principle is involved in connection with Imperial organisation to which Mr. Glynn referred in the House of Representatives yesterday. It was of the utmost consequence that an emphatic presentation of the Australian case with regard to the New Hebrides should have been made without delay, because there was some ground for the fear that British interests in the islands might have received less consideration in the forthcoming negotiations with the French Government than should be the case, and that the Imperial authorities might have acquiesced in an even greater hold by the French on the group than they now possess. According to the despatch which the Minister read yesterday, cession to France is now definitely ruled out as an impossible solution. Its adoption would, indeed, have been received with a storm of protest throughout the Commonwealth. The New Hebrides, as Mr. Glynn pointed out, possess a strategic position towards Australia, which will be enhanced in importance and danger with the opening of the Panama Canal.

But, quite apart from this aspect of the problem, any new scheme for the administration of the islands which would give a larger share of control to the French authorities would be regarded in Australia as calculated to intensify rather than remove the difficulties and evils which now obtain. For the trouble seems to be that, although the Joint Court may pronounce judgment, its decrees are often rendered nugatory by non-enforcement or extreme leniency on the part of the French authorities in the infliction of penalties. It has, moreover, been the pride of British rule in the dependencies of the Empire that its treatment of the native populations was inspired by a benevolent and sincere desire to safeguard their interests, and protect them from oppression and exploitation. The scandals with regard to the recruiting of natives, the supply of intoxicating liquor, and the cruelty which apparently is permitted almost with impunity, must be radically altered in the future, whatever else is done. Mr. Glynn raised the general question of consultation by the Colonial Office with the Dominion in matters of this kind affecting territories situated in close proximity to them. This is a subject of which more will be heard in the future. In the past there has been far too much communication of decisions arrived at rather than consultation beforehand. Lord Emmott's recent personal conversations with Ministers in both Australia and New Zealand ensured that the old order of things would not be repeated in this instance. We are glad, at all events, for whatever reason, that this is not so, and we look forward with confidence to a firm demand being made by the Imperial authorities that some system shall be devised whereby the objects sought to be gained by the Condominium established six years ago shall be more effectively obtained.

SHORTAGE OF WATER.

Every summer the problem of water-shortage seems to become more and more acute, and this year the crisis has begun early. On the evidence an extraordinary state of affairs has developed in the northern suburbs. We have become accustomed to having gardens ruined owing to water-supply being withdrawn just when it is most needed; but except in case of accident to a main, we do not remember any previous occasion when domestic service has absolutely failed as it appears to have been doing of late in the suburbs referred to. It is no reply to the charge of defective supply that the consumption has been phenomenal. Water is not a luxury; in such a climate as ours it is one of the necessaries of life, and while waste ought to be avoided, the supply should be adequate for all purposes. Apparently it is admitted, in the case of the Northern Suburbs at least, that little has been done to foresee, and cope with, the enormous increase in consumption. The extraordinary growth of these suburbs during the last few years has been so marked that it must have been obvious that a scheme laid down a good while ago would be quite inadequate for the needs of the immediate future, and the only real solution of the difficulty lies in the duplication of mains and in providing a more effective reticulation. The problem is no easy one; but it is perfectly useless to try to avoid it, and, if past progress is any guide to the future, unless active and immediate steps are taken to increase supplies North Sydney will one of these years suffer all the horrors of a water famine. Shortage and inconvenience are bad enough, but they are only an index as to what is likely to happen when a drought period goes hand in hand with a huge and unanticipated growth in consumption.

Various explanations of the present shortage are put forward. Apparently each authority is anxious to shift the responsibility on to some one else. There is partial truth in some of these suggestions, but the root of the whole question lies in an increase of both water pressure and water volume; especially as the higher localities are in any case bound to go short if the pressure in the mains is allowed to fall; unless, indeed, local reservoirs are put in on the heights of the new suburbs, and kept filled by pumping through a rising main. Meanwhile the residents are being severely penalised, and with the prohibition of the use of sprinklers their carefully-cultivated garden plots will soon become a series of little deserts, and these suburbs will lose one of their greatest charms. No doubt, the use of water for garden purposes largely accounts for the greater consumption in North Sydney as against the thickly-housed and practically gardenless suburbs on the south side of the harbour. But it must be remembered that those residents who try (in much adversity) to maintain a garden do so at their own expense. They are willing to pay for the water they use, and presumedly most of them would not wish to pay for more than they actually require. It is, therefore, the plain duty of any board governing public utilities to see to it that it is prepared to meet whatever demands are made upon it. Any lack of foresight or of initiative is bound to cause inconvenience, and is likely to end by causing disaster to many innocent persons, and there is no excuse for allowing water supply to fall into any such condition. The available catchment areas would readily supply a city four times the size of this city, and it is a very simple engineering proposition to bring this supply to its point of application. The only real trouble lies in not looking far enough ahead. As the president of the board himself remarked, provision had been made for a five per cent. increase in population, whereas the actual increase had been double that. In those few words lies the whole story. To misjudge such an increase once is, perhaps, pardonable; to misjudge it twice would be little less than a crime.

THE EMBARGO REMOVED.

The removal of the embargo has for some time been the subject of representations and exhortations and petitions, and at last it is an accomplished fact. For almost five months Sydney has been under a kind of hygienic ban, but to-day it is free once again, and we are at liberty to resume our normal relations with our neighbours. It may be said, in passing that had our Parliament been bold enough to introduce and carry a compulsory vaccination bill as a non-party measure, this blessed consummation might have been realised long ago. However, it is no use crying over spilt milk, and we can congratulate ourselves upon our release, even if it has been unduly deferred. The Commonwealth Government has not given us complete freedom even yet, but it was obviously impossible to do this until we had a clean bill of health, and the sporadic cases which continue to appear show that precautions are still necessary. The new regulations seem reasonable enough. They combine the maximum of protection to the rest of Australia with the minimum of interference with the ordinary routine of interstate communication. The actual task of dealing with patients and contacts has been put in the hands of the State authorities, who will follow similar methods to those which have hitherto been in vogue. No one can quarrel with this, nor with the provision that any traveller from New South Wales who becomes ill within a stated period must report the matter to the local health officers. The duty of his medical adviser, not to mention his own public spirit, would ensure this in any case. The old regulations still hold with regard to travellers to Western Australia and Tasmania, and though some may consider them irksome, one can hardly cavil at this safeguard. These two States are only approachable by sea, hence quarantine restrictions are capable of being made effective, and the inconvenience caused is a small matter compared to the immunity gained thereby.

We have no doubt that New South Wales will abide loyally by the compact. Our health authorities can be relied upon to deal with any lingering phases of the epidemic; our travellers, in the improbable event of any of them proving belated victims, will at once report the fact. The Commonwealth will have no reason to regret its action, while we in Sydney will have every reason to rejoice in the removal of the embargo. The extent to which it has affected business in the city is well known. Why it should have done so is less clear. Of course, one can understand that if a visit to Sydney from another State involved the necessity of vaccination, there were bound to be many who from fear, or prejudice, or conviction, or a natural desire to avoid an unpleasant operation, preferred to stay away. These considerations, however, apply to persons, not to goods, and yet it is just in its commercial relations with the country that Sydney has felt the effects of the epidemic most. The country apparently feared that bacilli might lurk in every box, and that a harmless packet might be a centre of infection. In Sydney we scarcely realise how very real this apprehension was. We never worried about this sort of thing but the country came to the sincere, if groundless, conclusion that trade with Sydney was fraught with dangerous possibilities, and any business man can tell of the loss which this exaggerated idea of the risk brought in its train. The fact that Sydney was officially quarantined was responsible for these spectres which the imagination of the timorous invoked, and now that the embargo has been withdrawn we may hope for a renewal of confidence. It comes none too soon. Five months is a long time, and many a concern has cause to rue the day when Sydney had perforce to hoist the yellow flag as her civic standard. However, it might have been worse, for our release comes in time for the activities of Christmas, and we hope that an exceptionally brisk season will enable Sydney's commerce to recover some of its lost ground.

FARMERS AND CONFERENCE.

We do not greatly wonder that the associations of farmers in the various States showed such aversion to the idea of meeting the rural workers in a compulsory conference to be called by the President of the Commonwealth Arbitration Court. Before anyone who follows another calling attempts to criticise them, let him remember that the farming industry is different from almost any other in Australia in this respect, that the farmer has to get his trade in the merciless competition of the whole world. It is all very well for an employer or employee in some city manufacturing industry or in a local company to ask why the farmer cannot meet the other side in the same way as other employers have done. A local company may meet the demands of its employees with considerable confidence because if the worst comes to the worst and it has to grant the whole of them, it can pass the whole cost quite impartially on to the public. The Australian manufacturer can make the public pay for the privileges which he grants to his employees because the tariff forces the public to buy his goods. If expenses rise so far that the limit of the tariff begins to be reached, he simply agitates for the tariff to be raised also.

The Australian Parliament has given the manufacturer and others ample protection, and, on the whole, they can afford to be generous behind that protection. But no law that Parliament can pass can protect the farmer, because it is not the Australian who fixes the price of his goods or buys the great bulk of them. The farmer and the wool-grower sell their goods to people who are not affected in the least by any law of Australian Parliaments; and any wealth which Australia obtains from other nations—any increment of wealth which comes to the Australian nation from outside—is won for it solely by its primary producers. To use a mechanical metaphor, the farmers and wool-growers are the bearing edge upon which the whole prosperity of our industrial system rests. They have to endure the friction, the grinding remorseless friction, against the solid surface of the outside world. The other industries of Australia rest comfortably enough upon this basis; but it would be in the last degree dangerous if we ever forget that in our basic industries this competition does exist. The wool-grower, on the whole has a fair margin to work with. His business is on a larger scale, and if he has had to meet large demands from shearers in the past, he, at any rate, has been better able to grant them. But it is within the knowledge of everyone that the average farmer has a margin all too small to come and go on. The profits which he expects to make in a good season like the present one are only too certainly balanced by the luck of other years. It is not contended that the conditions of rural workers and especially the provision of homes and accommodation for them are all that they ought to be in Australia. The President of the Arbitration Court has decided that the conference is not to be held, as there is no prospect of agreement, but it is to be hoped that no steps will be taken which would damage the farm worker as seriously as the farmer. It is only a question of a year or two, perhaps of months, before those conditions can assuredly be settled in the Arbitration Court. And in an industry like this one, whose profits rest on so sensitive a foundation as the markets of the world, the most careful deliberation, and not a crude industrial warfare, is the means by which such questions ought to be settled.

Contract and Day Labour.—Mr. Wade was asked at his meeting at Dubbo if he was in favour of the construction of the Dubbo-Werris Creek line by day labour or contract. "I believe," answered Mr. Wade, "that the cheapest, best, and most effective way is undoubtedly by contract." Loud cheers greeted the statement. A Voice: And the next best is day labour under Liberal rule. Mr. Wade: Quite so.

No-License Campaign.—"It is the volunteer spirit underlying the no-license movement that makes it such a power," said Mr. James Marion last night. "In one electorate we have a hundred canvassers. We have 20 able platform speakers, who are delivering regular addresses without one penny of cost to the alliance. The continuance party, on the other hand, has not held any public meetings, and this is being regarded by the public as evidence of a weak case. Even in such places as Botany, Leichhardt, and Newtown we are steadily gaining ground, owing to the efforts of voluntary workers. We recognise," he continued, "that the vote of the moderate drinker will largely influence the poll, and we are receiving gratifying assurance that a large vote is going our way. Then, again, many clergymen who have hitherto held aloof from doubts as to the value of no-license, are now among our most zealous workers. We anticipate a record poll, and are confident of a considerable advance on the results of the last poll."

A Strike Story.—Speaking at Singleton in support of the candidature of Mr. James Fallick, a pathetic story of the Brisbane strike was told by Mr. W. M. Fleming, M.P. During the Federal elections, he said, one of the Liberal candidates got into a train at a little wayside station in Queensland, and, as is very often done, got into the van with the guard. The night officer of the station came along, and said the Labour candidate asked could he also go into the van. "No," said the guard, "you must find room in one of the carriages." After the train started the Liberal candidate asked the guard why he would not allow the Labour candidate in. Was he afraid they would fight? According to the guard's reply, that had nothing to do with it; but the guard told how the Brisbane strike affected him. "My little girl was ill," he said, "and we rang up for a doctor; but he replied that the strikers had a cordon round his house, which was picketed, and it was as much as his life was worth to try to come. My little girl died, and no Labour candidate will ride in my car again."

Lost Ticket Found.—A young woman travelled from Sydney to Bathurst on Sunday night, and on arrival at Bathurst could not find her railway ticket. She stated that she had lost it. The railway officers were sceptical. The woman was handed over to the custody of Senior-Constable Cole. At the police court on Tuesday accused pleaded not guilty to a charge of travelling without a ticket. After evidence for the prosecution, she declined to give evidence, stating that she was not guilty. "I will take gaol if I am sentenced," she said. Accused then fumbled in her bag, and the ticket dropped out of her bank-book. The Bench, about to impose sentence, looked astonished, and discharged the woman.

Slipped Under the Door.—An extraordinary discovery has been made at the Bendigo sub-Treasury (telegraphs our Melbourne correspondent) by a locksmith who had been engaged to repair the lock of the front door, which, when opened, fits into a recess in the wall. Over thirty documents were found behind the door, including cheques and bills, many of them dating back eleven years. Some of the cheques were for rent due to the Government, and others were for work done for churches. It is thought that the documents had been slipped under the door by messenger boys, and had been forced back out of sight when the door was opened. The public have been notified not to place any more communications under the door, but to use the letter-box always.

Roses at Centennial Park.—The rose garden of Centennial Park was completed about eighteen months ago, and reflects the highest credit on Mr. Dawes and his staff. Comparisons are proverbially odious, but I know nothing in Australia to approach the beauty of this rose garden (writes Mr. J. H. Maiden). It is laid out in beds and borders interspersed with broad grass paths 9ft. wide. In the centre path is a pavilion of wood trellis, 18ft. in diameter, 18ft. to apex of roof, octagon shape, with four wide entrances, and is furnished with charming seats of old English design. Leading up to and away from this are 18 arches set 12ft apart, linked together with iron festoons covered with roses. This forms a delightful pergola, with the ornamental lake and island in the perspective. Around the sidewalks are similar arches, while three sides of the garden are protected by wooden trellises 7ft high, ornamented on top with iron arches. The arches and trellises are furnished principally with climbing roses of the Polyantha class, such varieties as Flower of Fairfield, Dorothy Perkins (pink and white), Delight, American Pillar, and Ramblers in variety are now remarkably fine, notwithstanding the plague of thrips which roses in general have suffered from this season. The beds are planted with the best sorts of hybrid teas and hybrid perpetuals, about 2000 plants, in something like 500 varieties.

Early History.—A lecture was delivered at the Pioneers' Club on Tuesday by Mr. George Forbes on early Sydney. On the screen were shown views of the infant colony, of the Tank Stream, of the first Government-house, and of many of the early governors and pioneers who did their share towards the development of the young colony. The record of these pioneers was briefly traced. Allusion was made to Governor Macquarie the great road-maker; Bass, Flinders, Mitchell, and Sturt, the explorers; Wentworth the Australian patriot; Governor Bourke, the wise and able administrator; Sir Francis Forbes, the sterling Chief Justice, who upheld the rights of the people in the face of a tyrannous Governor; Dr. Bland, the veteran statesman; and Donaldson, the first Premier of the colony under responsible government. Among the interesting incidents referred to in the lecture were the early famine of 1790, which threatened disaster to the infant colony; the capture of Arabanoo, the first native to make the acquaintance of the white men; the spearing of Governor Phillip at Manly; the jubilation in the port and building of batteries at the mouth of Sydney Cove consequent on the news of the war with Spain in 1791; the taking of the aboriginal Benalong to England with Governor Phillip, and his immediate return to the bush on coming back to the colony; the coming of the Scottish martyrs; the establishment of the first printing press in Sydney, the deposition of Governor Bligh; Ralph Darling's reign of terror, the wild jubilations and bonfires which celebrated his recall; the opening of the first theatre, and the granting of responsible government to the colony.

The Bass Season.—It would seem from an official report furnished by the Superintendent of Fishery Investigation with regard to his recent visit to the Hunter River, that the Australian bass close season in that water which extended from May 1 to October 31 last, has been productive of much good. Anglers are applying themselves with zest to the capture of fish of this species with excellent results, it being by no means an uncommon practice for parties to spend the whole night at this, their favourite pastime. Some of the more prominent anglers of West Maitland gave their assurance that a great increase of small fry of the Australian bass is noticeable this season.

DIVIDED BOERS.

CONCILIATION V. RACIAL HATRED.

BOTHA AND HERTZOG.

"Imperialism is important to me only when it is useful to South Africa, to its land, and to its people, and when it is not serviceable I have respect for it from a distance; but as a South African I have little to do with it, and when it is contrary to the interests of South Africa and the interests of the people of the country, then I am a distinct enemy of Imperialism."

This extract from a speech delivered by General Hertzog at Rustenberg, in the Transvaal, last year typifies the attitude of the leader of the Dutch racialists in South Africa, which has now forced a crisis in the Nationalist party, and may bring about the break-up of the present Government.

A cartoonist, in a Dutch newspaper published in Capetown, pictured the shade of Paul Kruger looking down upon the figure of General Botha, who wears the uniform of a British general, and saying "Louis Botha, a British General! All is not well!" This undoubtedly expresses the innermost feelings of a considerable section of the Dutch population, who have not forgotten the old hatreds and animosities, and, whilst they are quite content to accept a situation which involves a life of peace, and not of war or preparation for war, do not understand a citizenship which has an outlook wider than South Africa.

"I am a Minister of South Africa, and not of the Empire," exclaimed General Hertzog, whilst he was still a member of General Botha's Cabinet. His utterance embodies the view point of a large section of his fellow-citizens. For the average Boer, who has been brought up on the veldt, cares nothing and knows little about any other part of the world but South Africa. For him there is no "mother country" taking his land, with many others comprising her fruitful offspring, into her tender embraces. The expectation that this attitude would disappear or would be smothered by the advent to power of General Botha as the first Prime Minister of a united South Africa has now been shown to be an illusion, and General Hertzog has undoubtedly given expression to feelings which are widely shared by the Dutch section of the population.

ANTI-IMPERIALISM.

General de Wet, who has been mentioned in the cables as a supporter of General Hertzog, has more than once given expression to anti-Imperialist views. For instance, at a meeting of protest held in Pretoria against Hertzog's "expulsion," shortly after the resignation of the Prime Minister, General de Wet made his famous "dunghill" speech.

"I am proud to be here," he said, "in the circumstances in which we are assembled, and I am happier on this dunghill in the midst of my own people than I would be on the most glittering platform amongst strangers. If ever there was a time when it behoves the Afrikander people to be calm and deliberate in their actions the time is the present. I am not telling you to go home and rest content in the circumstances which have arisen; that would be a poor part for Afrikanders to play. On the contrary, you must be resolute in your demand that General Hertzog shall be restored to the position in which you placed him. For he was not placed in the position by the Ministry, but by the people themselves. . . . . . General Hertzog, the fact remains, is the only man in the late Cabinet who has, through thick and thin, represented the people of the country, and he has been removed. I say, if you leave General Hertzog in the lurch at the present time, you will leave youselves in the lurch."

THE REAL DIFFERENCE.

But perhaps the most striking explanation of the spirit of the extreme Afrikander section in South Africa was the speech made by General Hertzog immediately after General Botha's announcement that he could not serve longer with his colleague. "I will tell you," he said, "where the real difference lies between myself and General Botha. I have said, and will continue to say it, that I am not going to lay the children and the interests of South Africa on the altar of Moloch, and if egoism and envy desire that the Dutch-speaking South Africans shall always make sacrifices to the English-speaking South Africans to secure true conciliation, then I say the South African is not ripe for conciliation, and I for one refuse to bring one child to the altar. I want conciliation. I desire unity; but unity of heart. I do not want to bribe anyone for that conciliation. But the people of South Africa feel indignant, the Dutch-speaking people more especially, because they feel that the interests of the Dutch-speaking people are being paid away as bribes, in order to obtain this conciliation."

AN IRISH PARTY.

General Botha defended the retention of General Hertzog in the Cabinet on the ground that he did not want an "Irish party" in the Union Parliament, perpetually acting as a thorn in the side of the Government. He preferred that the discordant element should be represented inside the Cabinet rather than outside, for it could be more effectively controlled there. He discovered ultimately that he had made a mistake. "The Government seemed to speak with two voices," he said with regard to the policy of racial conciliation which the Government defended. "In these circumstances it was impossible for me to continue as head of the Government, and as General Hertzog was not prepared to resign, nothing else remained for me but to dissolve the Government by my own resignation."

BOTHA'S IMPERIALISM.

General Botha has shown himself, in spite of much temporisation, to be the stalwart champion of co-operation amongst the races of South Africa for common ends and their joint heritage. "To-day," as a well-informed South African writer recently remarked "among those who hold the Imperial ideal, among those who, without being Imperialists, believe that the Kruger tradition—as it brought on the Anglo-Boer war—would also involve South Africa in ruinous racial enmities, the name of General Botha stands for resistance (though only at long last) to that tradition, even if it does not stand—and how could it fairly be expected to do so?—for whole-hearted championship of the Imperial ideal. To say even that is to say much to the credit of General Botha as head of the first South African Cabinet. His difficulties must have been very great. And nothing perhaps has done so much to make his critics realise those difficulties as his final determination to refuse to tolerate General Hertzog any longer as a member of the Cabinet over which he presided."

PERSONAL.

Sir George Reid was entertained at dinner by the University Club last night. He will be the guest of the Union Club to-night.

Sir George Reid will deliver a special lecture in the Town Hall on December 18, under the auspices of the New South Wales Debating Societies' Union and the Shakespeare Tercentenary Memorial Fund Committee. The Chief Justice, Sir William Cullen, who is president of the Shakespeare Memorial Fund, is to be asked to preside. At a meeting of the Debating Societies' Union last night it was decided to present Sir George Reid with an address.

The Agent-General for Western Australia, Sir Newton Moore, has been reappointed for another term.

The principal Melbourne hospitals and the University of Melbourne will benefit very largely under the will of the late Sir Samuel Gillott, he having left practically the whole of his estate, subject to the life interest of Lady Gillott and some legacies, to those institutions. The total value of the estate has not yet been ascertained, but it was estimated by Sir Samuel Gillott himself some time ago at something approaching £300,000.

Mr. C. H. Knowles, head of the Department of Agriculture in Fiji, was a passenger by the Tofua, which arrived from the islands yesterday.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

LIBERAL V. LABOUR.

"The Labour party cannot claim a monopoly of humanitarian legislation," said Mr. Wade at Dubbo on Tuesday night. And he quoted the achievements of the Liberal party in this connection.

* * *

The plain truth is that we are living in a humanitarian age. Beneficial social and industrial legislation is nowadays to be found in all civilised countries. Labour does not rule in the United Kingdom, but we find measures providing for national insurance, the compensation of injured workmen, and pensions for the aged introduced in the Mother of Parliaments. So also in Germany and other countries. So in New Zealand. It is the spirit of the time.

* * *

The great political parties of the world include in their ranks men whose sympathies are just as much with the workers as are those of Labour members of Parliament. There is Mr. John Burns, for instance. But there is this great difference between them: On the one side we have men who represent all classes, and endeavour to do the fair thing by all; on the other side we have those who represent Labour only, and forget that it takes all classes to make a world.

* * *

It is a truism that labour and capital are dependent one upon the other. What sort of a party, then, is it that, whilst claiming to represent Labour, cries "Down with the capitalist"? The Labour party, as we know it in New South Wales, is a misnomer. No party whose policy drives capital out of the country can be truly said to be the friend of Labour.

* * *

With the return of the Liberal party to power we may expect to see a return of the money formerly available for investment here, and with the dropping of wild-cat socialistic schemes we may expect to see private enterprise once more launching out without fear of Government competition. Kill private enterprise—kill the incentive to individual effort—and you kill all progress. Kill the right to own the freehold of his land, and you kill the incentive to the farmer. The State as landlord is no more attractive to the man on the land than is the owning of his holding by a private landlord. Every man his own landlord is the ideal of the farmer, and it is an ideal that will make a great State.

* * *

But Mr. Holman and his colleagues, and the P.L.L., from which body they take their orders, say—"Let the State own all the land, as it owns the railways, and let it make everybody's bricks and everybody's lime, and everybody's timber—and everything else. Let us have four hours' work and eight hours' sleep, and twelve hours' recreation. Let us all have union wages, and no bosses, and let us all be brothers and lie down in ease. Let us all do alike and think alike."

* * *

They tried it in Paraguay with their delightful "New Australia." But a Napoleon rose up, and they had a fight. They have tried it elsewhere. Upton Sinclair tried it in America; but some hitherto mute, inglorious Milton ventured to make a few remarks about man being born to trouble as the sparks fly upward, and jealousies and bickerings arose. And here we have Mr. Holman wanting to introduce the famous scheme in N. S. Wales. If ever the time came when some mad-brained gentleman in our socialistic State wanted to take a referendum on some important question and disturb the general peace, one supposes that Mr. Holman would wipe the dust of the place off his feet and take a boat to London.

* * *

The only people who have ever made a success of socialism are the dark-skinned races of the earth, like the natives of the Solomon Islands, who live on bananas and cocoanuts. But even with them the sweetness of doing nothing sometimes palls, and to end the monotony they go out and kill their brothers and take their scalps.

* * *

It is gratifying, however, to have Mr. Cann's assurance that even if socialism does come in our time we shall still be able to raise a loan when money gets scarce. Replying to Mr. Waddell's warning that the State's credit is on the verge of collapse, Mr. Cann says: "It is not a matter of whether we can raise a loan or not, it is a matter of whether we will pay the price demanded for the money. We have only to pay the price and we can get it." We have been extending our socialistic enterprises, and the money market has been rising all the time, but we have paid the price and got the money. And if we go on extending in this direction we have only got to pay the price and we can get the money—unless, of course, the time should ever come when money would be priceless.

* * *

O tempora, O mores! Speaking at Mittagong in August last, Sir William M[illegible] announced that if beaten in the Liberal selection for Wollondilly he would not stand for any other constituency. After the selection of Mr. Badgery, he said: "I have since it avoided any course that would injuriously affect the general interests of the party. I complied with the discipline of the party, went up for selection, and was beaten. In all matters I have acted as a loyal party man. . . . My defeat and other circumstances, to which I shall not refer, seem proof to me that the Liberal party does not desire my services, and as I am not of the make of an independent member, I see no alternative except to bow to the party's decision."

* * *

A significant letter from "Loyalist":—"It does not follow that because I am a supporter of the Labour movement I am going to cast a vote to keep Messrs. Holman and Griffith in office, as I have good warrant for not doing so. The last Labour conference turned the personnel of the present Ministry down. The opinion of conference is, or should be, paramount. The Labour movement, too, should stand for equity and justice, as did Magna Charta in England. I would ask all the members of our P.L.L's., more particularly the Annandale branch, what have the present men done? They have been in office three years, constantly engaged in the powers of administration, to say nothing of their legislative achievements. As to the former, I hope the largest number will agree with me that the administration has been atrocious: whilst as to the latter, perhaps Dacryville and the Hundred Rocks can be pointed to as models of the efforts by Labour Ministers to ameliorate the conditions of mankind. It is not a question for our leagues at present to say 'the Liberals are no better.' If the 'Unjust Man' can be found in the personnel of the Labour Ministry I say blot him out. Then the time may come when the same principle may have to be applied to the Liberals. The Labour movement is sure to suffer by blindly voting for a Ministry that has been condemned."

* * *

From "General Division":—"As 'Fairplay' wants to know, he should be informed that the Liberal Government has never in the past prevented Civil Servants from filling positions at elections, but the Labour Government (Treasury Department) has shown that it is not in sympathy with the poorly paid employees of the Government Printing Office. On last Federal election day a number of them obtained leave for the Saturday morning off, the time to be taken from annual leave owing, but this most sympathetic Labour Government docked them a full day's pay for three and a half hours' leave of absence; whilst the Attorney-General's Department of well-paid officers were paid for their day. Mr. Cann might explain why the poorly paid should be treated differently from the well paid."

CUSTOMS PROSECUTION FAILS.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The third trial of Henry Edward Holring, formerly official interpreter to the Customs Department, on a charge of conspiring to procure the unlawful admission of Chinese into the Commonwealth, was concluded in the Criminal Court to-day. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and accused was discharged.

INDIAN STRIKE.

FURTHER RIOTING.

POLICE FIRE VOLLEYS.

TWO KILLED, TWELVE WOUNDED

DURBAN, Nov. 26.

A detachment of police went to Hawksworth Estate yesterday to collect the cane knives from the Indians, but the latter refused to give them up, and attacked the police with knives, sticks, and stones.

During the attack two native constables and one European were wounded with cane knives.

The police remained passive for an hour under a fusillade of stones and rail-bolts. At last they were ordered to fire a volley over the heads of the Indians; this produced no effect, so another volley was fired, this time at the feet of the strikers. Then a third was fired in earnest, and two Indians, including the ringleader, were killed outright, two were fatally wounded, and 10 were slightly wounded.

A crop of sugar-cane was set on fire on an estate near Isipingo, but the flames were extinguished by native police.

Albert West, acting editor of an Indian vernacular journal, has been arrested on a charge of harbouring indentured immigrants on a farm owned by the newspaper at Phoenix.

The Natal Indian Association alleges that a number of Indians were terrorised and threatened with beatings unless they resumed work, and they fled to the farm for protection.

The Natal Labour Federation last night agreed to a resolution calling upon the Government to repatriate, and adequately compensate, the Indian workers, whose presence, it was claimed, was inimical to the interests of the white workers of Natal.

THE LATEST REPORT.

DURBAN, Nov. 26, 12.5 p.m.

In all 1200 Indians resumed work on the Natal sugar estates this morning.

Everything is quiet at Pietermaritzburg, but the feeling of uneasiness in regard to the strike continues in Zululand.

UNION GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

Reuter's Agency states that official circles regard General Botha's statement as a sound and fair exposition of the case. The situation is recognised to be full of difficulties, but it does not call for Imperial interference in the affairs of a self-governing dominion.

It is felt that the real need is moderation, as both sides, from their own viewpoints, are in the right.

The late Mr. A. Fischer, South African Minister for the Interior, saw Lord Crewe, Secretary of State for India, and Mr. Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, on his recent visit to England, and he stated publicly that a modus vivendi was possible if the Indians would be more moderate.

On the other hand, the Indians declare that General Smuts, South African Minister for Finance and Defence, promised that the law would be amended, and the fact that this promise had not been redeemed had given the excuse for the strike. Mr. Fiaschi made it clear to the Imperial authorities that the Viceroy of India's suggested inquiry would be regarded as an unwelcome interference in the internal affairs of South Africa.

EXCITEMENT IN INDIA.

BOMBAY, Nov. 26.

A statement has been published here that Indians have been sjamboked on the Ballengeich mine, in Natal, after stoning the manager.

There is renewed excitement since the publication of the speech delivered by General Botha at the Nationalist Congress, and the attitude of the South African Prime Minister is strongly resented. Surprise is expressed at the inaction of the Imperial Government, and the query is heard frequently, "Why cannot the Emperor protect his Indian subjects?"

MINISTERS AND VICEROY.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M.P., in a speech at the West Indian Club last night, commented on the memorandum of Lord Hardinge to Lord Crewe, Secretary of State for India, in regard to the treatment of Indians in South Africa, and declared that his experience had shown him that every Dominion Minister was prepared to accept the advice of and even to be overruled by capable Colonial Secretaries, but he was certain that they would sooner leave the Empire than take orders from a Viceroy, however eminent or well intentioned.

OBITUARY.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

The death is announced of Sir Robert Ball, Director of Astronomy and Geometry, Cambridge University, and ex-president of the Astronomical Society.

RUSSIAN METHODS.

TORTURE OF PRISONERS.

INTERNATIONAL PROTEST.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

A protest against the torture of political prisoners in Russia is being published throughout Europe.

Among those who have signed the protest are Lord Lytton, Mr. Josiah C. Wedgwood, M.P., Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, M.P., Sir A. Conan Doyle, Mr. H. G. Wells, Mr. J. K. Jerome, Mr. Maurice H. Hewlett, Mr. Laurence S. B. Irving, Professor J. B. Bury, Professor George Gilbert Murray, and many well-known people abroad.

It declares that since 1905, when the Czar promised the liberty of the Russian people, 27,000 have been imprisoned and 3000 executed, while starvation and treatment of the most barbarous description had made the prisons a hell.

The allegation is made that the sum of 2½d daily, which is allowed for food, is in most cases pocketed by the officials. Prisoners are packed in overcrowded dirty rooms, devoid of the simplest hygienic equipment, and are almost deprived of medical assistance. They are consequently the victims of all kinds of epidemics, and many have committed suicide.

Tens of thousands have been deported to Siberia without trial, and many of them have perished through lack of food, clothing, and housing.

HOME RULE.

THE ULSTER PROBLEM.

A SIGNIFICANT INCIDENT.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The Unionist newspapers comment on the fact that Mr. Austen Chamberlain (Unionist) is accompanying Mr. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, aboard the Admiralty yacht, Enchantress, from Plymouth to Portsmouth.

Both hold similar ideas of solving the Irish question on federal lines.

NO CABINET DISSENSION.

Mr. A. Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech at Bristol last night, denied the reports of dissensions in the Cabinet. They were not so pedantic as to swear by every letter of the Home Rule Bill, and they were prepared to make substantial alterations and modifications without departing from the principle of Irish self-government.

"IRISH VOLUNTEERS."

Turbulent scenes were witnessed at a meeting in Dublin last night to establish an Irish volunteer corps. A number of Larkinites interrupted the meeting, and students created something of a panic by discharging fireworks.

During the evening several windows were smashed, the doors were rushed, and some revolver shots were fired.

Many volunteers were enrolled.

SYNOD RESOLUTIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The Primate of Ireland has received the resolution passed by the Anglican Synod in Sydney in regard to Home Rule.

The resolutions referred to were carried at the Sydney Diocesan Synod on Friday, October 3, 1913, and are as follows:—

That this Synod of the Diocese of Sydney, representing nearly 50 per cent. of the inhabitants of the diocese, hereby re-affirms its solemn protest against the attempt to force Home Rule upon the unwilling Protestants of Ireland, as calculated to result in the gravest hardships to a community which has always been characterised by loyalty to the Crown, and as involving ominous possibilities of Civil War, that it also commends the cause of its Irish brethren to Him who judgeth righteously, and calls upon all members of the Church of England to make prayer without ceasing unto God on their behalf.

Further, that this synod requests the chairman to forward the foregoing resolution to the Prime Minister of the Imperial Parliament, and to the Primate of all Ireland.

MEXICAN TURMOIL.

FIERCE REBEL METHODS.

EXECUTION OF OFFICERS.

EL PASO (Texas), Nov. 26.

The Federals, near Juarez, after heavy fighting, have retreated.

Many fell into the hands of the Constitutionalists, who executed them mercilessly. Fifty of them were shot without the semblance of a trial. Only two of the officers who have been captured since the Constitutionalists began fighting have been spared. One was a son of a Constitutionalist officer, who pleaded with his General to spare the lad's life; and the other showed that he had been impressed forcibly into the service of the Federals.

AMERICAN SOCIETY WEDDING.

MISS WILSON MARRIED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.

Miss Jessie Wilson and Mr. Francis Sayre were married at the White House yesterday, the ceremony being simple yet dignified. The Rev. Sylvester Beach, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Princeton, New Jersey, officiated, the ceremony taking place in the East Room.

Miss Margaret Wilson, eldest daughter of the President, acted as maid of honour. The Corps Diplomatique attended in full uniform, and Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, a Labrador missionary, was the groomsman.

The factory workers in New York sent the bride a handsome present in acknowledgment of her interest in the amelioration of the conditions of workers in the large cities in which she lived for some years as a settlement worker.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with point lace and orange blossoms, with court train. The bridesmaids wore pink charmeuse, with silver lace tunics and pink moire hats.

After the wedding an informal dance was held at the White House, when the tango and other American dances were performed.

GAOL-BREAKING PLOT.

STINIE MORRISON CONCERNED.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

Yesterday the warders at Parkhurst Prison noticed Stinie Morrison, who is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life for the Clapham Common murder, put something into his mouth. They seized him, and extracted a piece of chewed paper.

An examination of his cell disclosed pieces of brown paper, on which were detailed an elaborate plot to escape. The details included an explosion in the prison wall.

Extra night guards have now been placed outside the gaol.

It is further stated that Morrison some time ago adopted a hunger strike, and was placed in irons owing to his refractory conduct.

DETERMINED SUFFRAGISTS

REFUSAL TO PAY TAXES.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

In order to enforce distraint for the non-payment of taxes, a bailiff and policemen used a battering ram to force an entrance into a large residence occupied by Mrs. Harvey, a leading suffragist in Bromley, Kent, who, with Mrs. Despart, was besieged for two hours.

DUBLIN STRIKE.

LARKIN'S CAMPAIGN.

ATTACK ON UNION LEADERS.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

Larkin, the Dublin strike leader, in a speech at Sheffield yesterday, stated that he had never asked the union leaders to declare a general strike, but he emphasised that no unionist should "scab" on other unionists.

He violently attacked the union leaders in Britain, dubbing them "penny plain and two-penny-coloured fools, who masqueraded as leaders." Some of them, he said, had denounced him and had written to the Dublin employers offering to find the men.

Mr. Ashton, secretary of the British Miners' Federation, has issued a statement advising Larkin to "drop the fiery cross" and to use his influence to secure a settlement in Dublin.

RAILWAY PRECAUTIONS.

AISGILL DISASTER.

BOARD OF TRADE INQUIRY.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

The report of Major J. W. Pringle, Inspecting Officer of Railways to the Board of Trade, on the recent railway collision at Aisgill, states that the disaster was due to the neglect of Caudle, the driver of the Midland express, in not observing the signals, and his subsequent carelessness and want of caution in running into the stationary train at Aisgill.

The report adds that Whitley, the guard of the stationary train, ought to have protected his train, and responsibility for the collision to a small extent rested with him for disregarding the rule of placing detonators in the rear of his train immediately it stopped.

Nicholson and Donnelly, driver and fireman of the stationary train, were also held responsible to the same extent for aiding and abetting him.

Major Pringle recommends the adoption of greater safeguards by means of detonators, and coloured flare lights, and the lighting of railway carriages by electricity, while the carriages should be constructed with steel underframes with buffers to absorb the shock of a collision, and the timber-work should be non-inflammable.

THE TERRITORIALS.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDATIONS.

LORD ROBERTS'S VIEW.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The report of the Council of the Territorial Associations refers to the lack of public spirit, inadequate remuneration, and difficulty in regard to the training period, as the main causes of the deficiency in the territorial establishment.

The council recommends personal allowances to cover pecuniary loss on the part of officers, with efficiency bounties for other ranks, and the adoption of a system of training in elementary schools continuing till the trainees are eligible to enter the Territorial force.

A deputation is to present the recommendations to the Prime Minister shortly.

Lord Roberts estimates that the council's scheme will cost an extra £1,680,000 if the Territorials are maintained at their full strength.

MOTOR CAR CASES.

A FURTHER ADJOURNMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

Ralph Millburn, Walter John Kemsley, Edward William Idle, and Bruce Anthony Cuthbertson appeared on remand in Bow-street Police Court to-day on an allegation that they conspired with Raymond Ewart Kemsley, William Crowle, Cecil Thomas Bray, Charles Brown Kellow, Isaac Phizackerley, and others, to defraud his Majesty's Customs of duty on motor cars, cycles, tyres, and accessories imported into Australia by means of false invoices and declarations.

The prosecution withdrew Mr. Shorland, manager for the Clement Talbot Company, from the witness-box, on Mr. Shorland stating that it would take several months to investigate and answer accurately the complicated questions put to him.

It was arranged that the witnesses in future should be supplied with written questions, and that they should be asked to reply in writing.

Messrs. Owens and Furmedge, Melbourne customs officers, gave evidence regarding documents which had been discovered in Australia, and the case was further adjourned until December 1.

TALLOW.

LONDON, Nov. 26, 1.30 p.m.

At to-day's tallow sales 1414 casks were offered and 1288 sold. Prices:—Mutton, fine 37/3, medium 34/9; beef, fine 35/9, medium 34/3.

IN THE SOLOMONS.

MAN STEALING.

STRANGE NATIVE CUSTOMS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hedley Abbott, who have been for the past ten years engaged in the South Sea Evangelical Mission, returned from the British Solomon Islands last week.

Mr. Abbott states that the natives of Malaita Island have been much quieter during the past two years. He attributed this to the influence of the mission extending mainly through native agency; the establishment of a Government station at Auki, with a deputy resident Commissioner; and to the stationing of the survey ship Sealark at Malaita. This had brought the Government into close touch with the people, and established friendly relations.

During the past two years Mr. and Mrs. Abbott have been working towards the eastern end of the island of San Christoval, or Makira, the most eastern of the Solomon Group. Mr. Abbott describes the people of Makira as not so warlike and treacherous as the Malaitians, although the place is not yet free from fighting. The people always go about fully armed with muskets, spears, clubs, and tomahawks. If an inter-tribal quarrel takes place there is much demonstration of fighting, but as the muskets are unloaded practically no damage is done. Should any member of an unfriendly tribe steal pigs or women, the owners and relatives go accompanied by a large armed party, and demand money in return, which is usually paid, and fighting averted.

Child-stealing and selling is frequently practised, as a ready sale is always possible. If a child dies, particularly an only son, the father seeks to purchase a child of the same age and sex to take its place in the family. Man-stealing is also indulged in. The men are bound and driven further inland, and sold. They are by no means regarded as slaves, but are often raised to the status of chief.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott have resigned from the Mission, and, after spending a few weeks in Sydney, intend to proceed to Melbourne.

JAPANESE ACTIVE.

TULAGI, Nov. 12.

The Japanese are directing their attention to the Solomon Islands, which offer no objection to the introduction of any race. The present objective is the exploitation of pearl shell. Three vessels manned by Japanese are now working in the group, the last to arrive being the French steamer Kone, from Noumea, with a number of Japanese divers and traders. The fact of the Government seizing the lugger Adele and fining the master £300 for a breach of the regulations, does not deter others, who now come openly and pay the license fees. Their trading operations are reported to be very profitable.

The slump in ivory nuts, one of the principal items of export, may induce the European traders to follow the lead of the Japanese, and work up the pearl-shell trade.

CITY FREE.

EMBARGO LIFTED.

THE PROCLAMATION.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The Federal Executive Council to-day revoked the proclamation declaring Sydney to be a quarantine area.

This afternoon a special gazette was issued, which set out:—

"Whereas, by a proclamation issued in pursuance of the Quarantine Act of 1908, it was declared that the area comprised within a radius of 15 miles from the General Post Office, Sydney, in the State of New South Wales, was infected with a quarantinable disease, smallpox, and was a place from or through which the said disease might be brought or carried to other parts of Australia, that such area should be a quarantine area, and that all the persons and goods in such area should be subject to quarantine, and whereas it is desirable to revoke the said proclamation now, therefore, I, Thomas Baron Denman, the Governor-General aforesaid, acting with the advice of the Federal Executive Council, do hereby revoke the said proclamation now, provided that the said proclamation shall not be deemed to be revoked in regard to its effect so far as any person leaving or having left the said quarantine area for the purpose of journeying to another State prior to the date of this proclamation."

The Prime Minister to-day despatched telegrams, acquainting all Premiers of the foregoing proclamation.

An important return with regard to the efficacy of vaccination has been prepared by Dr. Cumpston, the Federal Quarantine Director, from official information supplied by his quarantine officers in Sydney. A total of 1000 smallpox patients had been dealt with up to the time the return was prepared. Of these, 953, or 95.3 per cent., were unvaccinated prior to the incubation of the disease; while 43 others, or 4.7 per cent., had been vaccinated in infancy, or over 12 years ago. The statement contained the emphatic assertion that no person successfully vaccinated within recent years had been attacked by the disease. There were 132 persons, who had been in contact with smallpox patients who did not develop that disease. Of those, 22 had been successfully vaccinated for more than 10 years; while 91 others had been vaccinated near the time of their admission to the quarantine station. The remaining 19 contacts were found to be immune, as the vaccine did not react after two or three inoculations.

FIVE FRESH CASES.

Five fresh cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday. Three of these were females from the same street in Balmain. The other two were males, and came from Bankstown and Dunedoo.

The man from the latter place joined the train at Coolah, and came to Sydney in the same compartment with three other passengers. The Health Department is anxious to hear from these. Five contacts were also removed to quarantine.

The hospital at North Head now contains 61 patients, while 59 contacts are also detained in quarantine. There were 17 vaccinations yesterday.

NEW ZEALAND PASSENGERS.

For the present New Zealand passengers will require to conform to the old regulations, and produce certificates of successful vaccinations, or three unsuccessful vaccinations at the quarantine office, Customs-house, Circular Quay, where the clearance papers will be issued.

WATER FAMINE.

NORTHERN SUBURBS.

BOARD BLAMES SPRINKLERS.

Householders in the higher parts of the northern suburbs are again experiencing a water famine. A mere trickle issues from the pipes in some localities, many houses being without any supply whatever for hours at a time.

The new boosting plant, which is to be installed in a few weeks, will improve the service. Meanwhile the board has issued an edict against the use of sprinklers.

The matter was referred to at yesterday's meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board.

The president (Mr. Millner) stated that the consumption of the northern suburbs had increased by leaps and bounds, and it had become necessary to place some restriction on its use there. The northern suburbs consumed about eight million gallons of water per day, equivalent to 70 or 80 gallons per head, as against 50 gallons used on the southern side of the harbour. The drain on the reservoirs was so heavy that it was impossible to keep them up to the level required for adequate supplies. There was sufficient pumping power at Ryde, but the trouble was that they could not get the water to rise high enough to always give a full supply to Crow's Nest and Chatswood.

Alderman Barlow: Crow's Nest seems to be a sort of Cinderella.

The president, continuing, remarked that the only course to pursue would be to prohibit the use of sprinklers in the gardens on the northern side of the harbour. That did not mean that householders would not be allowed to use hose. But they could not allow sprinklers to be kept going all night long.

Alderman Evan Jones stated that he had seen sprinklers going from 7 p.m. till 7 a.m., and he agreed that they should be curtailed, if not stopped altogether.

Alderman Griffin thought that additional service reservoirs on the higher parts of the North Shore should be provided. He regretted that the people having gardens would have to go short of water, and pointed out that, while the average consumption in North Sydney was 30 gallons per head a day more than on the south side, still it must be recollected that in the city there were no, or few, private gardens. There was insufficient storage in the northern suburbs.

Alderman Leitch declared that the trouble was that North Sydney had developed faster than the board could cope with.

The president said that that was a fact. The restriction on the use of sprinklers would only last till the new "booster" plant, which would arrive in about a fortnight hence, was installed at Pipe Head. That should be in operation at the beginning of the New Year, and would increase the supply to the northern suburbs by several million gallons a day.

The recommendation to limit the use of sprinklers was agreed to.

Q.V. MARKETS.

COUNCIL MOVES AT LAST.

The finance committee of the City Council decided yesterday to recommend to the council that the whole of the Queen Victoria Markets building be remodelled with the exception of the basement, at an estimated cost of £14,720, and that tenders be invited for carrying out the work.

Ald. W. P. M'Elhone, chairman of the committee, stated that the present aggregate rentals from the building amounted to £17,727 per annum. It was estimated that the markets, when remodelled, would bring in an aggregate rental of £25,697. The position was that the council was now losing about £8000 a year. Under the new scheme it was believed that that loss would be reduced by £7000, which meant that the council would lose only £1000 a year, instead of £8000. It was possible that they might not even lose anything.

The sub-committee's report was adopted.

MISSING WOMAN.

DISAPPEARANCE IN SYDNEY.

A STRANGE LETTER.

Since Nobember 5 Miss Mona West, 21, of Goulburn, has not been heard of. She was staying with her uncle, Dr. A. Acland O'Hara, at 63 Bayswater-road, Darlinghurst.

On that date Miss West was to have returned home to Goulburn. She left Darlinghurst in the morning, to do some shopping. As she was leaving she told Miss O'Hara that she would be back for lunch.

That is the last intelligence of her.

Diligent search has been carried out by the police since.

It is rumoured that the relatives of Miss West are suffering much anxiety in consequence of the receipt of an anonymous letter some weeks back. This letter, the writing of which an expert has considered identical with that of Miss West herself, contained the disquieting information that the missing woman had been murdered.

A description of Miss Mona West is as follows:—Height 5ft 4in, medium build, very fair complexion, bronze hair, grey eyes, dark eyebrows, hair arranged close on head, and low on neck. She was dressed in a navy blue coat and skirt. She was very well educated, and of superior appearance.

CITY LOAN.

TO BUY A DESTRUCTOR.

The matter of the erection of another garbage destructor at Moore Park was yesterday considered by the finance committee of the City Council, which was asked to provide the necessary funds, estimated at £11,000.

The Treasurer (Mr. Solomon) reported that the money was not available from the city fund, but might be borrowed.

Alderman Hagon considered that this was a work for which the council would be justified in borrowing, as it vitally affected the sanitation of the city.

Alderman Richards thought that the remodelling of the present destructor would be practicable, thus rendering it unnecessary to put up a second one.

Alderman R. M'Elhone commented on the fact that the cost of destruction of garbage was less when the contractors ran the destructor on trial than it was when the council took it over. How was it that private enterprise could invariably get better results than the municipality?

It was decided to recommend to the council that the money required be raised on a loan, having a currency not exceeding 10 years.

RURAL WORKERS.

NO CONFERENCE.

MR. JUSTICE HIGGINS'S DECISION.

Mr. Justice Higgins has decided not to convene a compulsory conference between rural workers and employers. On October 18 an application was made to the President of the Federal Arbitration Court by the Australian Workers' Union, on behalf of their rural workers' section, for a compulsory conference. The application alleged that there was serious industrial unrest in the rural industries in New South Wales, and that the trouble would be likely to extend to Victoria, South Australia, Queensland, and Tasmania as soon as harvesting commenced.

The application was for a friendly conference under the Act, where, if no final agreement could be reached, an arrangement could still be made to tide over the coming harvest.

The President gave the matter anxious consideration, but before calling the conference and putting the employers to the trouble and inconvenience of attending a conference, his Honor instructed the Registrar of the Court to consult with the representatives of the Farmers' Association to ascertain their views as to the prospects of a conference.

All the associations which have replied to the Registrar's communication are against the conference, and think it would serve no useful purpose. Some of these associations go so far as to request the President not to summon the conference.

In view of the replies received, it was evident that the conference would be likely to end in no agreement, even temporary, and as the employers' associations, or their responsible officers, believe that the conference would not be for their benefit, the President has decided to refuse to call a conference.

FORMING CAMPS.

WAGGA, Wednesday.

The farmers' trouble with the R.W.U. still continues. Seventeen men ceased work at Mr. Campbell's, Uranquinty, on Monday. Mr. Campbell has since signified his willingness to re-engage men at A.W.U. rates. It was also reported that nine out of 13 men employed at Grant's farm ceased work. In all about 40 men have reported themselves at the A.W.U. offices, Wagga, during the past two days. Camps are being formed at Culcairn and other places.

LABOUR AVAILABLE.

WAGGA, Wednesday.

So far none of the farmers in this district whose unionist harvest hands went out on strike have suffered any inconvenience. Four farmers whose hands knocked off on Saturday continued work full-handed on Monday morning. They say that other men are ready to take the places of the strikers.

NEW HEBRIDES.

GREAT BRITAIN APPROACHED

FEDERAL ACTION.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The Minister for External Affairs (Mr. Glynn) in the course of a lengthy statement in the House of Representatives, said the Commonwealth Government had done everything possible to place their views before the Imperial Government concerning the present position and future of the New Hebrides. In reply to their representations, the Secretary of State for the Colonies (Mr. Harcourt) had forwarded a despatch to the Governor-General (Lord Denman) stating:—"The Imperial Government are not considering any proposal for all of the New Hebrides to become a French possession."

The Commonwealth Government, Mr. Glynn went on, were still endeavouring to interpret the desires of Australia regarding the New Hebrides, and he thoroughly believed that before the Imperial Government took any step regarding possessions near Australia they would consult the Commonwealth Government. (Cheers.)

Regarding the conduct of the courts in the New Hebrides, he said the Joint Court had practically no power to enforce its own decisions, and the fines it was able to impose were utetrly inadequate for the punishment of many of the breaches of the convention. To fine a man a small sum for the indention of a wife without the permission of her husband was a serious matter, for it was a flagrant breach of the convention.

Recently the Commonwealth Government had indicated to the Imperial Government some of the established weaknesses of the convention, suggested remedies which he thought would protect the interests of Europeans and natives alike, and called attention to the desirableness of the colonial Government being consulted when it was proposed by the Imperial Government to pass legislation affecting islands near to Australia. (Cheers.)

THE STRIKE.

EIGHT BOATS IDLE IN SYDNEY.

BACK BROKEN IN THE DOMINION.

FARMERS GOING HOME.

The position at the Sydney wharfs continues serious, and no fewer than eight steamers are practically idle. Six of these belong to the Union Company, and two to Huddart, Parker. The latter company is not making any attempt to work its boats, and is simply awaiting the course of events.

The Union boats idle are the Manuka, the Makura, the Maheno, the Willochra, the Tofua, and the Karitane. The two Huddart, Parker boats are the Riverina and Ulimaroa.

Yesterday the clerks were engaged unloading the Makura and Willochra, but a stoppage is threatened there. It is estimated that three-quarters of the clerks about the wharfs belong to the Clerks' Union, and Mr. Duncan, secretary of the union, states that any action it takes will have the support of the Wharf-labourers' Union.

Last night a well-attended meeting of the wharf section of the Clerks' Union was held in the rooms of the Professional Musicians' Union. The following motion was carried:—That in view of the fact that, with the exception of the Wharf-labourers' Union, the unions immediately concerned are taking no action, this union is of the opinion that its members should continue to perform their usual duties, but should refuse to perform work others than of a clerical nature.

This resolution is to be conveyed to Mr. D. Mills, manager of the Union Company, and he will be asked that clerks in the employ of the company should not be asked to do wharf-labourers' work.

There was a notice posted up at the Union Company's office yesterday that the Maheno would sail for New Zealand to-day at 2 p.m. Most of the passengers who booked to sail by the Manuka on Saturday last took advantage of the opportunity to transfer to the Maheno, but there have been so many postponements, that it is a moot point whether the Maheno will get away. The difficulty lies with the seamen. Apparently they are determined to adhere to their resolution to re-engage on no Union boats. Those on board have given notice of their intention to resign, and it will be necessary to obtain another crew.

The Union Company's island boat Tofua arrived from Suva at 1.30 p.m. She berthed at the Druitt-street wharf, and a start was made unloading hay. About 20 tons were taken out by the wharf hands, but at 2 o'clock they ceased work, and nothing more was unloaded during the day. She has on board 28,000 bunches and 2500 cases of bananas. They are, of course, perishable, but the men will not handle them. The merchants, however, have decided to get them out somehow, rather than watch them rot, and they will probably do the unloading themselves. The postal officials took the mails away, and the crew handled the passengers' luggage.

The Karitane is still at the wharf, and yesterday afternoon saw the personal effects of the crew being removed from her. They gave the requisite 24 hours' notice, and were paid off.

The Manuka's mails were not transferred to the Maheno, but were despatched by the Zealandic, which boat took a record number of bags, 1179, away with her.

WHARF LABOURERS.

The wharf-labourers, at a meeting last night, decided not to depart from the attitude they have taken up. This means that none of the Union boats will be handled. The Tofua thus goes into the already long list of "black" boats. In the case of the Tofua, the merchants offered the wharf-labourers £100 as a bonus to make an exception in regard to her and unload the fruit, but the offer was not accepted. It is likely that the merchants concerned, who are largely Chinese, will endeavour to unload her to-day.

The company state that the Maheno will leave at 2 p.m. to-day. Yesterday there were volunteers to man the boat among the immigrants who came out by the Orama, en route for the Dominion, and who naturally are anxious to reach their new home. It is probable that the company has availed itself of the offer, as the Seamen's Union appear to be standing firm in their refusal.

Regarding the difficulties of immigrants, the company's officials state that those in straitened circumstances are being provided with berths on board the Manuka.

A delegate from the New Zealand Seamen's Union (Mr. Parry) is in Sydney. He spent a portion of yesterday with Mr. Cooper, general secretary of the Federated Seamen's Union, and Mr. Gibson, assistant secretary of the Victorian Seamen's Union. The result of the conference was not made public. Mr. Parry addressed the wharf-labourers last night. He said that the men were never more solid in the Dominion than at present, and that the general strike was not intended to last, but that it took place more as a protest against the employment of non-union labour and the use of the special police than for any other reason.

STRIKE'S BACK BROKEN.

FARMERS GOING HOME.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Wednesday.

All four chief ports in the Dominion are now working, Lyttelton, where trouble was feared, being among them. Sufficient protection is assured to the workers from the more violent of the watersiders. Ships in Auckland, Wellington, Dunedin, and Lyttelton are loading and discharging cargo. There is a feeling, even among the men on strike, that the back of the trouble has been broken.

In Wellington provision is made under the new union for the return to work of members of the old body. Some have already availed themselves of the opportunity. These have been described by the men holding out as members of the "strikers' intelligence department," who are working in order to obtain information at first-hand of what is actually being done. This may or may not be true, but there is no denying the fact that these men are doing satisfactory work at full rates, and as a body have given no cause for complaint as to their efficiency and energy.

The new union of Waterside Workers in Wellington now numbers nearly 1400 men. The more reliable and steadier of the old hands have now their last chance of returning to work before the balance of men required is made up from the country.

Lyttelton, Auckland, and Dunedin are now open as to the loading and discharging of ships. So far as the northern port is concerned, matters are so firmly re-established that the special constables are being reduced in strength, and men are returning in detachments to their farms. In Wellington the city hotels were reopened to-day.

On the West Coast the prospects of the coal-miners returning to work are not so bright. The authorities are now proceeding to enrol special constables for service on the West Coast, in order to prevent a repetition of the disorderly episodes which took place at the Brunner mine.

LABOUR MANIFESTO.

The executive of the Federation of Labour has issued a manifesto, in which it says the onus of the present strike does not rest upon the workers, but upon the shipping companies, particularly the Union Company, through their arrogant refusal to deal with the shipwrights in their efforts to adjust grievances. The shipwrights of Wellington asked for an alteration of their working conditions for the first time in 40 years. They were practically insulted by the shipping trust. It was only after this trouble arose that the Wellington Waterside Union held a meeting of members to discuss the situation.

LESSON OF THE STRIKE.

Answering a question in the House of Representatives, the Premier, Mr. Massey, said:—"The Government will ask Parliament to agree to legislation which, it is hoped, will prevent or discourage strikes or lockouts in future; but so far as the present strike is concerned, moderate counsels and wiser methods are now prevailing. There are strong indications that industrial peace will soon be restored. With an intimate knowledge of the difficulty, the Government does not consider at this stage the setting up of a tribunal as suggested would expedite a settlement, but that it might possibly have the opposite effect. Nearly a month ago the Government offered the principal parties to the dispute to appoint one or two Supreme Court Judges as arbitrators, but the offer was not accepted. The lesson of the strike is that while sane unionism is decidedly useful and worthy of encouragement, syndicalism and the doctrines of the I.W.W. are detrimental to the interests of all parties and all sections of the community.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Wednesday.

Emissaries from the Red Federation to the Australian workers will arrive in Sydney to-day. The mission will be to obtain money.

MAUNGANUI DELAYED.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Wednesday.

An unexpected hitch occurred this evening in connection with the sailing of the Maunganui for Lyttelton. Early in the evening the firemen came ashore, called out by the union. A crew was secured for the stokehold, but as they marched up the gangway the seamen came off. It is expected the Maunganui will get away late.

ALMOST NORMAL.

TRAM SERVICE RESUMED.

AUCKLAND, Wednesday.

Conditions in Auckland are almost normal. Trams are running the full service. The hotels will reopen to-morrow during restricted hours. A small sectional strike continues. The bricklayers have resumed work.

Work at the waterfront proceeds briskly. A number of farmers have returned to their homes. The defence committee is presenting the farmers with badges as mementoes of the strike.

IN THE DEPTHS.

HOME MISSION UNION.

ASPECTS AND NEEDS.

"Nobody seemed to care."

In the dim light of the guttering candle the horror of the filthy attic in which the dying girl lay seemed like an evil dream rather than an actual scene in Sydney in this year of grace, 1913. By what pitiful concatenation of weakness, ignorance, and folly the unhappy girl—she was in years little more than a child—had fallen to her present condition, it is idle to inquire. The human waste of which she afforded so grim and so commonplace an example is sufficient matter for reflection. Sitting beside the heap of grimy rags which served for a bed, the tired mission worker mechanically noted the sordid details with which his work had long familiarised him, the rotting paper hanging from the walls, the evil atmosphere, unrelieved by any adequate ventilation, the painful breathing of the girl, the harsh voices of two Chinese squabbling in the room below. A faint whisper reached him from the bed. He bent forward, and as the hollow eyes opened for a moment before the end, he caught the last feeble words:

"Nobody seemed to care."

Such is one side of the work done by the Home Mission Union, as related by the Rev. S. D. Yarrington and other speakers at an "at home" held yesterday at Bishopscourt, by the Archbishop and Mrs. Wright. No doubt the truth is, as Dr. Wright suggested, less that nobody cares than that few realise what the state of things is. Mr. Yarrington declared that there are thousands and thousands of men and women in the city mission zone alone, ill-adjusted units for whose inefficient labours neither the Trades Hall nor the Labour party can offer assistance, and who have at present no recourse but the philanthropic work of the Church and its instrument, the Home Mission. "The Bush Brotherhood," said the speaker in effect, "do a great work, but it must be remembered that for nine months of the year 75 per cent. of the shearers among whom they labour inhabit the area of the City Mission zone."

The Home Mission Union, for which yesterday earnest appeal for funds was made, is not confined to the city, neither has it, as some people have supposed, anything to do with sending mission funds "home" to England. The name means simply that the emissaries of the union go directly to the homes of those who need them, and the Rev. A. G. Perkins, rector of Nowra, showed clearly how much their work was needed in the scattered country districts. A more cheerful picture was drawn by the Rev. H. T. Holliday, rector of Bexley, who had recently visited Lord Howe Island on behalf of the mission, and who, in addition to baptising, had to vaccinate two youthful members of the little population of 108 persons. There is no regular clergyman at Lord Howe Island, and the only services are conducted by a lay-reader who is not licensed. The introduction of the tenets of the Seventh Day Adventists has recently created a spirit of bitter religious dissension, a fact regrettable in any case, and particularly where so small a community is concerned. Mr. Holliday described the island as a perfect Paradise, and the inhabitants as courteous, and hospitable, and his account of the birds, so tame, through continual kindness, that they perch upon the visitor's shoulder and flutter about his steps, recalls the stories of St. Francis and his "little brothers."

Among those present were Lady Simpson, Lady Barton, Mrs. H. E. Barff, Canon and Mrs. Flower, Miss Joan Newton, secretary of the Ladies' Home Mission Union, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. G. Eagp, Miss Milner Stephen, and Mrs. James Ashton. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

R.M.S. ORAMA.

AGROUND NEAR BRISBANE.

BRISBANE, Thursday Morning.

The Orient Royal Mail liner Orama, outward bound, went aground in the Bay, near Bribie Island, at a late hour to-night.

Attempts to refloat the vessel proving unavailing, arrangements have been made for the despatch of tugs from Brisbane to the scene of the stranding.

FIRES IN WEST.

CROPS MENACED.

GULARGAMBONE, Wednesday.

Bush fires are raging in many parts of the district. Owing to the dry nature of the grass and the crops, which are being harvested, it is difficult to check the course of the fires. It is feared that much damage will be done through the fires occurring at a period when so much is at stake.

UPPER HOUSE.

TO BE ENDED OR MENDED.

JUNEE, Wednesday.

The Premier was asked to-night at his meeting, if returned, would the Government take steps to end or mend the Legislative Council.

Mr. Holman: Certainly that shall be attempted. But the moment anything of the kind is attempted it must be left to the judgment of the Government of the day to exercise its own discretion as to the most effective way of starting so difficult a task. The necessity has never been overlooked for one moment. (Applause.)

THE DUEL.

PRIEST v. PREMIER.

BITTER ATTACK.

"ATTEMPTING BLACKMAIL."

BATHURST, Wednesday.

Mr. Holman's Gundagai speech drew further remarks from the Rev. M. J. O'Reilly to-night.

He said: "The Premier wanted to know why I stood up to him in his own electorate. I told him. He now wants to know why I came out at the eleventh hour. I hadn't found him out before. His 'private and confidential' circular opened my eyes.

"He wanted to muzzle the Catholic electors. Nothing more subversive of all the democratic ideas has been done in our time. I quite understand that the acceptance of a party platform is necessary for party discipline, but outside of the platform, which represents the party's objective, every man should be free. Otherwise no body of electors in the State could ever know whether their ideals commended themselves to the elected representatives, who alone could translate those ideals into statutes, and that was why I said at Cootamundra that it was not I who had deserted Labour, but Labour that had deserted the democratic ideal.

"POLITICAL BLACKMAIL."

"There is no use in Mr. Holman telling me what Labour is going to do. One thing apparently it will not do—answer his whip. I am entitled to count on our side, and against Mr. Holman, every Labour candidate who ignored his 'private and confidential' advice and answered the questions which the Federation addressed to them, and if it be tolerable for a selected Labour candidate, and even for a Labour Cabinet Minister, pledged to obedience to their chief, to flout that chief's authority, why am I to be called an assassin? I, who have sworn no fealty to any party. I am assured that only that I am a distinguished ecclesiastic I should fare far worse. My imagination reels at the possibilities of invective that I have escaped owing to his considering me a distinguished ecclesiastic.

"And I am further accused of political blackmail. I retort the odious charge on the Premier. It is he who is attempting blackmail, and here I must set the public right about the Bursaries Act. It is true that in the first instance, and for a period of six months, the Act provided that the school representatives should be nominated by the Government, but I presume that before doing so the Ministry made inquiries with a view to eliciting the preference of the schools interested. At any rate, on the expiry of that period I was elected to my present office by a vote of 20 to 2, and I now hold office not as a Government nominee, but as an elected representative of the registered schools. I am not an orator, as Mr. Holman is. I can imagine his eyes in a fine frenzy rolling as he told his constituents that rather than submit to blackmail he would relinquish his office and retire into private life. But I, too, have some little independence left, and if I thought for an instant that my political freedom was to be trammelled by accepting his nomination to the Bursaries Board, I would not have borne the degrading serfdom for a minute. To suggest that I am not perfectly free as it is, is political blackmail of the worst description.

NOT DESERTION OF LABOUR.

"But Mr. Holman is wanting in common honesty when he suggests that I have deserted Labour. I have deserted only the soi-disant friends of Labour who first deserted the cause of democracy. I would vote against no Labourite who was prepared to give the Catholics justice, and we ask for no more. I hope that the Catholics will turn down on December 6 any candidate who is weak-kneed enough to take shelter behind private and confidential circulars. I would far rather see a Protestant in office who stands for fair play than a Catholic who is a time server, and this shows how far removed I am from the spirit of sectarianism.

"The Catholic Federation has already scored a success beyond the wildest dreams of its promoters. It is only a few years ago since leading politicians attended or sent apologies for their absence from the annual saturnalia of the Orangemen. The best the latter can now do is to quote eight rather harmless declarations from which the dust of 10 years has just been cleaned. We can point to 130 answers given to our questions within a few weeks. Even the Premier, who privately and confidentially directed his supporters not to reply, gave his adhesion to four or five of our requests at Gundagai. The proximity of an election has a tendency to precipitate conclusions.

A CURE FOR POLITICIANS.

"He sneers at the possibility of our influence in the Bathurst election. Mr. Holman's private and confidential circular has lost it to Mr. Durack already, and if the whole election is lost to Labour the P.L.L. may well send the bill to the Premier.

"We are not afraid of the coming to power of the Liberals. Time and experience have chastened them, and they can read the signs of the times. It is true that they hold some sour bigots in their ranks, but there were a couple of such even in a Labour Cabinet, and we were never in doubt as to their complexion. The fact is that we are now able to look after ourselves politically, and we hold some remarkable recipes for the cure of politicians who will not play the game, but these are now a thin, red line of heroes, and we refuse to be terrified by such old men of the sea. Should they, however, give any trouble we will settle them with 'a private and confidential circular.'"

THE SEVEN QUESTIONS.

PREMIER'S ATTITUDE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

GUNDAGAI, Wednesday.

Referring to-day to the seven questions asked by the Catholic Federation, the Premier said that the one demanding the issue of free material to denominational schools clearly cut across the principle he had laid down not to subsidise denominational schools.

The proposal to appoint a Royal Commission to inquire into educational questions was quite harmless, he added, but absolutely useless so far as "our extremist Catholic friends are concerned." The appointment of a Royal Commission would mean nothing, promises nothing.

Mr. Holman said that the president of the Catholic Federation (Mr. Cleary) had come to him, and he had told him what the State would be justified in doing, and what it would not. He had definitely laid down the principle that the Government would not subsidise denominational schools. Apparently, when Mr. Cleary went away he was satisfied with the answer.

"It was my clear right, as leader of the party, to send out a circular to my colleagues and candidates, directing them not to pledge themselves upon this matter until they had had an opportunity of discussing it as a party and dealing with it as a whole," said the Premier. "If the Catholic Federation people want to understand the policy of the Government, it is their duty to come to the head of the Government. I am the spokesman of the party in dealing with outside bodies. Let them come to me and I will tell them, but don't let them pretend to come to me in order to set a trap for me, go behind my back, and endeavour to extort pledges from the members of my party and my candidates without stating that they have already been in negotiation with their chief. I regret to mention it, because I believe these interviews should be entirely confidential, but these gentlemen have abused me for sending a very proper circular to my colleagues, when the breach of faith was on their part, and on mine —in beginning negotiations with [illegible] and at a certain point dropping me and going behind my back to the individual [illegible]. If I had pointed out the breach of faith in that circular and denounced it, it would have been well within my rights."

PLANK 16.

WHAT IT MEANS TO THE FARMER.

SEIZING LAND VALUES.

Plank No. 16 of the general platform of the Political Labour League of New South Wales, vide page 9 of the official programme of the P.L.L., reads:—

"FRESH TAXATION.

"(16) Immediate assessment of the unimproved land values of the State and the enactment of legislation reserving all future increments to the State."

This plank was discussed yesterday by Mr. T. I. Campbell, general secretary of the Farmers and Settlers' Association of New South Wales. He said:—

"The effect of plank 16 will be to bring land nationalisation right to the forefront of Labour's policy. There is no occasion for any surprise that the Government and its advocates during the present political campaign have concealed this particular plank of the platform. Its effect is so patent that it would be suicidal for the Labour speakers to draw the attention of farmers to it. In the first place, they ask for the immediate assessment of all the unimproved land values of the State. This opens up the question of the class of valuer who will be appointed, and how many of them will be required. The necessity for reviewing this is clear to any thinking mind before any uniformity of valuation can be arrived at.

"But, assuming that the plank of the platform is put into operation as soon as the Labour Government gets sufficient power, the effect will bring home to the farmer his shortsightedness in supporting a party that has made no secret of its antagonism to individual ownership of land. Whenever the farmers of this State have been advised to beware of the attempts to pave the way for land nationalisation, the land nationalists have covered the advice with ridicule, and have attempted to assuage the fears of the farmers by telling them that there is no fear of any injustice being done to them by a Labour Administration. It will be clear, however, that such a position is only possible if the well-defined planks of the Labour platform are ignored; and we have had quite sufficient experiences in this country to convince anybody that it is impossible for a Labour Administration to ignore either Labour's platforms or conference instructions.

"As far back as October 15, 1912, Mr. Griffith introduced a bill to Parliament with the object of determining values in respect of all lands, and the outline of the bill was to make these values the basis for shire taxation or resumptions by the Crown for all time. The bill further provided that any increase in value over that fixed by Mr. Griffith's valuers would go to the credit of the Treasury, and furnish the wherewithal for the multiplication of Mr. Griffith's socialistic schemes. I can imagine that legislation of this sort would quite meet with the approval of the Trades Hall, but its effect upon the farmer would be certainly demonstrated at the next opportunity of recording his vote.

"The simplest statement of the effect of such a proposal would be that, taking an area of land valued at £3 per acre, which, in the course of time, mainly because the efforts of the pioneers, increased to, say, £6, the only interest that the landowner would have in this piece of land would be £3. That is a simple sum which any farmer can work out for himself, and if he can reconcile that with a vote for the party which puts it forward, the responsibility must rest with himself."

B.M.A. DISPUTE.

GOVERNMENT TO INTERVENE

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

JUNEE, Wednesday.

At the conclusion of his speech to-night, Mr. Holman was asked would he, if returned to power, appoint a tribunal to arbitrate on the dispute between the British Medical Association and the friendly societies.

The Premier: I will promise that if we are returned that matter shall have our immediate attention; and steps, probably of the kind you suggest or of some similar kind, shall be taken to bring this dispute to an issue and settlement. The Government will certainly intervene.

REJECTED AT REDFERN.

At a special meeting of the Royal Oak Lodge, No. 1604, Redfern (the premier lodge of the Grand United Order of Oddfellows in New South Wales), held on Monday evening, to deal with the B.M.A. ultimatum, it was intimated that the whole of the medical officers had tendered their resignations, to take effect as from December 31 next, and asked to be reappointed under their model agreement.

In view of the increased cost of living, the branch offered to reappoint the medical officers under the old conditions, and grant an all-round increase of 3s per member per annum. The medical officers expressed regret that they could not accept, as the matter was one for the executive of the B.M.A.

It was unanimously resolved to accept the whole of the resignations, and that applications be invited through the daily press for qualified medical officers to take up the work under the old conditions.

REJECTED BY ODDFELLOWS.

MURRURUNDI, Wednesday.

At a largely attended meeting of the I.O.O.F. M.U., it was unanimously decided to reject the new British Medical Association's agreement, and terminate the present arrangements with the doctor at the end of December. The present fee is 30s a member a year. It was agreed to a conference of all Friendly Societies at Werris Creek, Quirindi, Murrurundi, Scone, and Muswellbrook, being arranged before further action is taken.

YOUNG BRIDE.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The papers dealing with the marriage statistics of Victoria for 1912 were laid on the table of the Legislative Assembly this afternoon. They show that a bride 14 years of age went to the altar, while seven brides were but 15 years of age, and 49 only 16 years. Four bridegrooms were only 16 years of age, while ten were 17, and 44 were a year older. The youngest widower married was 20. Two widows who had just attained their majority ventured into matrimony a second time.

Five couples over 80 years of age were married, the husbands in each instance being widowers. Of brides only one was a widow.

The marriages for the year number 11,738, which is a record for the State. In 1911 the number of marriages was 11,088.

EARTHQUAKES.

SUVA (Fiji), Nov. 19.

A severe earthquake was felt at Navua on Saturday, November 1. Earthquakes are a frequent occurrence in that district.

As the Atua passed Hunter Island on her voyage to Suva, the officers of the ship could easily see burning sulphur and signs of recent volcanic eruptions.

LIBEL ACTION.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The hearing of a claim for £1000 damages for libel, brought by Florence Mabel Webbe, of Myrniong, Busby-parade, Waverley, Sydney, a married woman, against Thomas Prosser, printer and publisher of the "Age" newspaper, was concluded before Judge Box and a jury of six in the County Court today.

The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for £400 damages, and judgment was entered for the plaintiff, with costs to be taxed. On the motion of counsel for defendant, a stay of 14 days was granted.

THE ALL BLACKS.

END OF THE TOUR.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25.

The New Zealand football team defeated a Vancouver fifteen by 44 points to nil. The weather was showery, the ground being soaked and heavy. There was a large attendance.

Mitchinson and McGregor each scored four tries, Roberts 2, and McKenzie and Stohr one each. Stohr converted four of the tries.

The New Zealanders led at half-time by 27 points to nil.

The combination of the Vancouver team was weak, but the New Zealanders' clever passing aroused great enthusiasm.

The manager of the New Zealanders, in an interview last night, stated that they were well satisfied with the results of the tour, which had been financially successful. He remarked that the United States players knew little about Rugby, but the British Columbians, despite their poor showing, were a much stronger aggregation. This was doubtless due to the fact that their players were, to a large extent, new arrivals from Britain.

It was proposed to entertain the visitors at a banquet, but this function was abandoned owing to the unfortunate death of Ogden, the Victorian full-back.

The New Zealanders are to sail for home in the steamer Niagara.

TURKISH POLICE METHODS.

DECEIVING A CONSUL.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 26.

Kavalky Mustapha, who was sentenced to death in contumaciam for the murder of Shefket Pasha, was recently arrested aboard a Russian steamer, with the co-operation of the Russian Consul, who had apparently been misled by representations that Kavalky was an ordinary criminal.

The Russian Ambassador has now protested, and demands the return of the prisoner and the dismissal of Ayml [illegible], Prefect of Police, for deceiving the Consul.

AERONAUTICS.

LADY'S RECORD FLIGHT.

PARIS, Nov. 25.

Baroness De La Roche has made a new record for women by flying a distance of 203 miles.

ANOTHER FATALITY.

PARIS, Nov. 26.

M. Perreyon, who held the world's record for altitude flight, was experimenting with a new monoplane at Buc yesterday when he fell from a height of 50ft, and was crushed to death beneath the engine of the wrecked machine.

STAGE AND MORALITY.

OUTCRY AGAINST FRENCH FARCE.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

Following the protest in regard to the stage methods of Miss Gaby Deslys, an outcry has arisen against an adapted French farce, entitled, "Who's the Lady?" which is being performed at the Garrick Theatre. There is an active controversy in the newspapers on the "much undressing of the leading lady," and the Censor of Plays attends the theatre nightly.

Miss Gertrude Kingston, actress and proprietor of the Little Theatre, writes strongly upon the inefficiency of the censorship of plays in regard to the safeguarding of public morals.

EX-DICTATOR IN TROUBLE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.

The State Department has ordered the arrest of Don Jose Santos Zelaya, ex-Dictator of Nicaragua, if he is found on United States territory, on a charge of having assassinated two Nicaraguans.

This action on the part of the United States is the result of representations from the Nicaraguan Government under the special treaty governing the extradition of Nicaraguan criminals.

ESPIONAGE.

BERNE, Nov. 25.

The expulsion has been ordered of Captain Paul Larguier Menozze, lately attached to the French Ministry of War, who was arrested in Geneva, on a charge of espionage on behalf of the French Government to the detriment of Switzerland, Italy, and Germany.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, Nov. 26.

The North-eastern Railway Company has conceded a nine hours' working day for drivers and firemen, and guards of goods trains.

Reports have reached London that Mr. Bramwell Booth (General of the Salvation Army) and Mr. Ballington Booth have been reconciled after a separation extending over nearly 20 years.

The singular coincidence is noted of the wives of Sir Harold Tangye and his brother Wilfred having been simultaneously granted orders in the Divorce Court for the restitution of conjugal rights.

Frank Wootton, the ex-Sydney jockey, has undergone a successful operation for tonsilitis.

At an informal meeting of shareholders in the Great Cobar, Limited, yesterday, a resolution was agreed to condemning the manner in which the properties were being worked. A committee was appointed to consider what steps should be taken to secure a change in the directorate.

Messrs. Duveen, art dealers, have purchased Raphael's "Madonna" from Earl Cowper's collection. The National Gallery, owing to lack of funds, was unable to accept the first option. The price paid for the picture has not been divulged.

In connection with the notorious stolen necklace case, it is understood that Brandstatter and Quadranstein are to receive £9000 reward for the part they took in the recovery of the pearls, and Horne, the working man who picked up the necklace in the street, is to receive £500. The total cost to the underwriters (including £12,000, the value of the pearls still missing), is estimated at £30,000. The necklace was valued at £150,000, and was insured for the full amount.

It is announced that the disquieting reports from Canada regarding the state of the Duchess of Connaught's health, are unfounded.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.

In all 1400 German firms and corporations will take part in the forthcoming Panama Canal Exhibition at San Francisco. The steamship lines have undertaken to carry the exhibits free of charge. The national committee which has the matter in hand is to ask the Reichstag for a grant of £100,000.

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 26.

A young woman was found murdered in a garden last night. The body was so fiendishly mutilated as to recall the notorious "Jack the Ripper" crimes in England. It is thought that the deed was committed by natives at the instigation of a witch doctor.

THE LATE MR. FRAZER.

A GREAT CORTEGE.

SERVICE AT PARLIAMENT HOUSE.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The remains of the late Mr. Charles Edward Frazer, Federal member for Kalgoorlie, and Postmaster-General in the Fisher Ministry, were interred this morning at Melbourne cemetery.

A service was held in the Queen's Hall, Federal Parliament, at 11 o'clock. Canon Hughes officiated, and read a portion of the burial service. There was a large attendance, which included the widow and relatives of the late Mr. Frazer, the Governor-General, attended by Captain Burnham, the Prime Minister (Mr. Cook), the Leader of the Opposition (Mr. Fisher), and the members of both Houses of Parliament.

The widow occupied a chair beside the Minister. The coffin, which was of polished oak, stood on brass tressles in the centre of the Queen's Hall. Among those who sent wreaths were the relatives of the late Mr. Frazer, the Commonwealth Ministers and members of the Federal Parliament, Australian Labour party, Western Australian Government, Trades and Labour Council, Western Australian, and other trades unions, the secretary and staff of the Postmaster-General's Department, Parliamentary reporting staff, Mr. W. H. Kelly, M.P., and Victoria Club.

The pall-bearers were the Prime Minister (Mr. Cook), Mr. Fisher, Sir John Forrest, Senator Pearce, Mr. Thomas, and Mr. Agar Wynne.

The cortege, which left Federal Parliament House shortly after 11 o'clock, was about a quarter of a mile long. Crowds watched the procession through the city.

The interment took place in the presence of a large gathering of mourners.

SENATE'S TRIBUTE.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Senator Millen, when the Senate met this afternoon, moved,—"That the Senate places on record its high appreciation of the great public services of the late member for Kalgoorlie, Mr. C. E. Frazer, and tenders its sincere sympathy with the bereaved widow of an eminent citizen, whose untimely decease is a great loss to the Commonwealth." He said the late member possessed self-reliance, courage, capacity, and determination, characteristics which invariably marked men who had not only made themselves, but made Australia.

Senator M'Gregor seconded the motion, which was carried, the members standing.

On the motion of Senator Millen, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

CITY FIRE.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED.

FACTORY GUTTED.

Reid's box factory and timber yard, in Playfair-lane, city, were destroyed by a fire which broke out at about 6 o'clock last evening, and considerable damage was done to Harrington's photographic material factory, in the same lane, to which the fire extended; also to rear portions of nine tenement houses, and Playfair's stables, in Playfair-lane, which adjoined the box factory one the western side.

The fire first broke out in Reid's factory, and on the arrival of the brigade it was a mass of flames. A hydrant was used at the start, but soon four motor engines were pumping water on to the flames, which reached the backs of the houses and did a good deal of damage before being extinguished. The tenants of the houses, assisted by willing helpers, took their belongings into the street.

Harrington's factory was the next building to catch alight, and the first and second floors were soon ablaze, and it was only after a hard fight that the flames were subdued. Considerable damage was done to a portion of the contents of this building.

Playfair's stables, on the southern side of the box factory, were also in the zone of fire, and were a good deal damaged. A number of horses and vehicles were removed from there before the building caught alight.

The buildings destroyed and damaged were the property of the State Government, and are situated in the Rocks resumed area.

BATHURST CENTENARY.

A FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

BATHURST, Wednesday.

In the course of a statement to the press, Mr. J. Bain, hon. secretary of the recent centenary celebrations, stated that a profit of about £400 was expected. The receipts totalled about £1200, including the £190 handed over after the jubilee celebrations. The Wednesday's proceedings on the show ground returned £128. The sale of season tickets was not as large as last year, only £35 being netted, but this probably accounted for the increased gate money. Mr. Bain estimated the return from the turf club's meeting and the gun club's shoot at about £150, while the park gates and the refreshment stalls in the park would add £120 to the receipts. The total expenditure would be in the vicinity of £800.

Advices received locally state that Sir George Reid has definitely arranged to visit Bathurst.

BISHOP'S STRONG WORDS.

BOMBALA, Wednesday.

During his recent visit to this district, Bishop Barlow, the Anglican Bishop of Goulburn, said he did not wish to touch on party politics, but he could not refrain from expressing his disgust at the way the Bombala and Delegate districts were being treated in the matter of railway communication. For years, successive Governments had promised them the line, but got no further, and it was time all this humbug and twaddle ceased, and Bombala and Delegate were linked up with a railway.

"You have here," he said "a God-given district—one of the finest in Australia—with beautiful country everywhere lying idle, and I say, unhesitatingly, it is a standing disgrace to the authorities of this State that it has so long remained neglected and is pining away for the want of a few miles of railway."

WHALERS IDLE.

FACTORY SHIP HOMEWARD BOUND.

The whaling factory steamer Loch Tay, arrived here yesterday from Jervis Bay, for the purpose of bunkering and taking in stores prior to leaving on her homeward voyage.

The steamer has on board about 2500 tons of oil, which has been obtained from whales captured on the New South Wales and New Zealand coasts. As was previously stated, the industry has not proved very successful, and apparently does not warrant the employment of such a large and costly fleet as the Loch Tay and her attendant gunboats, the Sorrel, Lionel, and Campbell. It has, therefore, been decided to utilise the extra space on the homeward run by taking a port cargo of wheat, and, on leaving here early next week, the vessel will go to Port Adelaide, where she will proceed to load wheat. After she has discharged her wheat and oil cargoes at home, it is not considered likely that she will return to these waters.

The gunboats Sorrel, Lionel, and Campbell, are at present in port, and will lay up here pending the receipt of orders from the owners.

A WHITE ELEPHANT.

PESSIMISTIC POLITICIAN.

Speaking in the House of Representatives to-day, Mr. Dankel (S.A.), in referring to the Northern Territory, said it was the white elephant of Australia. It was a Molloch, into the throat of which the Commonwealth was shovelling its wealth without any prospect of return. He thought that no member or any right-thinking person really believed that the Territory would be a paying proposition in the lifetime of the youngest Australian living. The Territory was no place for bringing up children, and in those circumstances what was the use of attempting to settle the Territory with white people?

He thought the place should be developed from the south on the Barclay tablelands. There was the best breeding grounds for horses in Australia. Wheat could also be grown there. He would like to see the means provided for the people already there to come further south.

FEDERAL PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TELEPHONE LOSSES.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

In the House of Representatives to-day the Postmaster-General, Mr. Wynne, in reply to Mr. Livingstone, said the chief of the Radio Telegraph Department was now working on a plant in order to ascertain whether it was practicable to install small wireless stations over Australia. He thought there would be a considerable saving in expense if the scheme could be carried out.

The Postmaster-General informed Mr. Tudor (Victoria), that he was now busy ascertaining in what way the Postal Department could recoup themselves for the los of £220,000 sustained last year on telephones. The telephone instruments were patented, he informed Mr. Fenton (Vic.), and were not made in Australia.

Answering Mr. Bruce Smith (N.S.W.), the Prime Minister, Mr. Cook, said that work at the Kalgoorlie end of the trans-Australian railway was being carried out by day labour until other arrangements could be made. He hoped an alteration would be effected shortly.

SUPPLY.

The Treasurer, Sir John Forrest, moved for the month's supply totalling £767,143. He pointed out that the decrease in the revenue from the beginning of the financial year was £243,000. He thought, however, that the year would end much better than it had begun.

TOO MUCH DEFENCE.

Mr. Conroy (N.S.W.), claimed that too much money was being spent on military defence. A country could be as easily ruined with taxation as with war. The present defence of Australia was a sham. There was no need to train every boy 16 days a year. What should be done was to take one boy out of every twelve, and give them three months' steady training; then there would be a fine army, fit for everything.

Mr. Sharpe (Q.) criticised the proposed Postal expenditure, and said the Melbourne Telegraph Office was not fit for human habitation. (Laughter.)

Mr. Tudor (Vic.) pointed out that there was a loss of £407,000 last year on the workings of the Post Office, including interest on the properties. Of that sum £221,000 was lost on the telephone system. He advocated an increase in the telephone rates (Oh!) in city and country alike.

The Postmaster-General (Mr. Wynne): I am now busy getting a return, showing the proportionate loss on the telephone service of city and country. (Cheers.)

Mr. Tudor said he was anxious to know why last year there was such a great loss in New South Wales on the telephonic and telegraphic services, whilst there was a profit in Victoria. Under the present system about 2 per cent. of the community were enjoying postal privileges, and the other 98 per cent. were paying for them.

Mr. Riley (N.S.W.) thought the expense on the trainee system should be curtailed immediately. Australia was finding the cost too heavy, and should say so.

Mr. Finlayson (Q.) thought provision should be only made for one Chamber at Canberra in the Parliament building. He was in favour of abolishing every second Chamber.

The bill was introduced, and passed all stages. The House adjourned at 10.30.

THE SENATE.

In the Senate to-day the Norfolk Island Bill was read a first time. This was all the business done. The Senate adjourned for the day, as a mark of respect to the late Mr. Frazer.

DEATH OF MR. M. J. CONLON.

A WELL-KNOWN GLEBE IDENTITY.

OLD TIME BOWLER.

Mr. Michael Joseph Conlon, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the Glebe, died at his home, Carrara, Alexander-road, yesterday, aged 72 years.

"Mick" Conlon, as he was familiarly known to his friends, was born at Fairy Meadow, Wollongong, and during his early years lived in Parramatta-street, now George-street West, Sydney. On reaching manhood he established pottery works at Redfern, subsequently removing them to the Glebe, where he carried on a large business for over 30 years. He took an active interest in all public affairs in the Glebe municipality until he contracted rheumatic gout about 22 years ago. He was an alderman of the borough for many years, and on one or two occasions contested the electorate for Parliamentary honours, but without success, although he polled heavily. He was a staunch protectionist, and largely assisted the party both with voice and purse in the old days when the Parliamentary elections were fought out on the fiscal question. In his early days he was an amateur actor and singer. At the old Redfern Theatre, in 1862, he was associated with an amateur company, of which W. J. Holloway and Miss Maggie Oliver, who subsequently became professionals, were members. He witnessed from 1857 to 1900 every intercolonial cricket match played in Sydney. He belonged to a club called the "Cornstalk Stars," who, he used to say, "played on Hyde Park for half-a-crown a bat, and were never beaten." He was present at the dispute on the Domain in 1863, which resulted in disruption of the intercolonial matches for a time.

Outside of the Glebe it was as a bowler that the late Mr. Conlon was widely known, he having been, in his time, one of the best players in Australia. He was one of the first members of the Glebe Club, which had its quarters in Wentworth Park, and when that club passed out of existence he joined the Redfern Club as a life member. When the Glebe Club was established the only clubs in existence in the city and suburbs were Strathfield, City, Balmain, and Rosehill. He won the championship of the Redfern Club on two occasions, the champion of champions of New South Wales three times, the Glebe champion on several occasions, besides being a member of the intercolonial team several times. The last bowling match he played in was on Anniversary Day, 1900, in the single championship of New South Wales. He had previously won two rounds, and in his third engagement with the score at 11 to 2 in his favour he collapsed, and had never been able to play afterwards.

For the past 13 years he had been an invalid. He leaves three daughters surviving him, his wife and a son having predeceased him about 12 years ago.

A requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the deceased will be celebrated in St. James' Roman Catholic Church, Forest Lodge, at 8 a.m. to-day, and at 1 p.m. the funeral will leave for the mortuary station, thence to Rookwood.

LATE COL. LE MESURIER.

Regret was expressed on all sides at Victoria Barracks yesterday at the news of the death of Colonel Le Mesurier, military commandant in South Australia.

Born in Fremantle 57 years ago, Colonel Le Mesurier had practically reached the age limit, and was to have retired from the Commonwealth military forces next year. His early service was in New South Wales as an officer of the Royal Australian Artillery, and he filled all the positions in the artillery until he was appointed A.A.G. for Artillery in Melbourne. He went three times to South Africa during the Boer War. First was with the Imperial Bushmen, but he was invalided home, owing to a severe accident. He returned again to the front when recovered, and went a third time with one of the Australian Commonwealth mounted contingents. He filled the position of State Commandant in Western Australia and South Australia, and Quartermaster-General in New South Wales.

BURNED TO DEATH.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ellen Collins (31), who lived at Lower Ferntree Gully, was burned to death by her clothes catching fire, while standing near a stove in the kitchen. Her sister, in trying to smother the flames, was severely burned.

ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY.

The Sydney Amateur Orchestral Society closed their 22nd season at the Town Hall last night with a programme which included several new pieces, interest being focussed in this connection upon the first performance in Australia of George F. Boyle's "Concerto for Pianoforte and Orchestra." The young Sydney pianist and composer is far away at Baltimore, U.S.A., where he is on the staff of the Peabody Conservatorium, but the audience which assembled to hear his first concerto included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Boyle, sen., and scores of other musicians, as well as many old friends and admirers. Miss Edith Kilminster was the pianist, and Mr. Alfred Hill's anxious care as conductor carried the orchestra through their arduous task with considerable success under the circumstances. The brief but gloomy introduction, in which the doublebasses and horns first figure, gives its colour to much of the first movement, which seems to convey a bodeful presentiment, though the piano part, with its animation and energy, frequently dissipates this effect, and places the ensemble in a new light. The wood-wind scoring, in which the players made at least one ragged entrance, is particularly prominent, and always used with originality of effect, whilst the solo part is brilliantly elaborated. The second movement, an intermezzo which opened with a strong orchestral ensemble, followed by a solo theme of a rugged character, was distinguished by its northern atmosphere, and included some strangely beautiful passages for wood-wind, suggesting forest voices, whilst the whole work closed with a tremendous ensemble for the soloist and all concerned. There were dissonances in plenty, the composition being distinctly modern in form, full of varied interest, and composed so as to afford ample scope for the soloist. Miss Kilminster proved thoroughly at home in the music, and though an artist with a fiery bravura style was probably needed to realise the composer's conception in its entirety, yet the pianist played with feeling, animation, and technical skill. The merits of the work were recognised with enthusiasm on all sides.

The programme opened with the Beethoven "Symphony in C Minor" (No. 5, Op. 67), the interpretation of which lacked distinction of manner. However, this tendency to the matter-of-fact was avoided in the captivating "Andante con moto," in which the 'cellos and violas gave an admirable lead both as regards tone and expression. Indeed, all the players, with Mr. Cyril Monk as leader, proceed in sympathy with the stately charm of the movement. Mr. Hill here, as elsewhere, had occasional trouble with the wind section, arising from unevenness of tone. The prelude to the second part of Saint-Saens' Biblical drama "Le Deluge" proved one of the most enjoyable events of the evening. The opening fugue was quite fascinating in its dignified originality, and there was a beautiful (accompanied) solo for first violin, the plaintive charm of which was fully realised by Mr. Monk. Two of Charpentier's Tone-pictures, "At the Fountain" and "On the Mules," both marked by idyllic grace and rhythmic charm, were presented, for the first time by this orchestra, which closed the evening with the overture to "Le Nozze di Figaro."

Amongst the solo numbers the most important was an "Adagio," for violincello and orchestra, by a Polish composer named Seiss, which had not been heard here since the late Gerard Vollmar introduced it about 11 years ago. It is a very fine piece of sorrow-laden music, and was finely rendered by Mr. Bryce Carter. This artist's restrained pathos of expression was exactly right, whilst he lent his style readily to the warmth of an emotional climax, which he accentuated by the tenseness of his tone. The accompaniment was most acceptably subdued under Mr. Hill's baton. Mr. John M'Keown justified his appearance with this society. His voice has more power and resonance than before, so that he gave an acceptably dramatic interpretation (for platform purposes) of "Vesti la Giubba," the pathetic tenor aria from "I Pagliacci." Mr. Thos. Quinlan lent the orchestral parts, and the singer was well supported. Mr. M'Keown sang with charm a "Requiem" by the American composer, Sydney Homer, the verse by Robert Louis Stevenson, as well as Lohr's "The Roumanian Mountains." The encore was "A Lament" (Lambert), the piano accompaniment to which was expressively played by Miss Mirrie Solomon.

AMUSEMENTS.

MISS SARA COLLINS.

The annual recital by the students of Miss Sara Collins was given on Tuesday in St. James's Hall. The programme was of a fairly varied nature, but the greater part of the evening was occupied by three little plays, two of which come from the pen of Miss Collins herself—one a fairy story entitled "Molly's Dream," and the other a short comedy, by name "Brother Mine." The third, called "The Love Child," was a one-act drama by Mr. Frederic Ward, in which Miss Collins took the principal role, while that of the husband was acted by the author, whose appearance was due to the courtesy of Mr. Wilton Welch. Though somewhat sentimental in theme, the little play is well constructed, and was ably acted by all the characters. Miss Sybil Atholwood deserves praise for her impersonation of Prince Arthur in a scene from "King John," while a selection from "L'Aiglon" was spiritedly given by Miss Viola Cortese. Master Alfred Carpenter may also be noted as a promising elocutionist amid a programme which revealed a high standard throughout. Songs by Miss Mab Fotheringham and Mr. Sid L'Oudald, both of whom were deservedly encored, added to the interest of the entertainment. Mr. Stan Samuels tactfully performed the duties of accompanist.

Y.M.C.A. GLEE CLUB.

The Y.M.C.A. Glee Club gave their sixteenth concert yesterday evening before a fairly large audience. The principal event of the evening was the performance of Markull's well-known cantata "Roland's Horn," with Messrs. Bernard Amery and Stanley Leadley as soloists. The impression created by the glee party in their rendering of Alfred Wirth's ballad of the heroic adventures of Roland was pleasing to a certain degree. At times the chorus was excellent in the subtle nuances, and in other parts of the rendering they seemed to lose the significance of the ballad. As a matter of personal opinion we do not consider that the conductor, Mr. J. G. Cocks, helped his troup sufficiently in the use of light and shade. It is interesting to note that Friedrich Markull, who was born near Elbing, Prussia, in 1816, enjoyed an immense reputation as a pianist, and was almost as well known in that capacity as in that of a composer—not to mention his journalistic abilities as critic of the "Danziger Zeitung." The programme also included Gerrsheim's triumphant song "Salamis," in which the chorus was more pleasing. The assisting artists were Messrs. Harold Davidson, Stanley Leadley, B. Amery, Warrington Reynolds, and Miss Dagmar Thomson.

MISS LOTTIE GLENFIELD.

An entertainment of an unusually agreeable nature was a recital by Miss Lottie Glenfield, which took place last evening in the St. James's Hall. Miss Glenfield is an elocutionist of considerable powers, particularly where a certain infusion of humour is required, and in "Yes, Papa," "The Pudding," and a little comedy, entitled "Grandmother's Gown," which she shared with Mr. Harrison Allen, her success was indubitable. A scene from "As You Like It," in company with Mr. Morgan Shaw, "In an Indian Garden" (Sir Edwin Arnold), and "The Death of Sydney Carton" from "A Tale of Two Cities," her talents were also displayed to advantage, and indeed, encores followed her throughout the programme. Several well-merited encores were also accepted by Miss Dagmar Thomson, whose violin selections were executed alike with delicate expression and technical mastery, her double stopping being particularly effective. Songs by Mr. Cecil Sherwood, the effect of whose rich tenor is somewhat marred by unsympathetic interpretation, were also encored. The duties of accompanist were divided between Miss Pauline M'Quillen and Miss J. Sherwood.

At the meeting of the Dickens' Fellowship to-night at King's Hall, there will be recitations from "The Old Curiosity Shop," "Nicholas Nickleby," "Dombey and Son," "Pickwick Papers," and "David Copperfield." Musical monologues and songs form the rest of the programme, and those assisting are Misses M. Bloomfield, M. Cleland, Lottie Glenfield, M. Macnicol, Grace Stafford, Marjorie Warre, and Mr. A. R. Cattanach, and Mr. Charles Walshe.

The pupils of Mr. W. H. Lynch will give an invitation concert in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Bathurst-street, on Saturday next. The following artists will assist:—Misses Bessie Grace, Stella V. Kingsbury, Chrissie Booth, Dorothy Goodwin, and Mr. G. Vern Barnett. Mr. Lynch will sing.

Mr. Harry Thomas, assisted by his pupils, will give an elocutionary and dramatic recital in St. James' Hall on Saturday. Mr. Sid Macdonald and Mrs. Gibbons' orchestra will also assist. The plan is at the studio.

On Saturday afternoon, at Paling's Concert Hall (3 o'clock), Miss Rosamund Parker, pupil of Mr. S. Vost Janssen, will give an invitation violin recital. Misses Elsie Pidcock and Violet Prott and Mr. Arthur Pidcock will assist. Invitations at Paling's.

The pupils of Mr. Percy Herford will give an invitation concert in the Concordia Hall, Elizabeth-street, on Monday next, at 8 o'clock. They will be assisted by Miss Ivy Allen and Messrs. E. Wright and Warrington Reynolds. Mr. Herford will sing.

Miss Dora Hill's pupils will give a concert at the King's Hall next Monday evening. Assisting artists will include Misses Kathleen O'Connor, Dagmar Thomson, and Glenfield. Miss Dora Hill, who is leaving shortly for Germany, will herself appear on this occasion. The plan is at Paling's.

On Monday next, at St. James' Hall, a concert will be given in aid of the "Lady Edeline" Babies' Hospital, Greycliffe. The programme is being arranged by Mr. Sid Macdonald, and a number of leading artists will assist. The plan is at Paling's.

The pupils of Mr. Cyril Monk will give their sixth annual recital at St. James' Hall on Tuesday next. Invitation cards may be obtained at Nicholson's.

The Beale Musical Society will produce "A Runaway Girl" in St. George's Hall, Newtown, on Tuesday next and the following two nights. The proceeds are being devoted to a cot in the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children.

An elocutionary recital will be given by Miss Irene Yates at St. James' Hall on Wednesday, December 3. Misses Muriel Barton, Doris Williamson, Maggie Foster, Ivy Randell, and Mr. Sid Macdonald will assist. The plan is at Paling's.

Miss Ada Baker's pupils will give their quarterly concert at King's Hall on Thursday, December 4. Miss Maggie Foster (violiniste) and Mr. Harry Thomas will assist. The plan is at Paling's.

Miss Mary L. Macdonald's pupils will give their annual recital at St. James' Hall on Tuesday, December 9. The programme, to which Miss Macnicol herself will contribute, will include recitations, plays, and sketches.

Mr. Douglas Ancelon will produce a four-act Anglo-Australian comedy-drama, "The Girl with the Diamonds," by Clarence Lee, at the Repertory Theatre on December 10. A competent cast is being secured. The plan is at Paling's.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN POLITICS.

ADELAIDE, Wednesday.

The Legislative Council passed the Steam Boilers Bill, and agreed to the Assembly's amendments in the Mental Defectives Bill.

In the Assembly the Premier moved a vote of condolence concerning the death of the late Mr. Blacker, and the House adjourned out of respect to his memory.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands moved the second reading of the Railway Commission Bill, which, he explained, was to ensure more economical and effective administration and the safeguarding of the public. The debate was adjourned.

The Bush Fires Bill was passed through all its stages.

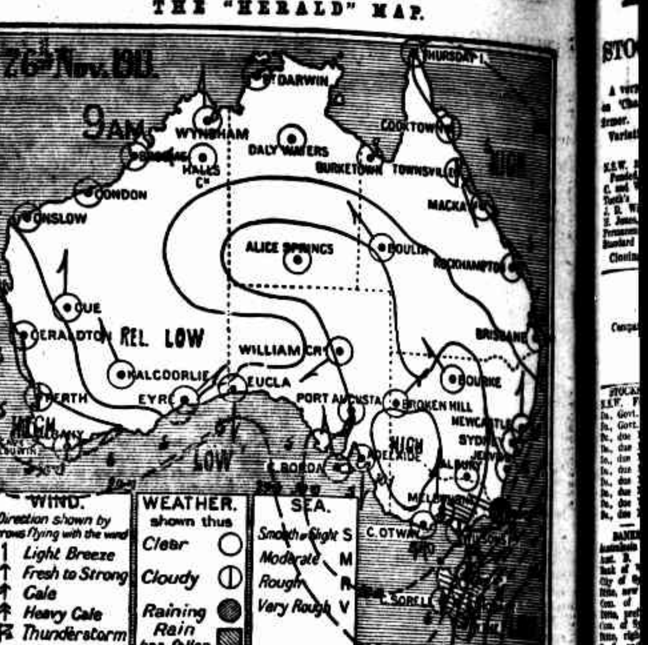

BITTEN BY SNAKE.

GRAFTON, Monday.

A 12-year-old boy named Shepherd, residing at Nana Glen, was bitten by a snake on the leg on Wednesday in the bush. His brother was with him, and they pluckily bound a boot lace above the wound, which they scarified with successful results.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP.

All the pressure systems shown on yesterday's chart have made easting, which amounts to about 500 miles, in each case.

At 9 a.m. yesterday the big disturbance, which for about a week now has been hovering about the Tasman Sea and the south-eastern corner of the continent, producing alternations of hot weather and cool southerly changes, is now shown in a complete form, as a cyclonic storm, east of a line joining Tasmania and Lord Howe Island. The centre, which is situated a little to the north of The Bluff (N.Z.), is 29.2 inches.

The presence of this extensive depression would be responsible for disturbed seas on our South Coast. As it moves farther eastward, however, north-easterly winds should replace the present west to southerlies over eastern districts.

The continental high, which on Tuesday occupied the greater part of Australia, has contracted somewhat, both on its northern and southern slopes; thus showing the encroachments of monsoonal and Antarctic influences, respectively in northern and southern areas of the continent.

The NE half of Queensland reports no data, so that the progress of the monsoonal inclinations there cannot be determined just now.

Ocean Forecast.—Smooth to moderate seas; heat wave advancing from the west, affecting South Australia, New South Wales, and Victoria.

CASUALTIES.

FATAL DIVE AT LA PEROUSE.

On Sunday, November 16, Charles John Johnson, 21, a carter, was bathing at Tarra Bay, La Perouse. He dived into shallow water, rose above the surface again, and then dropped limply back into the water. At the Coast Hospital Dr. Wallace found that Johnson had fractured his spine. He died five days later. Yesterday, at the inquest, the City Coroner recorded a finding of accidental death.

FATAL STEP FALLS.

At an inquest yesterday the City Coroner found that George V. B. Holden, 74, accidentally fell down some steps at 114 Pigott-street, Pyrmont, on November 22, and died in Prince Alfred Hospital from haemorrhage of the brain.

Martin Markham, 70, died in Sydney Hospital on November 19 from haemorrhage of the brain. Evidence at the City Coroner's Court yesterday revealed that he had accidentally fallen down a flight of stairs in South-street, Paddington, on November 14.

BURNED TO DEATH.

HOBART, Wednesday.

Jane Fraser (79), who lived alone in the bush near Sorrell, was found burned to death on Saturday. It appeared that the old woman had been just about to make a cup of tea, when her clothing caught fire.

BOY DROWNED.

PENRITH, Wednesday.

Mr. Arthur Judges, district coroner, opened an inquest at Mount Druitt on the body of Albert O'Donoughue (9), who was drowned in a waterhole.

The evidence of the mother showed that she had gone down the yard at the residence to view a tree her husband proposed to cut down, and on her return saw her son's hat floating on top of the water in a small hole used for watering fowls. The mother at once ran to the house and called out, "Albert," but got no response. She then took a rake and ran again to the waterhole, and raked in the water. She first brought a bucket, and then the body of her son. He was taken to the house, and attempts made to revive the body, but in vain.

BODY TO BE EXHUMED.

PERTH, Wednesday.

The body of Griffith Boyer, who was killed at Wallal some weeks ago, is being exhumed at Port Hedland. Boyer was a partner of Jackman, who has stated that he accidentally shot Boyer with a shot gun, and, being afraid, hid the body. The blacks, who found the body in a native well, declared that he had been shot with a rifle.

FINANCIAL.

STATE TREASURER'S RECORDS.

Many references have been made to the series of years of surpluses and debits in the State accounts. There were seven years in succession of extraordinary plenty as far as the State Exchequer is concerned. The position for a series of years may be set forth thus:—

BOTH SIDES OF THE LEDGER.

	Credit Balance. £	Debit Balance. £
1895-96	220,894	—
1896-97	47,268	—
1897-98	—	21,486
1898-99	11,112	—
1899-1900	—	6,743
1900-01	—	176,671
1901-02	—	261,865
1902-03	—	484,356
1903-04	—	524,064

1905-06	896,124	—
1906-07	1,471,244	—
1907-08	1,676,000	—
1908-09	637,677	—
1909-10	1,117,899	—
1910-11	401,506	—
1911-12	61,982	—
1912-13	—	1,167,617

*Wiped out by issue of Treasury Bill.

In connection with the above figures there are one or two points which in fairness to the various Treasurers responsible should not be overlooked. One is that in the earlier period, that is up to 1901, there were no large receipts from the Commonwealth Treasurer. Then, again, the drought intervened, and had a restrictive effect on all receipts of revenue. Heavy receipts from the Commonwealth Treasurer tended to swell the surpluses of the years from 1905 till 1910, when those receipts were restricted under the financial agreement.

COMMONWEALTH IMPORTS.

We have already summarised the oversea trade of the Commonwealth for the first 10 months of the current year. In this connection, details of imports may not be without interest, especially in view of the fact that, despite the relative scarcity of money, they show no material falling off. Details may be set forth thus:—

A COMPANY MATTER.

"C.J.D." writes:—

Sir,—I would be much obliged if you will kindly supply the following information, through your newspaper, re companies:—

Would persons wishing to form a limited company out of their business (where there were only a few partners and no application is made to the public to subscribe) require to register under the Companies Act; or is there some other Act, as in England, which applies to private companies or limited partnerships?

What statistical returns are required by the Registrar from small or "one man" companies in New South Wales?

There is no distinction under our Act between so-called "private" and public companies, nor is there any such thing as a limited partnership. The procedure is, however, very simple, and the statistical information required quite nominal. Communicate with the Registrar-General of Joint Stock Companies, who will doubtless supply all detailed information.

INTERCOLONIAL INVESTMENT L. AND B. COMPANY.

The twenty-seventh annual report of the above company for the 12 months ended October 31 shows a net profit of £35,350, which, with £3182 brought forward, made £38,532 available for distribution. The interim dividend, together with a transfer to the dividend equalisation account, left £30,167, which the board proposes should be apportioned as follows:—To dividend at the rate of 10 per cent., £4562; bonus to shareholders, £2281; to equalisation of dividend account, £18,000; to reserve fund, £2153; leaving £3170 to be carried forward. The following comparison may be made:—

	Year ended October 31, 1911.	1912.	1913.

INTERCOLONIAL INVESTMENT CAPITAL

At an extraordinary meeting of the above company, to be held on December 5, the following resolutions will be proposed:—

1. That of the authorised capital of the company there be issued 45,622 shares of £1 each.
2. That such shares be offered to shareholders at par in the proportion (or as near thereto as the holdings will admit) of one share for every two shares held by each shareholder, and that such offer shall remain open till January 31 next, after which date the offer will be deemed to be declined; but in the case of shareholders resident outside Australia an extension of time may be allowed.
3. That a sum not exceeding £20,920 taken from the dividend equalisation account be divided amongst the shareholders on February 1 next, in proportion to the amounts paid up on their respective holdings on January 31 next, and that each shareholder may direct in writing that the amount then due to him be used for paying 17s 6d per share on any new shares allotted to him, such payments carrying dividend as from the first day of February next.

That failing such direction a payment of 17s 6d per share shall accompany each application for new shares, and shall carry dividend from date of payment.

4. That any of the said shares not applied for or left unallotted by reason of shareholders being entitled to fractional parts thereof may be disposed of as the directors may deem proper, and any premiums received applied for the general purposes of the company.

The proposed issue, if approved by the meeting, will increase the paid up capital to £131,163. The ordinary rate of dividend for some years past has been 10 per cent. per annum, which on the present paid-up capital amounts to £9124. In the ordinary course of events the same amount, £9124, should be payable on the capital (as increased) of £131,163, thus establishing the paid-up capital under the new arrangement upon a 7 per cent. per annum dividend basis instead of 10 per cent. per annum.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

At yesterday's wool sales 10,771 bales were offered, and 9884 bales were sold, including 1401 bales disposed of privately.

The market ruled firm, another record being established for greasies, which realised up to 16d.

At an extraordinary general meeting of Tooth and Co., Limited, held at the Kent Brewery yesterday, the resolution carried on the 5th instant—"That article of association of the company, No. 82, be altered by substituting for the figures '£1100' the following words, namely, 'Two thousand pounds' was confirmed."

The Commercial Banking Company of Sydney has opened a branch at Macksville.

At an extraordinary general meeting of the United Insurance Company, Ltd., held yesterday afternoon, the following resolution, having been previously passed, was confirmed—

"That clause 40 of the Deed of Settlement be altered by eliminating the words "twenty-five pounds, and substituting for them the words "thirty-seven pounds ten shillings.'"

At the same time, the two resolutions given below were carried, and they will be submitted for confirmation at a second extraordinary general meeting—

1. "That clause 40 of the Deed of Settlement be altered by eliminating the words 'thirty-seven pounds ten shillings,' and substituting for them the words 'sixty-two pounds ten shillings.'"
2. "That clause 30 of the Deed of Settlement be altered by inserting between the word 'thousand' and the word 'pounds' the words 'five hundred.'"

Mr. G. J. Cohen occupied the chair.

COMMERCIAL.

THE MARKETS.

Chemicals had a better distributing business yesterday than for some time past. Large quantities of sulphur were got rid of out of the Worms at the quoted prices. Macclesfield's bluestone was easier at 30/ per cwt, the fall in the price of copper being the reason. As a c.i.f. and e. quotation £26 could be bettered. Other chemicals were without change.

The metal market was easier as far as wires were concerned. No. 8 black had business on spot at £8, and to arrive shortly a large parcel sold at £7/17/6. No. 10 black had business at £9 on spot, and a shade below that quotation to arrive. Copper wire sold in heavy gauges at 1/1. Cement was a trifle firmer. Australian selling at 13/6 per three bags, and imported 14/ to 15/ per cask. As to the English, Continental, and American markets reports up to October 24 are that dear money discourages fresh enterprises, and the consequences of the war in the near East are now being felt in the shape of decreased business in the countries directly and indirectly affected. Reduction in rates has failed to stimulate business to any appreciable extent, but it is hoped that there will be a revival in trade by the end of January. Prices were practically the lowest on record on the Continent, where manufacturers are reducing their make, and refuse to go any further at any increased reduction. They prefer to close their mills rather than take a fraction less than rates ruling in the last week of October.

The oil market was considerably firmer on account of further cables being received advising another advance in the London quotation of linseed. For prompt shipment of Blundell and Spence's, 2/0½ f.o.b. was asked—½d up on Tuesday's cabled price, and for January to April 2/1, a halfpenny up. Burrell's quoted prompt 1/11, January to April 2/0½ f.o.b. Stocks on spot were not heavy. In fact, stocks of raw linseed oil were found to be very light, and values appreciated by a halfpenny. A parcel of 285 drums of Blundell and Spence's raw oil changed hands at 3/6½. Whitelead was cabled 10/ lower at £27/10/, f.o.b., oil being cheaper than when the higher price was fixed, and there also being a considerable fall in pig lead. The spot market, however, was not affected. Shipments of Champion's whitelead were found to be very much behind hand, and the market was searched for the commodity to carry on till the arrival of the Port Kembla next week. Only a few tons of Champions could be obtained, the price paid being £39 for cwt packages. Johnston's also had sales at £38/10/ for cwts and half cwts, and £39 for quarters. No doubt the market will ease when shipments by the Port Kembla are available.

Notwithstanding the heavy importations in October into this State, stocks of tea in first hands will be cleared up at the auction sale on Friday. Blenders have been forced to pay highly for what teas they require, and some heavy business has been done. The blenders waited till they could wait no longer, and then they had to come in and buy at a considerable advance on the price at which they could have obtained the teas for three weeks ago. The Colombo cable advised that the market was steady for all kinds at the auction on Tuesday, except commons, in which there was slight irregularity, a few being a cent up and a few others a cent down.

Cornsacks were extremely firm at the advanced prices of the previous day, 7/9 net to rails or 8/ delivered, less discount. The country was buying freely from the two holders, all the other importers having disposed of their stocks. As there was no demur in giving the prices quoted, it was a proof that there were no cheaper lots to be found. Lots out of the Hymettus now at Melbourne could be shaded perhaps a penny on the above prices. Branbags were quiet and easy at 6/6. Woolpacks had a little business at 3/3.

TO-DAY'S HOMEBUSH OFFERINGS.

Supplies promise to be on a moderate scale to-day. The approximate quantities of sheep and cattle are as follow:—

Sheep (including lambs), 38,394.
Cattle (including calves), 2,796.

The amount of wool manifested to arrive at Darling Harbour yesterday totalled 6791 bales.

BREADSTUFFS.

THE MARKET FIRM.

The farmers took advantage yesterday of the prices offered by shippers for wheat, 3/2 in the stacks, and in a few favoured stations 3/2½ was on offer for exceptionally large lots. A great deal was sold on these terms. The equivalent price, ex trucks Sydney, was 3/6½. Parcels were on offer at 3/6¾ to 3/7 for prompt delivery. Speculators were again on the market, principally buyers in the country who had sold heavily when lower prices ruled, and were covering up for fear the market should go still higher. They paid 3/7 for January to March delivery, but city buyers would not go above 3/6¾. For April to June 3/8 was wanted, and for May to September 3/8½. But these were not prices for genuine delivery. They were speculators' prices, and if circumstances did not suit delivery when the time came the wheat would not be delivered, but differences would be paid. It was simply playing with the wheat as an excuse for a gamble.

Flour was quiet, the association quoting £8/10/, delivered, for bakers' lots. Bran and pollard were quiet at £4.

At Darling Harbour yesterday 1223 tons of wheat and 296 tons of flour were manifested to arrive.

LONDON MARKET CABLES.

RAW JUTE.

LONDON, Nov. 25, 7.45 p.m.

Raw jute was easier to-day, native first marks selling £34/12/6 per ton for November-December shipments, a fall of 2/6.

SILVER.

Bar silver was quoted to-day at 27 1-16d per ounce standard, an advance of 3-16d.

THE WOOL SALES.

The sixth and last series of wool sales of the year opened to-day to brisk competition for merinos, of which there was an excellent selection from the new clip, quotations being without change. Crossbreds were from par to 5 per cent. easier.

Nov. 26, 4.35 a.m.

At the wool sales yesterday, Buxton, Ronald, and Co., Schwartz and Co., Jacomb, Son, and Co., and Charles Balme and Co. offered 9378 bales. There was an excellent attendance, and good all-round competition prevailed, the Continental buyers being most prominent. Russia was buying scoured wools. Compared with October closing rates, fine crossbred wools were 5 per cent. easier; coarse were without change. Prices of all good to average combing and clothing merinos were well maintained, but earthy and very faulty were neglected.

Messrs. John Sanderson and Co. have received the following cablegram from their London house, Messrs. Sanderson, Murray, and Co., dated 25th inst.:—"The sixth and last series of sales for the current year opened to-day with a good tone. There was a large attendance of buyers and good competition. Prices showed no material change on those ruling at the close of last sales (October 8), excepting for fine crossbreds, which sold at 5 per cent. decline."

Dalgety and Company, Limited, received the following cable message from its London office, dated Tuesday:—"The sixth and closing series of home wool sales for this year has opened with a large attendance of buyers and animated competition. There was a good selection in the opening catalogues. As compared with the closing rates of the previous sales, prices for merino wools of good quality and condition were unaltered. Any change in values for merino wools in heavy condition was in buyers' favour. Fine and medium crossbreds were at par to 5 per cent. lower, and coarse crossbreds unchanged."

Cables were also received by the Country Producers' Selling Company, Ltd., Schute, Bell, and Co., Ltd., Gibbs, Bright, and Co., Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Ltd., Winchcombe, Carson, Ltd., Pitt, Son, and Badgery, Ltd., New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency, Ltd., Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., Ltd., Hill, Clark, and Co., Ltd., the Co-operative Wool and Produce Company, Ltd., the Australian Mercantile, Land, and Finance Co., Ltd.

METALS.

Closing quotations on Tuesday were:—

Copper, spot, £66/15/ to £67 per ton (£1/15/ up); at three months, £65/15/ to £66 per ton (£1/15/ up).

Tin, on spot, £179 to £179/10/ per ton (unchanged); at three months, £180/5/ to £180/15/ per ton (10/ up).

Lead, soft foreign, £18/10/ to £18/15/ per ton (5/ down since Friday).

WHEAT.

The wheat market was firm yesterday, 36/6 was asked, and 36/4½ was bid for a South Australian cargo, and 36/4½ was offered for a Western Australian cargo, expected in January.

Liverpool futures were quoted, December 7/1 7-8, March 7/2¼, May 7/2 7-8 per cental.

Chicago futures were quoted, December 86⅝c to 87 5-8c, May 90⅝c to 91⅝c per bushel.

MELBOURNE LIVE STOCK MARKET.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

In the live stock market to-day 3800 fat cattle were yarded, comprising 1050 from New South Wales, 1300 from the north-east district, 600 from the northern district, 500 from Gippsland, 100 from South Gippsland, 350 from the western district. There were 2300 bullocks and 1500 cows. In bullocks, although good and prime qualities were fully represented, yet there was an increased proportion of light and handy weights, grading from moderately fat to ripe condition. The supply of cows consisted chiefly of middling and inferior descriptions, but the proportion of good and prime proved ample for requirements. There was a large attendance of buyers. In view of the heavy supply, the opening sales ruled fully 10/ per head lower, while the decline in weighty northern bullocks was even more pronounced. But as sales progressed the demand became keener, and prices gradually hardened to last week's rates, closing decidedly firmer. Prime pens of bullocks £10/10/ to £12/5/, extra from £12/15/ to £14/15/, good ditto £9 to £10/5/; good handyweights £8 to £8/15/, middling ditto from £7 to £7/15/, with fresh-conditioned young bullocks and steers £5/5/ to £6/15/. Prime pens of cows from £8 to £8/10/, extra at £10/10/, with odd beasts to £12; good ditto £6 to 7/10/, middling ditto at £4/10/ to £5/10/, others £4. Fat calves: About 800 were penned. The demand was not so active, but no material alteration was noticeable from late rates. Prime steers and heifers £4/15/ to £6, a few to £7/5/, good ditto £3/10/ to £4/10/, with calves from £1 to £3/5/; a few small suckers from 10/ to 15/.

MELBOURNE MEAT MARKET.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Prices in the Metropolitan Meat Market for the past week were as follow:—Beef, prime bodies 22/ to 23/ per 100lb, medium 20/ to 21/; prime forequarters 17/ to 18/, medium 15/ to 16/; prime hindquarters, 28/ to 30/, medium 25/ to 26/. Sheep, prime /2½ to /3 per lb, medium /2¼. Lamb, prime 11/ to 12/ each, medium 9/ to 10/. Veal, prime large vealers, /2½ to /3 per lb, medium /2 to /2¼, prime small vealers /2¼ to /2½, medium /2¼ to /2½, small calves /2¼ to /2½.

PRODUCE.

DAIRY.

NEW-LAID EGGS CHEAPER.

Yesterday there was a fall of about 1d per dozen in the wholesale quotation for new-laid eggs. Ordinary brands were to be had at from /11 to 1/, and for only a few extra choice and graded lots was 1/1 secured. The bulk of the sales booked was at /11½. There was no movement in case varieties. Raiways and South Coasts were worth from /10 to /10½, and northern rivers /10 per dozen. Duck eggs were steady at the previous day's levels.

There was a good local demand for cheese, but the difficulty was that for every loaf sold five were received from the country. For ordinary makes of prime loaf values were unchanged at from /5¾ to /6. It was rumoured that one agent had placed a parcel at /5½. The truth of this statement, however, cannot be vouched for. Several London buyers were willing to do business at /5½ f.o.b. The Paparoa has taken 3010 cases from Brisbane for London.

Some of the honey received during the past three or four weeks from the northern rivers has in every respect been quite equal in quality to the best western. One salesman went so far as to say that it was the best honey he had seen in Sussex-street for 12 years. The honey is of good body, is clean, and has a pronounced clover flavour. It has been commanding from /3½ to /3¾ per lb.

Butter was in strong hands at 103/ for export, and 105/ for the local trade. The total arrivals of butter in Melbourne since July 1 amount to 439,127 boxes, as compared with 339,094 boxes for the corresponding period of 1912. Arrivals from Tasmania since July 1 amount to 4144 boxes, against 5799 boxes for the corresponding period last year.

Quotations:—

FORAGE AND GRAIN.

FIRMNESS IN MAIZE.

There was a slightly firmer feeling in the maize market yesterday. Prime, dry, yellow grain was worth from 4/2 to 4/3 per bushel. White maize commanded to 4/4.

Silverskin onions were cheaper. In bags they were to be had at from £4 to £4/10/, and in cases at £6/10/ per ton. A few bags of new season's Globe onions were on offer from £6 to £6/10/. There was no movement in potato values.

The price realised for the pick of the 72 truckloads of firewood submitted at public auction yesterday was £1 per ton.

Quotations were:—

RAILWAY MARKET.

SILVERSKIN ONIONS FIRM.

Lucerne hay was very much in evidence yesterday, although none of it was of the highest quality. Green brought up to 5/, brown 4/3, and grassy 2/4.

The market was also strong in wheaten chaff, which sold at prices varying from 2/9 to 4/9. Both lucerne and oaten chaff realised 4/9. The sale brought forth a consignment of that produce which is seen only at long intervals—Algerian oats; 1/8 per bushel was the rate obtained.

Four trucks of onions were offered. Silverskins were well up to late prices, bringing 9/, and brown Spanish were, perhaps, easier. These latter were knocked down at 7/4.

Produce placed in position for sale totalled 112 truckloads, and consisted of:—Hay 21, chaff 70, wheat 5, maize 5, potatoes 7, onions 4.

The following consignments were manifested to arrive:—Chaff 72, hay 12, maize 5, wheat 3, oats 3, potatoes 1, onions 1.

Sales effected were:—

A MOUNTAIN GRIEVANCE.

POLLUTING THE VALLEY OF WATERS.

Considerable alarm has recently been caused among mountain residents—more particularly those in the vicinity of Wentworth Falls—at the action contemplated by the Blue Mountain Shire Council to establish a sanitary depot at the head of the Valley of Waters. The exact spot where this depot is proposed to be placed is just above the picturesque lookout, Edinburgh Castle, on the slope where the head waters of the Valley of Waters take their rise, and this action is regarded by residents and visitors alike as a distinct menace, not only to the neighbourhood, but to visitors from Sydney and other parts, who spend their holidays there, and find the series of falls in the Valley of Waters a pleasant resort for numberless day excursions, and drink the water in absolute confidence that it contains no typhoid germs. The trustees and the residents, it is understood, have protested against the action of the council, but apparently to no purpose.

In connection with this subject Captain Murray, president of the National Reserves Trustees, writes to us as follows:—"Since the Valley of Waters was opened up by a band of patriotic citizens some 25 years ago every effort has been made to keep the little stream pure and sweet. Now the shire council contemplate putting a depot for nightsoil on the edge of the watershed. This awful thing is too likely to happen if very strong protest be not made.

"The bathers have protested, the village community has protested, and now, as the matter concerns very seriously the people of Sydney in particular, as well as the public at large, some serious notice should be taken by the press in order to preserve the health of tourists who drink the water in all confidence that it is pure."

[Some time ago, on behalf of residents of Wentworth Falls, the matter was referred to us, and on inquiry being made we were assured on behalf of the shire council that the proposal in question was not contemplated, but that in all probability the depot would be placed in a totally different position.]

SCHOOL OF ARTS.

In the Sydney School of Arts Hall, Pitt-street, last evening, certificates were presented to 140 evening students, of both sexes, who had passed examinations during the year.

Mr. William Reid (president of the School of Arts), who occupied the chair, said that during the year 400 students had attended the classes. He remarked that their institution had inaugurated technical education in New South Wales. Since the construction of the Technical College the School of Arts had continued to act as an auxiliary college. For about 50 years evening classes had been conducted at a loss to the School of Arts.

DEATH FROM TETANUS.

CONTRACTED IN CAMP.

The death, on November 18, of a private in the Citizen Forces, Frederick R. Eggleton, 19, a machinist, of Marrickville, was inquired into by the City Coroner on Tuesday.

In evidence, Sydney Fountain, a boot clicker, said that he was with deceased at the Liverpool military camp early in the month. During a meal-hour deceased cut his finger while opening a tin of jam with a bayonet. So far as witness knew, no tin-openers were supplied in the camp.

Dr. Cecil S. Molesworth said that deceased died from tetanus. It took about 14 days for tetanus (lockjaw) to develop.

In recording a verdict of death from tetanus, caused by the bayonet wound, the Coroner remarked that it was strange the young soldiers should be obliged to open tins in the manner stated. They should be supplied with tin-openers.

THIEVES ACTIVE.

A number of thefts have been reported to the Detective Office. The most important of these was from the room of Charles Thompson, Goulburn-street, £65 in bank notes being reported missing.

Thieves also entered the premises of Rose's chemist shop, George-street, city, and stole £24 10s in cash from the rear of the shop.

The residence of John Pearce, 4 Gordon-street, Petersham, was entered on Sunday, and £15, gold and silver, stolen from the room of Herbert Studley.

MINING.

LONDON LIFELESS.

LOCAL MARKET DULL.

BARRIERS QUIET, BUT SOUND.

The diagnosis of the market yesterday morning was:—"No change for the better," either as regards the volume of business transacted, or the values at which the sales were booked.

The London Stock Exchange still continues lifeless, whilst metal values fluctuate. The downward trend in the price of copper was arrested, (whether temporary or otherwise it is impossible to say), for the cabled advices to hand stated it had recovered 27/6. On the other hand, lead declined 7/6, whilst the three months' price at £17/15/ is not reassuring.

A noticeable feature of the London quotations was a decline of 5/ in the price of Mount Elliotts. Local operators regard this as significant—in other words, that the expected dividend has been "passed." Various rumours are in circulation regarding the prospects of the mine. Rumours are also abroad regarding the cause of the recent marked decline in the London quotations for Great Cobar shares. They relate to the position of the English debenture-holders.

A cable message received last evening from our London correspondent appears to give a clue to the real cause of the weakness of the shares on the London Stock Exchange. The cable states that at an informal meeting of shareholders a resolution was passed condemning the manner in which the Great Cobar property is being worked, and appointing a committee to consider the steps necessary to secure a change in the directorate.

The inactive state of the local market was shown by the fact that business was confined to Mount Morgan at 65/ for ordinary delivery, also on six weeks' terms, a decline of /6; four Barriers—Broken Hill South, paid and contributing, Broken Hill Proprietary, and British (old)—three gold and the same number of tin stocks. The tone of the market for Barriers was healthy, and the same was the case with the Ardlethan group, especially Wild Cherry (con.).

Outside Barriers speculation during the afternoon was exceedingly quiet. The sound market ruling in the morning for B.H. Souths (contg.) extended in the afternoon to the paid scrip, a parcel of which sold at £7/9/6, an advance of 2/6 on the previous sale. The contributing scrip, likewise, commanded firm offers. Solid business was booked in B.H. Norths, B.H. Junction North, and Zinc Corporation (ord.), whilst good offers for New Burragorang failed to draw a selling quotation.

In tin stocks Carpathias fluctuated a little, but on the whole held a steady position. The same was the case with Southern Cross, but Wild Cherry eased a shade on the firm business recorded in the morning.

Last evening our Melbourne correspondent telegraphed:—"The Mount Elliott, Limited, has declared a dividend of 5s per share, less English income tax of 1/2 in the £1, payable on December 22. A dividend of 2/ per share, payable on December 19, has been declared by the North Broken Hill Company."

MINING NOTES.

The Kulamadau gold mine (Woodlark Island) reports a crushing of 840 tons of ore, and cyanided 1200 tons of tailings, for bullion valued approximately at £1520. The mill was hung up three weeks owing to a shortage of water. The concentrates and amalgam on hand are valued at £570.

The manager of the Block 9 (Mineral Hill), Ltd., reports for two weeks ended November 22:—"Have continued underhand stoping below No. 1 level on a lead carbonate vein of fair quality. Present width 18in. No. 2 winze sunk 9ft; width of vein in bottom 12in. Ore raised—10 tons firsts, 2 tons seconds; ore shipped to smelters, 40 tons."

The Broken Hill Proprietary Company, Ltd., has received a cable message, dated London, November 25, giving the following quotations—Silver, 2/3 1-16 (official quotation); lead, £18/12/6 (buyers' price); company's shares, £1/14/ (buyers' price); spelter £20/15/ (buyers' price); and copper, £66/10/ (buyers' price).

Gold-dredging Yields.—Tewksbury Proprietary, Araluen (fortnight), 16oz; Victorian Araluen fortnight), 68¾oz.

BRITISH BROKEN HILL MINE.

BROKEN HILL, Wednesday.

The mill of the British mine for the fortnight ended November 22 treated 10,191 tons crude ore, assaying 7.4oz silver, 13 per cent. lead, and 12.2 per cent. zinc, and produced 1441 tons of lead concentrates, containing 33,040oz silver, 889 tons lead, and 106 tons zinc. The quantity of slimes produced was 576 tons, and of zinc tailings for the Zinc Corporation 7224 tons. At the No. 11 level, Thompson's main crosscut was extended 11ft to 211ft. Good ore continued to 200ft, and the rest of the crosscut has been in low-grade rhodonite ore. Diamond-drilling was continued at No. 6 and 7 levels, but the core showed little but schist and quartzite.

B.H. JUNCTION MINE.

BROKEN HILL, Wednesday.

The mill of the B.H. Junction last fortnight treated 2773 tons of crudes, producing 310 tons of concentrates, assaying 25.73 oz silver, 57.1 per cent. lead, and 4.6 per cent. zinc. Although it was intended to run three full shifts per day, a shortage of ore from underground, allegedly owing to the scarcity of skilled miners, has rendered the work of the plant very intermittent. The faces throughout the mine continue to look well, but several stopes are idle owing to the scarcity of miners.

HAMPDEN-CLONCURRY COPPER MINE.

The manager, telegraphing on November 25, reports as follows:—

Hampden Mine:—No. 1 shaft, 420ft level, north drive, width sampled 42in, value 1½ p.c. No. 3 shaft, 200ft level, south drive, width sampled 36in, value ½ p.c.; 350ft level, north drive, width sampled 48in, value 12 p.c., face 5ft. South drive, width sampled 38in, value 9¼ p.c., face 3ft; 350ft level rise, width sampled 30in, value 9¼ p.c.

Duchess Mine:—Main shaft, 110ft level, winze, width sampled 32in, value 16 p.c. not on western wall; 500ft level, winze down 87ft, through quartz. Not on western wall.

Trekelano Mine:—Main crosscut in 23ft.

Answer Mine:—Main shaft down 194ft.

MacGregor Mines:—Underlie shaft down 99ft. Wallaroo Mine:—Main shaft down 226ft; 155ft level, south drive in formation. Wattle:—(140ft level) north drive off the bottom of winze, sampled 12in, value 12 p.c. South drive off the bottom of winze 39ft west in formation, value 2 p.c.

Pindora Mines:—Esmond North, east crosscut, width lode 12ft, average 7 p.c., high grade chalcopyrite and quartz. Bismark:—No. 1 shaft down 132ft, width sampled 37in, value 4½ p.c. Not on western wall. Sevastopol:—No. 1 shaft down 112ft in formation.

BLOCK 14 TORRINGTON COMPANY.

The mine manager reports that for the fortnight ended November 19 he has been breaking ore of a payable grade from all benches of the open cut at Fielder's Hill. For week ended November 12 the 10-head battery ran 188 hours, crushing 335 tons of ore, assaying 0.53 per cent wolfram and 0.05 per cent. bismuth, which yielded 1 ton 16cwt 3qrs 12lb concentrates, assaying 70.00 per cent wolfram and 2.67 per cent bismuth. In addition, he dressed 18cwt 12lb of bung ore of the same value as the week's product.

The mill return for the week ended November 19 was:—Crude ore treated 366 tons, assaying 0.54 per cent. wolfram and 0.055 per cent bismuth. Concentrates produced 2 tons 2cwt 2qr 16lb assaying 65.88 per cent. wolfram and 2.86 per cent bismuth. Also 11cwt 16lb of bung ore of the same value as the week's product.

IODIDE (MINERAL HILL) LTD.

Mine manager's report for week ended November 22:—

No. 1 Level.—No. 4 stope in gossan, with siliceous intrusions. Assay of face, lead 29 per cent and silver 33.65oz. The average for the week of all samples is lead 21.6 per cent and silver 34.65oz. East End.—North drive extended to 308ft 3in, in gossan, with quartzite intrusions. Values have improved this week. Face sample is lead 10 per cent., and there is a seam of gossan assaying 31.6 per cent lead and 2.61oz silver.

No. 2 Level.—No. 6 stope in gossan, with bunches of quartzite. Assay of face, lead 5.6 per cent., and silver 61.8oz. The average for the week of all samples is lead 9.6 per cent., silver 48.97oz. East drive extended to 191ft in gossan, with bands of iron stained quartzite. West drive extended to 270ft 8in, in gossan, with intrusions of quartzite. Ore despatched for treatment, 50 tons 7cwt 3qr 21lb.

ARDLETHAN TIN FIELD.

ARDLETHAN, Wednesday.

The manager of the White Crystal reports:—"Putting in opening set, and timbering main shaft. Stackpools, following down on lode carrying tin. Not yet in settled country. Crosbys underlay shaft is still in ironstone. The foundation is carrying good tin. Boiler and engine in position for concreting, which is proceeding."

The bulk of the battery and other machinery for erection at the Wild Cherry is on the rail en route for Ardlethan from Peak Hill, and may be expected here any day.

The Carpathia delivered over 120 tons of ore during last week at the railway station.

MOUNT ELLIOTT, LIMITED.

YEAR'S NET PROFIT, £141,811.

BULK OF ORE RESERVES LOW GRADE.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Advice has been received from the London office of the Mount Elliott, Limited, that the annual meeting of shareholders will be held in London on December 3. A cabled summary of the directors' report states that after £14,208, written off for depreciation of plant, etc., £10,644 written off for development account, and charging the total expenditure, with the exception of the cost of sinking the new main shaft at the Consols mine, and an amount expended on options (still held by the company) to revenue, operations resulted in a net profit of £141,811 for the year.

The general manager's estimate of ore reserves are:—High-grade ore, Mount Elliott, to the 400ft level, 35,000 tons; Consols mine, to the 250ft level, 8600 tons; and Selwyn mine, to the 120ft level, 1500 tons, all assaying from 10 to 12 per cent., with a probable addition of 37,000 tons, assaying from 10 to 12 per cent.; low grade ore (Sulphide), 350,000 tons of 3 per cent. value.

The smelter ran seven and a half months during the year, and 41,633 tons of ore treated. Some 4673 tons of blister copper were produced, containing 4631 tons copper, 7280oz silver, and 8757oz gold.

AMALGAMATED ZINC.

PROFIT BETTER.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Amalgamated Zinc, de Bavays, return for the four weeks ended November 15:—Tailings treated, 41,400 tons; zinc concentrates produced, 12,510 tons; lead concentrates, 122 tons. Estimated income from all sources (taking spelter at £22 per ton), £36,024. Estimated profit on working account (taking spelter at £22), £13,248. Provision for royalty, £1564. Net profit on working account, £11,684. No credit is taken in the above figures for interest on investment of dividends on shares in other companies.

The details of the past two months' operations are as follows:—

MODERN METHODS.

REVOLUTIONISE DISEASE.

HUNDREDS NOW BEING RELIEVED WHO HAD GIVEN UP HOPE.

How prone are we in general to criticise that which we do not understand, or that which encroaches on the domain we have mapped out for ourselves regardless of its efficiency. When the locomotive was first discovered a member of Parliament arose, and said that it would be a dangerous invention to adopt, because its speed was so great that it would be an utter impossibility to stop it within a reasonable distance of safety, and thereby jeopardise life and property. And so it has always been with new discoveries, mention what you will.

Has not Weis's Muco Tonic passed through the same ordeal, and stood the test. The dark clouds of criticism have been replaced by the sunshine of honest investigation. The proof of the pudding is in the eating; all the talk in the world is not equal to one dose of this valuable medicine. It costs but little to actually procure a full 18oz bottle enough to convince the most sceptical. If you suffer from catarrh, rheumatism, stomach, kidney, or liver trouble, Weis's Muco Tonic is the remedy, obtainable at No. 11 Oxford-street, Sydney.

P.S.—All Chemists not yet having Weis's Muco Tonic in stock can procure same for their patrons from the Australian Drug Co. or Elliott Bros. It is on the Protective Price List.—Advt.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

OUR STATE SYSTEM.

MUNICIPALISM AT WORK.

THE JUBILEES.

The jubilees of various important country towns which have been celebrated recently remind us that we are building up tradition and historical associations in this new land. Bathurst and Parramatta are historical towns, and their picturesque past is being revived just now. Both these cities have a municipal significance. Bathurst municipality has always been one of the most active and enlightened in the State. Its beautification programme places it amongst the first Australian towns in this most advanced branch of civic enterprise. Moreover, Bathurst is the home of a famous leading case—Macpherson v Borough of Bathurst—which decided a very knotty point of legal liability in regard to public bodies and the construction and maintenance of roads. Now comes a celebration at Armidale, where a prosperous town is recording its civic progress during the 50 years which have elapsed since its incorporation. All these events show a vigour and vitality which is a cheering sight for those who believe that the civic government of well-organised inland towns can do a great deal more than any other branch of government, either State or Federal, to increase the prosperity, comfort, and well-being of the citizens.

CLERKS AS VALUERS IN SHIRES.

The question often arises for discussion in this State as to whether shire clerks should be called upon to act as valuers. There is no question of their legal eligibility, nor, in most cases, of their fitness; but it has to be considered that a clerk-valuer may often appear to be in an awkward position. The members of the shire council are sometimes large property-owners in the area, and this is often an advantage. No one wishes to insinuate that direct pressure would be brought upon the clerk-valuer to induce him to warp his judgment by undervaluing their property, or that he would yield to such pressure if it existed. But where the rating and the endowment of shires are closely related, and where State policy is involved, it would be far better if someone in a more independent position were employed as valuer. Of course this is one more argument in favour of Mr. Griffith's general valuation proposals, which would set up a department for valuation under expert and independent State officials, who, in the course of a few years, would have a mathematically exact grasp of land values, and from their registers State, Federal, and municipal authorities, as well as buyers and sellers (by consent), could obtain the true valuation, for all purposes. There will never be absolute satisfaction in valuing until this department is created, and its usefulness equally to the State and the individual can be seen at a glance.

• • • • •

CIVIC COMMANDMENTS.

A valued correspondent sends along a set of "municipal commandments," which were drafted by the Chicago Women's Aid Association. These "Ten Civic Commandments" are just as valuable in Australia as they probably are in Chicago, and obedience to them will confer a great benefit on the citizen. Here they are:—

First.—Thou shalt honour the city and keep its laws. Second.—Remember thy cleaning day, and keep it wholly. Third.—Thou shalt love and cherish thy children, and provide for them decent homes and playgrounds. Fourth.—Thou shalt not keep thy windows closed day or night. Fifth.—Thou shalt keep in order thy alley, thy backyard, thy hall, and thy stairway. Sixth.—Thou shalt not kill thy neighbours' bodies with poisonous air, nor their souls with bad companions. Seventh.—Thou shalt not let the wicked fly live. Eighth.—Thou shalt not steal thy children's right to happiness from them. Ninth.—Thou shalt bear witness against thy neighbours' rubbish heap. Tenth.—Thou shalt covet all the air and sunshine thou canst obtain."

Put in the time-honoured and familiar Biblical form, these simple rules contain a vast amount of civic wisdom.

• • • • •

SHIRES AND THEIR RIVALS.

Not only do we find rivalries and clashings between local councils and progress associations, but there are also occasional clashings with other bodies. Thus, the Narromine Shire Council objected recently to a local association of farmers and settlers claiming credit for a local work, which was said to be due to the assiduity of the F. and S. Association. It really is a pity that there is not some kind of rough co-operation between bodies, which have much in common, for the advancement of the general good. If a Farmers and Settlers' Association meddles with matters which are clearly and legally within the province of the shire council, then it is overstepping its own functions, and "butting in," as the phrase goes, on matters which it has no concern with. If, in addition, it goes behind the back of the shire council, and introduces political influence or "pull" in matters purely civic, then it is, in a sense, a public enemy, for it is—perhaps ignorantly or unconsciously, but not less effectively—assisting to reintroduce one of the curses which hung over New South Wales for 60 years, viz., road and bridgedom. With regard to the merits of the present dispute, no opinion is ventured; but two things are urged—(1) That in all matters within the jurisdiction of the elected councils, they should be approached and asked to act, or co-operation offered; and (2) that every lover of self-government should overtly resent anything that may even be suspected of conniving at the reintroduction of political influence in matters of local concern.

• • • • •

COUNTRY WATER SUPPLIES.

The coming summer should impress upon shire councillors and aldermen the necessity of making ample provision to secure the supply of pure water to all urban communities throughout the State. Public health demands this. We may expect the usual summer epidemic of typhoid fever this season, which is generally intensified if the season is hotter than the average. There are three factors now known to influence the spread of typhoid:—(1) Bad water supplies; (2) bad milk (which results often from an insufficient water supply), and (3) the work of the household fly. The most practical way to minimise the death and disablement rate from typhoid in country towns is to see to the water supply; and where that is not abundant to instruct the people as to the proper method of sterilising what may be contaminated water by boiling, filtering, etc. Also, it is necessary to emphasise that filtering must be carefully safeguarded, as dirty filters are often miniature culture beds for the typhoid bacilli. The Railway authorities should also see that the water bags which swing from country stations are wholesome and clean and supplied with fresh water. School children should be warned against drinking with common cups in dangerous places. The whole subject of the supply and sensible use of water should be taken up by the councils without delay at this season.

• • • • •

DUMPING AT SEA.

The "lazy-man's-way" adopted by some councils for the disposal of garbage has only to be considered to be condemned. Municipal garbage is punted, towed out to sea, and thrown overboard; and in due course is washed by the action of the tide back upon the ocean beaches. These beaches are used as surfing resorts by tens of thousands of citizens. In the old days, it is said, an idea existed that the best way of disposing of a dead cat was to throw it over your neighbour's fence. If he threw it back, you repeated the process, and he reciprocated so long as any of the cat remained. The City Council, and, it is said, the Glebe Council, also apply the dead-cat theory to the garbage problem. They consider the problem solved when the garbage is dumped at sea. The sea is quicker at giving up its garbage than its dead, for the beaches are soon heaped with matter which is a source of annoyance and positive danger to the citizens. There are two ways which might be solutions for the difficulty if tried: (1) the destruction of city garbage by fire in scientific furnaces known as destructors (this, the City Council may remember dimly, has already been tried, but it is possibly a new discovery for the Glebe); (2) sending the garbage up in a balloon, an idea propounded by a former Mayor of Sydney, but not carried out by the council of his time, nor by any council since.

• • • • •

MOTOR TRACTION AND THE COUNCILS.

In the economical management of cities the motor is beginning to assume a high place. These are the days of speed, when time is money, and often when true economy begins in a very large expenditure on up-to-date plant. One of the greatest borough governments in the world, viz., Westminster City Council, London, has been inquiring into the relative cost of motor as against horse traction for the vehicles used in the administrative work of the council. The result was that on the basis of tonnage, and without reference to mileage, one motor did the work of 4.12 horses; that the cost per ton for motor work was 2s 9.28d, against 3s 10.12d per ton for horse work; that 4.12 horses, etc., cost £13 4s 2d weekly, and one motor £9 11s 6d, a difference in the motor's favour of £3 12s 8d per week. The committee which inquired at once recommended the purchase of more motor vehicles. The Perth Council in Western Australia has practically decided upon the employment of the motor vehicle, and a feature of their scheme is that there should be one chassis with interchangeable bodies. When the citizens of Sydney see the quaint old garbage cart of the Sydney corporation, they must marvel at the tenacity of tradition in a public body. There is little progress to-day, as far as vehicular service is concerned, from the far-famed "widow's cart" of old.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND THE ELECTIONS.

The thoughtful citizen who knows how valuable an adjunct local self-control is to the great forces of government of a nation must wonder why there is so little mention of the subject at this extremely important time. There are a great many necessary changes in our present system which are known to both the great political parties. There is, first of all, the necessity of creating a commission or an independent administrative body, with powers similar to those of the English Local Government Board, with a permanent staff and an under-secretary responsible to a Minister—a Minister not quite so overburdened with other important duties as the incumbent of the office now is. There are a great many necessary amendments of the law which either party achieving power must pass without delay, as they are admitted by everyone, and disputed by none, and are the outcome of the experience of the councils of the municipalities and shires. There is the question of Greater Sydney, which is a purely non-contentious one so far as parties are concerned; and there are many other questions of organisation, legislation, and administration which must press any Government in power for a speedy solution. While nothing is heard of these, a great deal is made of subjects not one-tenth so useful or so pressing. There is need of civic associations similar to those which exist in the United States to keep the public interest keyed up on matters of vital civic interest.

ROAD-MAKING EXPERIMENTS.

Civic administrators are watching with the greatest interest the road-making experiments now being conducted in O'Connell and Phillip streets, Sydney, with an asphalte pavement, laid on scientific lines. There is no denying that Sydney city and suburban roads are probably the worst in any city of their size in the world. There has been no competent system of road construction; a perfect state of anarchy exists as to digging up and repairing streets by a great number of municipal and other authorities, and the Railway Commissioners are notorious offenders in altering arbitrarily the levels of the streets without consultation with the local authority. If the two experiments referred to above are successful, we shall have to change radically our ideas upon road construction and material. The coming of the motor vehicle has caused many great cities to make gradual changes in their roads to meet the new and probably permanent mode of traction; but in any case there is no comparison between the roads of Sydney and those of even the worst of the other cities of the world. Suburban roads other than main roads, if faithfully constructed, ought to last well; and a good expenditure to secure a good road at the outset is always a saving, when it is remembered how much money has been added to the civic debts for repairs upon roads which were unscientifically constructed from the first.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

T. H. (Grafton).—(1) Yes; see section 131 and the discussion thereon in Browning, Young, and Tebbutt. Also see section 21 of the Amending Act of 1908. (2) The question cannot be answered here.

WOMEN'S WORK.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXHIBITS.

An interesting demonstration, dealing with domestic science, was held at the Dulwich Hill Public School yesterday afternoon, under the supervision of Miss Pickering. The exhibits included millinery, dressmaking, stencilling, china painting, raffia work, and cooking. There was also a physical culture demonstration, after which the parents and visitors were entertained at afternoon tea. Mr. P. Board, Director of Education, explained the object of the demonstration and its scope. An inspection was made of the garden, where the girls have succeeded in raising some splendid specimens of native flora.

VAUDEVILLE ARTISTS.

WANT INDUSTRIAL REGISTRATION.

The Deputy Industrial Registrar, Mr. E. J. Payne, yesterday heard an application by the Australian Vaudeville Artists' Federation for registration as an industrial union, under the Industrial Arbitration Act.

Mr. Croft appeared for the Union, and Mr. Pickburn, instructed by Messrs. Minter, Simpson, and Co., appeared on behalf of a number of theatrical managers to oppose. The objectors to the application were:—Messrs. Clifton Clarke (Tivoli Theatre), Benjamin John Fuller (Brennan's Amphitheatres, Ltd.), Edward Harold Major (J. C. Williamson, Ltd.), George Musgrove, Harry Clay, and Percy Dix (Newcastle).

Mr. Pickburn said he wished to draw the Deputy Registrar's attention to the fact that the application was irregular, inasmuch as it was signed by only 16 members of the committee of management. He said he presumed the Deputy Registrar would call upon the applicants to prove their right to come to the Court at all.

Mr. Croft said the application was a perfectly sound one, and he protested against being asked, without notice, to meet such an objection at that stage. Rules 6 and 7 of the regulations had been complied with, and the objectors had filed two objections: (1) That the organisation was not a bona fide union, and (2) that if registered it would not be a bona fide union. He had come prepared to meet those two objections, and he submitted that Mr. Pickburn had no locus standi in the raising of new objections at that stage.

The Deputy Registrar said he had determined to have called upon the applicants for an explanation of the point brought under his notice by Mr. Pickburn, whether it had been referred to in that way or not. If the union was not prepared to supply the information required to put the application in order, or to deal with the objection taken at once, he would certainly allow them any reasonable time to prepare it. Inasmuch as the Registrar would resume his duties next week, however, and consequently his (Mr. Payne's) regime would end on Saturday, he thought the adjournment of the matter should either be a very brief one, or else be held over till it could be completed before whoever began it.

Mr. Pickburn said the case would certainly take much longer than a day or two. His clients intended to go thoroughly into evidence.

The Deputy Registrar said he would adjourn the case sine die, and, when the parties were ready, a date could be fixed.

PROPOSED HOSPITAL.

Mr. Fred. Flowers, M.L.C., Associate Chief Secretary, visited Rylstone on Saturday, in company with Mr. Dunn, for the purpose of receiving a deputation requesting a special grant for the proposed hospital. He promised £1000.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

The programme for the Gosford Racing Club's race meeting on the 4th prox demands the attention of owners and trainers to-day, for at 4 p.m. entries close with the secretary, Mr. H. R. Evans. The prize-money totals £400, of which £80 goes to the Gosford Handicap, £70 each to the Flying Handicap and Nursery Handicap, and £60 each to the Stewards' Mile, Trial Stakes, and Flying Welter. Entries can also be lodged with Mr. R. J. Baker, Gosford, and Mr. P. Solomon, Newcastle.

St. Moritz started in the Flying Handicap at the Richmond Pony Club's meeting on Monday.

The shipment of five thoroughbred mares purchased in England by Mr. James Brennan is due to arrive in Sydney next Monday. The mares came out under the care of Mr. H. Brennan, who will be remembered as the trainer of Malt Queen and other horses, and were landed in Victoria, where they were duly quarantined in the southern State, near Mordialloc. The shipment comprises the four-years-old Lindera, by Radium from Tophane, a French-bred mare by Le Sancy from Distingue, by Rosicrucian from Lizzie Distin, by Distin, and comes from the same family as the famous colt The Tetrarch; Kelmarie, by Dinna Forget from Kilburnie, by Kilcock from Blairfettie, by Barcaldine, 4yrs; Jocasta, by Voter from Pope Joan, 4yrs; Princess Hazel, by His Majesty from Close Reefed, by Sailor Lad from Cauld Blast, by St. Frusquin, 2yrs; and Trinobantes, by Dinneford (son of Dinna Forget). Lindera, Kelmarie, and Jocasta have gained the winning list in England, and will be raced here, as will the two-year-olds Princess Hazel and Trinobantes. Jocasta is an American-bred mare. Mr. H. Brennan is advertising for training quarters of five boxes, with residence attached.

The following withdrawals were recorded yesterday at the office of the A.J.C.: December Stakes, 1913, Rant, Pompilus, Nepia, Gad, Gabanie, Gabanius, and Mamana (dead). St. Leger Stakes, 1914, MacDuff.

Menindie Settlers' Picnic Race Club (January 3), Cassilis Jockey Club (December 26), Wombat Jockey Club (December 26), Nyngan Jockey Club (December 26, 27) Gundagai Oddfellows (January 21, 22), Nundle Jockey Club (December 26), Coraki Jockey Club (December 31, January 1), Leadville Race Club (January 26), and Wyong Park Racing Club (December) race meetings have been granted registration by the A.J.C.

Up to 5 p.m. to-day the secretary, Mr. J. Underhill, invites nominations for the seven events on the card for the pony and galloway race meeting which takes place at Ascot on Wednesday next, the 3rd prox. The prize-money aggregates 560 sovs, equally divided.

The two-year-olds Burnisher, by Bright Steel (imp.) from Bridesmaid, and Flamboyant, by Positano (imp.) from Lady Trenchant, have been added to the list of geldings.

Thornell, a two-year-old son of Flavus (imp.) and Malaria, by Goldsbrough, has joined H. Rayner's active service brigade at Randwick.

The full programme for the Rosehill December meeting on the 13th prox., is announced, and the general entry closes with the secretary, Mr. Geo. W. S. Rowe, at 4 p.m., on Monday next, the 1st prox. Entries have closed for the principal event, the December Handicap, and the five items that need attention are the Hurdle Race, of 100 sovs, 2m; Clyde Stakes (handicap), of 125 sovs, 6f; Maiden Handicap, of 100 sovs, 7f; Nursery Handicap, of 125 sovs, 5f; and Parramatta Mile, of 100 sovs.

KENSINGTON RACING CLUB.

Both the Paddock and Leger reserves were crowded at yesterday's pony and galloway meeting at the Kensington racecourse. The balance of the betting accounts was in favour of the bookmakers. Four winners were quoted at 8 to 1 against each, and Clothe, who accounted for the Fourteen-one Handicap, was marketable at 20 to 1 against. In that race Care Not, carrying the welter weight of 11st 5lb, was only a neck behind the winner. O. Griffiths, whose fall at Ascot on Saturday caused his removal to St. Vincent's Hospital, made his reappearance in the saddle, and got second place on First Guard in the Kensington Handicap. CYCLING.

FREMANTLE-SYDNEY RECORD.

An attempt on the Fremantle-Sydney (3077 miles) cycle record, which has stood to the credit of the well-known overlander, F. Birtles, for close upon two years, will be made by the former holder, Fred. White, at an early date. Birtles's time from Fremantle to Sydney and the respective capitals on route was as follows:—Fremantle-Adelaide (1800 miles), 20 days 12 hrs. 26 mins.; to Melbourne (2509 miles), 26 days 5hrs. 38 mins.; and to Sydney (3077 miles), 31 days 3 hrs. 15 min. Birtles had the assistance of motor cycle pacing during the latter stages of the ride. White, who will ride a "Hercules" cycle, fitted with "Continental" tyres, hopes to considerably reduce Birtles's figures.

AUSTRALIAN RIDERS FOR PARIS.

C. Snell, the Victorian road rider, who has recently been racing with success in New Zealand, passed through Sydney yesterday, en route from Wellington. Snell stated that, in company with Don Kirkham, I. R. Munro, and C. A. Piercey, he would sail for Paris on December 10, where they would compete in six days' and other long distance events on the Buffalo Velodrome, and also take part in French road races.

BUDGEE BUDGEE CARNIVAL.

The council of the League of N.S.W. Wheelmen has granted sanction to the Budgee Budgee sports committee to hold two open handicap events in connection with the Budgee Budgee sports on Friday, December 26. The cash prizes amount to £12 12s. Entries close with the league secretary, Mr. L. S. Leadley, on December 17.

CANLEY PARK CLUB.

The Canley Park Wheel Club will hold its fourth annual carnival on the local track on Thursday, January 1. The club's 10 miles road championship and a 9½-mile road race, will be held over the Fairfield-Smithfield course on December 6.

NORTHERN SUBURBS CLUB.

A special meeting of the Northern Suburbs District League Club will be held at the Union Hotel, North Sydney, this evening, at 7.45 o'clock, when the racing committee will present its report on the club's proposed 24 hours' race and other track meetings.

MARRICKVILLE CHAMPIONSHIP CARNIVAL.

The handicaps for the Marrickville Club's championship carnival, to be held on the Sydney Sports Ground on December 6, will be declared by the N.S.W. Cyclists' Union executive to-morrow. A record entry for an amateur cycle meeting in the State has been received.

MOTOR CYCLING.

24 HOURS' RECORD.

J. G. Ramsey, the South Australian motor cyclist, has made an unsuccessful attempt to lower the 24 hours' Australasian motor cycling record at present standing to the credit of P. J. O'Brien (Victoria), at 679 miles, which was established on a 3½-h.p. Rover machine last February. Ramsay rode a 3½-h.p. Lewis machine, shod with Dunlop tyres, and he selected a 92½ miles circuit on York Peninsular (S.A.) for his attempt. In the sixth round a broken valve fell into the combustion chamber of the engine, and smashing the piston, put the machine out of action. At that time Ramsey had covered 541 miles in 16 hours, his actual riding time being approximately 14 hours 30 minutes—well within record time.

CANBERRA CLUB.

The Canberra Motor Cycle Club will hold a non-stop reliability trial from Sydney to Katoomba on Saturday afternoon, December 6, starting from the General Post Office at 3 o'clock. The first prize is an open order valued at £5 5s, presented by the club, while Mr. Henry Sampson has offered a trophy valued at £2 2s for the runner-up. Entries close with the hon. secretary, Mr. A. Levi, on Friday, December 5. The following are the nominations received to date:—H. Head, F. D. Campbell, E. Ferris, L. Ogden, F. Fancourt, A. Howell, B. Levy, A. Sales, A. Levi, H. Sampson, J. Carter, M. Sufferin, W. Scope (Katoomba), H. Cornwall, S. C. Gosney, H. Macartney, V. Brennan.

BILLIARDS.

CHAMPIONS AT HORNSBY.

The opening of the Billiard Palace, built for Mr. H. Trimmell Ritchard, Hornsby, was responsible for a game being played between Miss Roberts (champion lady player) and Frank Smith, jun. The game was 500 up, and the latter conceded 250 to his opponent. The match was well contested, and was won by Smith by 8. The winner's breaks were:—50, 63, 44, 37, 41, 58, and 37 unfinished. Miss Roberts, 38, 16, 22, 26, 20, 21.

WRESTLING.

JACK JOHNSON IN A NEW ROLE.

PARIS, Nov. 26.

Jack Johnson beat Urbach, a German, in a wrestling match last night. There were many disorderly scenes during the progress of the match. Urbach, at the outset, rushed Johnson, and the latter, surprised, assumed a boxing attitude. The German then hammered the black with his fists till Johnson caught him by the ankle and forced him to hop round the mat. Several spectators were arrested during the bout.

BOXING.

CONTESTS AT THE STADIUM.

Three contests were staged at the Stadium last night. Jack Clune and Joe Lonergan, lightweights, were the first pair. Clune, who is recently out of the amateur ranks, was too good for Lonergan, and led in every round, Lonergan's corner throwing in the towel in the tenth.

The bout between George Brewer and Jack Jeffries, middleweights, ended in an unpleasant manner. Jeffries was holding his own on points, when in the fourth round he indulged in such foul tactics that the bout was stopped, and Brewer awarded the verdict. Mr. Baker (the promoter) stated subsequently that Jeffries was disqualified for life as far as the Stadium circuit was concerned.

Lightweights Billy Cox and Will Sayers provided a willing 10 rounds. Sayers was the sturdier, and in the first round sent Cox down. Cox picked up quickly, however, and showing particularly well in the last three rounds won a well-earned verdict.

TO-DAY'S MATINEE.

Fred. Brett and Les. Radford (lightweights) will provide the 10-round contest at the Stadium this afternoon. Matt Wells and Harry Stone, who box on Saturday, will appear in exhibition, and there will be half a dozen three-round bouts.

FREDDIE WELSH BEATS PHIL. BLOOM.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.

Freddie Welsh outfought Phil. Bloom, of Brooklyn, in a 10-round bout last night. Bloom made a poor showing.

THE HARBOUR TRUST.

FREMANTLE, Tuesday.

The report of the Harbour Trust has just been submitted to Parliament. The figures show that the receipts are far in excess of the previous year's gross earnings, reaching £199,768, the surplus over working expenses being equal to 7.9 per cent. on the capital cost of the harbour. After providing for interest at 3½ per cent., sinking fund at 10 per cent. on capital value, of the harbour, £1,566,987, and the annual contribution to the renewals and replacements fund, £2000, there remained a surplus over expenditure of £51,353, an increase in comparison with the previous year of £12,176.

NOVEL CLAIM.

BATHURST, Tuesday.

A novel claim was served on the municipal council by Mr. A. P. Paton, a member of whose orchestra had a brass instrument damaged by the limb of a street tree overhanging the footpath. Legal advice was sought by the council, whose solicitor now states: "It would appear from our inspection of the locality that the alleged damage was caused owing to the instrument striking a dead limb some five or six feet from the ground and projecting over the roadway. This is a case of non-feasance only, for which the council is not liable to Mr. Paton for the alleged damage to the bass instruments and, consequently, it is not liable for the expenses of its repair."

NORTH SYDNEY LIGHTING.

The North Sydney councillors discussed the question of the electric lighting of the municipality. A letter was received from Messrs. Stephen, Jaques, and Stephen, solicitors for the North Sydney Electric Light and Power Supply Corporation, with which negotiations had been carried on, suggesting a conference with the council's solicitors, with the object of securing a binding legal decision, which, if favourable, would relieve the council from all responsibility, and give the ratepayers at an earlier date the benefit of a satisfactory service.

Alderman Creswell moved,—"That a conference be held between the Mayor, manager of the company, and solicitor for the company, with a view to stating a case for the Full Court to decide what were the powers of the council to control charges to private consumers."

The Mayor's casting vote in favour of the motion secured its being carried.

UNKNOWN WOMAN FOUND.

On Saturday night a woman was conveyed in an unconscious condition to the Western Suburbs Cottage Hospital. She had been knocked down by a cart in Burwood-road, Burwood, and is so far unidentified.

She is of about 45 years of age, 5ft 7in in height, medium build, dark hair turning grey, and was dressed in black.

NOMINATED IMMIGRANTS.

We have received from Mr. C. F. Tindal, of Armidale, a cheque for £10 10s towards the fund established to enable recently-arrived immigrants to send for their families in England. The amount will be forwarded to the British Immigration League.

THE CUSTOMS.

MR. BARKLEY'S APPOINTMENT

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The Federal Executive Council to-day appointed Mr. William Henry Barkley collector of Customs in Sydney, at a salary of £850 a year, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Stephen Mills to the position of Controller-General of Customs.

Mr. Barkley's career has been one of rapid promotion. Originally on the staff of the Sydney Customs Office, in 1903 he was appointed senior clerk on the central administration at £310 a year. Three years later he was transferred back to the Sydney office, where he remained until 1910, when he was despatched to London to represent the Customs Department there. Increases in salary followed each promotion. In May, 1912, he was appointed chief Commonwealth Customs surveyor on the central staff, at £520 a year. A couple of months later he was made Customs collector in Queensland, at £700 a year, which post he now relinquishes to take up his new duties.

STATE CONSTITUTION.

HISTORY REVIEWED.

EARLY STRUGGLES IN NEW SOUTH WALES.

An entertaining paper was read by Mr. K. R. Cramp, M.A., before an appreciative audience at the monthly meeting of the Australian Historical Society on Tuesday evening. After briefly tracing the development of government during the first half-century of New South Wales, the lecturer made fuller reference to the indignation aroused in the colony by Earl Grey's despatches, containing the proposal to make the district councillors the constituents of the Legislative Council. Details of the historic public meeting held in the Royal Victorian Theatre early in 1848, and an outline of the protests made by some of Australia's greatest orators were given. The excellent services rendered to the cause of constitutionalism by the "Sydney Morning Herald" were indicated, and lengthy extracts from several leading articles were read. Lowe's advocacy of passive resistance to "Dr. Grey's Quackery" was applauded, as well as Wentworth's impassioned, yet scholarly denunciation of double election. The recommendations of the Privy Council in 1849, the Act of 1850, and the "Declaration and Remonstrance," drawn up by the Council under Wentworth's guidance, were outlined. The lecture closed with a treatment of Wentworth's Draft Constitution, and the opposition, led by Darvall, Parkes, and the "Herald," to the establishment of an Upper House based on a system of hereditary nobility.

YOUNG MAN'S SUICIDE.

ENGAGEMENT BROKEN ON WEDDING DAY.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

While working in Yarra Park on November 17 Robert Coffey, the caretaker, heard a report of a revolver, and later near a path he found the body of Henry Noble, a tanner (34), who recently arrived from South Australia.

There was a bullet wound over the man's heart.

At the inquest held on Saturday, the mother of deceased stated that on the day of his death deceased handed her £65, and said, "Look after the money for me. I have one more thing to do, and that is the last."

Witness did not think that he intended to do harm to himself. Deceased was to have been married recently, but his fiancee broke off the engagement on the day fixed for the wedding.

The coroner recorded a verdict that deceased died from a gunshot wound. He added that he was of opinion that the wound was self-inflicted, and that there was evidence of mental unsoundness at the time.

HAIL DESTROYS CROPS.

TAMWORTH, Tuesday.

On Saturday a hailstorm damaged crops at Moonbi, Tintinhull, and also in the vicinity of Goonoo Goonoo, extending towards Tamarang and Currabubula. It appears to have been more severe at Moonbi, and the following are reported to have had their crops wholly or partially destroyed:—W. Philp, Harry Chaffey, T. Miller, Sam Chaffey, W. Carmichael, E. Campbell, Weaver, and M. Cantwell. Mr. J. Whitten, on the Woodlands estate, had over 100 acres destroyed. Some of these crops were insured against destruction by hail.

SNAKE IN BED.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Mr. W. H. Talbot and his son, W. Talbot, were sleeping in an old house on one of Mr. Talbot's farms, some miles distant from the homestead at Hopetoun, when the father was aroused by the cries of the youth.

Mr. Talbot hastily struck a match, and discovered that a large snake was coiled around the lad's arm, which was stretched outside the bed-clothes. The father grabbed the snake, and as it uncoiled itself from the boy's arm threw it to the other end of the room. Neither father nor son was bitten. The snake escaped.

CRUISER LEAVING.

A TARGET IN TOW.

The cruiser Melbourne leaves to-day for Norfolk Bay, Tasmania, where she will engage in gun practice, and afterwards be joined by the flagship Australia, and cruiser Sydney.

When the Melbourne leaves her moorings in Farm Cove to-day she will be towing a target. This is a long wooden structure, similar to a narrow and low-lying punt, and will probably require careful handling on the voyage.

CANE FIRES.

BRISBANE, Wednesday.

Advices received from Mulgrave state that two serious cane fires had occurred, one at G. R. Mayer's farm, another at a farm belonging to F. G. Morton. At the former place 125 acres were burnt, while at the latter a large area was affected. One or two other farms were also said to have been affected. The scrub in the vicinity is burning fiercely.

COUNTRY TRADERS.

A meeting of the committee of the Country Traders' Association of New South Wales was held at the rooms, Bull's-chambers, Moore-street. Mr. G. A. M. Nankervis (Tamworth) presided. The secretary (Mr. J. H. King), in his report, referred to the special appeal which was being made towards the establishment of a "fighting fund" to meet the claims that would be presented by the shop assistants on the expiration of the present award.

The sum of £50 was voted towards the expenses of the case being conducted by the Employers' Federation before the cost of living inquiry. The association decided to affiliate with the Sydney Chamber of Commerce and Employers' Federation.

DEATH OF MR. BLAIR.

Mr. Archibald William Blair, late of Balmain, died yesterday at a private hospital at Mosman, after a short illness, in his 71st year. Up till his retiring from business 28 years ago, Mr. Blair was well known in commercial circles, being senior partner in the firms of Blair, Fyfe, and Co., Blair, Oxly, and Co., Blair, Lyons, and Co., and Blair, Cameron, and Co., as flour, rice, and spice millers. About the early 'seventies he was a prominent yachtsman, and owned, amongst other yachts, the Sylph, Sylvie, Iris, and Bronzewing, and was a member of both the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron and the Prince Alfred Yacht Club. He also owned the barge Forward about the same time.

WORKS CLOSED.

The Sydney Meat Preserving Company's Works at Auburn are now practically closed down, and will remain so till after Christmas.

Summonses have been issued against 35 to 30 slaughtermen on strike at the works of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company, Ltd., at Auburn, and are returnable on December 3 next.

DEATH OF MR. V. SACHS.

Mr. Valentine Sachs, formerly Mayor of Glen Innes, died yesterday at Milsonia, Knox-street, Randwick. He was prominently identified with the Oddfellows, and for 25 years was a member of the Glen Innes lodge. Mr. Sachs was 65 years of age.

MORE TAXES.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN BILL.

PERTH, Wednesday.

The Assembly, by 25 to 11, passed the Land and Income Tax Bill. Mr. Frank Wilson protested against the inequity of doubling the land tax from a halfpenny to a penny by abolishing differentiation between improved and unimproved land, while increasing the income tax exemption from £200 to £[illegible] in the interests of Government supporters, and providing revenue for Ministerial extravagances and State enterprise experiments.

The Premier, replying, said nearly half the land tax would be paid by the metropolitan district. If selectors could not make £[illegible] per year, he recommended them to stay away.

In committee amendments exempting clubs from taxation as businesses, and providing that the Federal land tax be deducted in valuations for State land tax were rejected. The Premier said, in respect to the latter, he must not leave the way open for further Federal inroads on State revenue.

CASUALTIES.

MINER INJURED.

BROKEN HILL, Wednesday.

Frank Eddy, a miner at the North mine, working at the 1250 foot level, was boring, and seemingly struck an old charge. An explosion followed, and Eddy received the full force of it in the face, his eyes being badly peppered. He will probably lose his sight.

A LABOURER'S DEATH.

WEST MAITLAND, Wednesday.

An inquest was held by the Coroner, Mr. C. A. Gale, P.M., at the courthouse on Monday regarding the death of Michael Connolly, a labourer, who was killed on the railway line near High-street station, on Saturday. The evidence of the deceased's brother, Thomas Connolly, was that 18 months ago deceased attempted suicide, and he was somewhat worried when he left witness's house on Friday last. Joseph Daniel Griffiths, a railway fireman, stated that the deceased deliberately threw himself in front of the engine. The Coroner returned a verdict of suicide.

BOY DROWNED.

WALCHA, Wednesday.

A little boy named Dignam (7), residing in the bush near Niangala, wandered from home on Sunday. After a search his body was found in the river.

COMPOSITOR'S SUDDEN DEATH.

WYALONG, Wednesday.

Edward T. Hawksley, compositor on the "Wyalong Advocate" staff, commenced work on Monday morning. Shortly afterwards he went into the back yard, where he was found dead a few minutes later. At an inquest a verdict was returned that death was due to paralysis of the brain.

CARTER'S ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

NARROMINE, Wednesday.

A coroner's inquiry was held here regarding the death of Albert Bouchier, who was recently killed through getting a leg caught in the revolving wheel of his cart. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

DUNGOG, Wednesday.

While Mr. S. Brooker, of Dungog, was mounting his horse on Saturday, the saddle turned, causing the horse to plunge violently. Mr. Brooker was kicked in the face by both heels, inflicting serious injury. His face was badly lacerated. It is feared the sight of one eye will be lost.

DEATH FOLLOWS IMMERSION.

BLACKTOWN, Wednesday.

A 10-year-old son of Mr. Donohue, at Rooty Hill, while drawing a bucket of water, fell into the well. He was promptly rescued, but died before Dr. Thompson arrived.

CHINESE ROBBED.

BOYS USE FIREARMS.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Rollo Newton Johnson (19) and James Ralph Wensbley (17), who pleaded guilty to the theft of a case of oranges and two pineapples, from the cart of Low Hong, Chinese gardener, came up for sentence before Mr. Justice Hood in the Criminal Court yesterday. The theft had been committed in Hotham-road, Toorak, and Low Hong had received three wounds from revolvers carried by the thieves while endeavouring to intercept them. His Honor sentenced them each to six months' imprisonment with hard labour.

STRUCK OFF ROLLS.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

In the Practice Court, before Mr. Justice a'Beckett, Daniel O'Halloran, formerly of Bendigo, was struck off the rolls of barristers and solicitors, on the motion of Mr. Weston (instructed by Mr. Arthur Robinson, honorary secretary of the Law Institute of Victoria).

The ground was that O'Halloran had been guilty of professional misconduct. It was explained that, as executor of a will, he had not accounted for moneys received, and had disobeyed an order of the Court for the adjustment of accounts, dated October 31, 1912. O'Halloran disappeared from Bendigo about twelve months ago.

PAPUAN OIL.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Every assistance is being given by the Federal Ministry towards proving the commercial possibilities of the petroleum fields of Papua. A few weeks ago Mr. F. Grebin was engaged to supervise the experimental work. Mr. Glynn said yesterday that Mr. Grebin had visited Adelaide and Sydney during the last few weeks, making inquiries as to suitable prospecting machinery, and as a result a full equipment of the latest plant had now been ordered.

FRAUD AT RACES.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

In the City Court Alfred McDonald (35) was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour on a charge of having obtained £60 by false verbal representation from Charles Schwar. McDonald obtained three sums of £20 each from Schwar to put on racehorses. In each case accused informed him that the horse was just beaten.

The magistrate made an order that £10 [illegible] found in McDonald's possession should be restored to Schwar.

CLUB RAIDED.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

The police raided the Investors' Mutual Club at 281 Collins-street, yesterday, and arrested the secretary, Clarence Stevenson, and 23 members. Stevenson was charged with having kept a common gaming-house, and having assisted in conducting a common gaming-house, and having been found in a common gaming-house. The others were charged with the last mentioned offence.

NO LOCAL GOVERNORS.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

Mr. M. Hannah, in the Legislative Assembly this afternoon, asked the Premier if, in view of Sir John Fuller's resignation, the Government would provide for the appointment in future of a Governor from Victoria.

Mr. Watt, in reply, said that the Ministry could not recommend any change.

TIMBER MILL FIRE.

ADELAIDE, Wednesday.

A fire occurred on Sunday in a mill and carpenter's shop of the Lion Timber Mills. The two-story premises. The place, together with machinery and plant, was destroyed.

COAL-LUMPERS.

HIGHER WAGES WANTED.

The agreement under which the coal-lumpers have been working expires to-day, and a "stop-work" meeting was held yesterday to consider the situation. The principal claim of the men was for an eight-hour instead of a ten-hour limit as at present, and an increase from 1s 7½d to 1s 9d per hour. It is understood that an amicable settlement is likely to be arrived at.

JEWEL ROBBERY.

It was reported to the Randwick police last night that a thief had entered the room occupied by Mrs. Isaacs, wife of Mr. Justice Isaacs, at the Coogee Bay Hotel, [illegible] brooches, and other jewellery, to the value of £120, were taken.

PREMIER'S TOUR.

A LIGHT INTERLUDE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

JUNEE, Wednesday.

Another crowded and enthusiastic audience greeted the Premier in Meldrum's Hall here to-night. The Mayor (Alderman Pegg) presided.

The Premier said that Mr. Wade had been trying to mislead the people into the belief that the land which the Government had discovered and thrown open to settlement was the residue of open Crown lands hitherto rejected as worth no man's while to select, whereas it was land of the highest attractiveness, locked up in reserves. (Applause.)

An interjector: "What about leasehold?

The Premier declared that the interjection was not relevant at that stage. (Applause.)

At a later stage the interjector said: "What about the Bathurst burr?" (Laughter.)

Mr. Holman: "The interruptor's intellect is doubtless better fitted to discuss the latter than the former. (Applause.)

The Mayor threatened to have the offender put out.

The Premier unconsciously prompted an outburst of laughter by remarking "We have just given Junee a water supply." The Premier was unaware that the town had just gone through a crisis, the new supply having suddenly failed.

The Mayor whispered the nature of the joke to the Premier, whereat he also laughed heartily. Advancing to the foot of the stage, the Mayor then said: "Gentlemen, to-day we had clean water. (Laughter and applause.)

The Premier: I am glad I have come to a town with clean water. During the last few days I have been obliged to wade through dirty water politically. (Laughter and applause.)

A questioner asked whether Mr. Holman's personal action "in kicking out the Governor-General would stand daylight."

The Premier: What do you mean by "kicking out the Governor-General?"

The questioner: "You are erecting an academy of music where his residence stands. If he comes to Sydney he has either to sleep on a man-o'-war or return by the next train because he has nowhere to rest his head. (Laughter.)

A voice: "I will lend him a couple of bob to buy a bed." (More laughter.)

The Premier said that the Governor-General was a Federal officer. The postmaster of Junee was also a Federal officer. It was no more the duty of the State to supply the Governor-General with a residence than the Junee postmaster. It was a duty which rested entirely with the Federal Government. (Applause.)

THEATRICAL SUIT.

MADAME NORDICA AND HER MANAGER.

CLAIM AND COUNTER CLAIM.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

Differences that have arisen between Madame Nordica and her former manager, Frederic Shipman, were revived to-day in the Practice Court.

Mr. Mann, on behalf of Madame Nordica, on a summons for directions, asked the Court to order the taking of accounts of the Australian and American tour, and a speedy trial of the action. If the accounts were taken, Madame believed that she would be entitled to £600 or £700. Early one morning a messenger had arrived, and left with Madame Nordica a package of papers. These included huge counter claims against the plaintiff in respect to alleged breaches of contract in America, and these purported to mop up all the money. The plaintiff, however, was not disposed to accept that statement.

Mr. Starke, who appeared for Mr. Shipman, said that the first thing he wanted was security for costs. The defendant claimed that he had delivered accounts; he had also counter claimed for breaches of contract in America and on the present tour, and there would be no real advantage in taking accounts at the present time. Mr. Shipman had been manager for Madame Nordica for a considerable time in America. She used to take all the money and give him no remuneration. In Australia Shipman was also left without money to pay the accounts.

Mr. Justice a'Beckett ordered that the security for costs be £75, and gave leave to defendant to deliver a counter claim. He also ordered that accounts should be taken.

NEWCASTLE.

DISTRICT COURT.

NEWCASTLE, Wednesday.

At to-day's sitting of the District Court, before Judge Fitzhardinge, Robert Percy Innes and George Davis brought an action claiming £25 each from Frederick Wm. Joseph Fletcher and his wife, Bessie Fletcher, for damage to bicycles in an accident which occurred on June 12 last. Mr. R. Cowan, instructed by Messrs. Bray and Cohen, appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. W. J. Enwright for the defendants.

Geo. Davis said that Innes and he were riding bicycles along Hunter-street. Innes was about 3ft in front of him. A motor came from behind a lorry, and was travelling straight for Innes. He turned to get out of its way, and ran into the kerbstone and fell. If he had not done that he would have collided with the motor car.

Bessie Sinclair Fletcher stated that she was driving the car along Hunter-street at the rate of seven miles an hour at the time. She saw Innes on a bicycle, with his head down, come right towards the car. She turned the wheel of the car in order to clear the bicycle and rider, but he went to the kerbstone.

His Honor found in favour of the defendants. He said that the plaintiffs had brought an action before the Small Debts Court, and had there set down the damage at £10. As far as his Honor could gather, they only proved about £7 damage. For some reason or other they had claimed £25 before the present Court. It seemed to him that in this case Innes either lost his head or his bicycle skidded. There could be no doubt that the motor car did not touch the bicycles. He was satisfied that the plaintiffs had not made out their case, and found a verdict for the defendants in each case.

WORKING COAL MINES.

When Mr. Justice Edmunds was giving the award of the Miners' Wages Board on the Stockton Borehole case to-day he referred to the long-wall system used in that colliery. In all the other pits in the Newcastle and Maitland districts the coal is obtained on the pillar-work system. It was a good thing for men on both sides, he said, that long-wall working should be introduced into the district. Mr. Neilson's figures showed the quantity of coal as 24,000,000 tons, which would probably remain unworked if the long-wall system was not adopted. That might be coal in sight, but the chairman thought that in the whole of the Newcastle district the amount would probably be much greater. If the pillar-worked mines were worked on the long-wall system the mineral wealth of the State would be materially increased.

RAILWAY OFFICERS.

INQUIRY ABOUT WAGES BOARD.

ALBURY, Wednesday.

A deputation from the southern branch of the Railway Officers' Association waited on Mr. D. R. Hall, Minister for Justice. The branch represents a district that takes in Albury, The Rock, Oaklands, Corowa, and Germanton. The chairman of the deputation asked Mr. Hall whether he could give them any information as to the result of the deputation that waited upon him in Sydney, asking that the wages board for them might be gone on with as early as possible. He understood that a promise had been given that it would be put through before the end of the present year.

The Minister, after referring to the large amount of labour devolving upon the Judges available for industrial work, said that if they could get Judge Edmunds to take the board, and he could use the evidence previously taken without going to the expense of taking it over again, it would be well. If they could not get Judge Edmunds they must get Mr. Justice Heydon or Judge Hamilton. Judge Edmunds had just returned to Sydney, and the Minister had instructed his Under-Secretary to ask the Judge three questions: (1) How long would it take him to wind up the officers' case; (2) whether he could spare the time to take the board without trouble to the coal trade; and (3) whether he could use the previous evidence and complete it in a few days?

The Minister would have that information that day.

The Postal Department notifies that half-penny and penny postage stamps, in rolls, are available for purchase by the public at the stamp sales counter at the General Post Office.

On Tuesday afternoon a thief stole £30 worth of jewellery from Mr. Thomas Aitken's house in Moseley-street, Burwood. A glass panel in the kitchen door was broken during the inmates' absence.

THE WEATHER.

WARM AND SULTRY.

110 DEGREES AT COOLGARDIE.

Three points at Gabo was the only report of rainfall during the past 24 hours ended at 9 a.m. yesterday.

Warm and sultry conditions were the prevalent features over the State generally, both on Tuesday afternoon and yesterday morning. Most of the maximum temperatures were in the 70's or 80's (deg.), being modified by the prevailing SW winds. At some scattered places, however, where the sultriness was more pronounced, some of the midday readings reached the 90's. Tabulam and Jerry's Plains each registered 93 deg., Kempsey 91, and Collarenebri, Pilliga, Gunnedah, and Maitland each 90 deg. The night and early morning registrations were again depressed, and on the whole the conditions were rather pleasant. The lowest readings were experienced on the southern tablelands. Kiandra advised a minimum of 29 deg., Nimitybelle 33, Cooma 35, and Bombala 35. Other readings below 40 deg. were:—Kosciusko 37, and Carcoar 39.

Some high temperatures are still obtaining in various parts of the continent, chiefly in western and northern. The highest were: Coolgardie 110 deg., Kalgoorlie 109, Cue 109, Eyre 108, Southern Cross and Yalgoo each 107, Nullagine 106, and Wyndham 105 (in W.A.), and Daly Waters (S.A.), 103 degrees.

In Tasmania light to heavy rain has been recorded in the west and south, and light generally elsewhere. A little light rain was also reported from Victoria, but elsewhere, so far as available reports show, little or no rain has been recorded.

TINFIELD IN THE NORTH.

ADELAIDE, Tuesday.

The Minister for External Affairs (Mr. Glynn), when asked if he had any news about the Northern Territory tin-mining industry, said the geologist for the Territory (Dr. Jensen) had reported on the recent discovery at Berwick Creek, beyond Providence Knob, and about 100 miles from Pine Creek. Dr. Jensen declared that the lode was apparently a permanent one, and covered a wide field of about, on the first estimate, 10 square miles. Between 50 and 60 men were already there tin-mining.

PIANO BARGAINS.

Quality is an easy thing to claim. Less easy to give in an exchanged Piano.

Exchanged Pianos are not made to order—the dealer has to accept them just as they come from the public.

The Pianola Company receives a far higher class of exchanged pianos than other houses, because they offer the most powerful inducement ever known to exchange valuable pianos, the PIANOLA PIANO.

Scores of the superior kind of exchanged pianos await your selection, all the good makes, and wonderfully small prices, quality considered.

WE ANNOUNCE OUR ANNUAL SUMMER SALE OF 80 SLIGHTLY-USED PIANOS, 80 INCLUDING 25 PIANOLA AND OTHER PLAYER PIANOS.

USED UPRIGHTS AND GRANDS OF FAMOUS MAKES RECEIVED IN EXCHANGE FOR THE PIANOLA PIANO (Steinway, Steck, Stroud, and the famous Weber).

A PIANO OR PIANOLA PIANO FOR XMAS. BUY TO-DAY, OR SELECT AN INSTRUMENT FOR XMAS DELIVERY.

A PHENOMENAL SALE AT PIANOLA HALL, SURPASSING ALL ITS PREDECESSORS.

Here are 9 Ronisch, 8 Stecks, 3 Lipps, 2 Bechsteins, 1 Steinway, 2 Brinsmeads, 2 Bluthners, 3 Victors, and examples of such well-known makes as Fahr, Siewert, Feurich, Collard and Collard, Wilmer, Forster, etc., etc. Over 60 slightly-used and second-hand Pianos all told, in all woods. Also a considerable number of well-known Player Pianos, such as, Jansen, Angelus 88-note, 3 Ronisch Claviolas, Broadwood Player Piano, Auto Player Piano, and Stirling Player Piano, together with 20 slightly-used Steck and Steinway Upright Pianola Pianos, which have been exchanged for the famous and very recent production,

THE STECK AND STEINWAY GRAND PIANOLA PIANO.

There is nothing to be gained by putting off the purchase of your instrument until the Christmas rush is at its height. Select or order your Piano to-day, while the assortment is at its best. If you do not wish to pay cash, merely pay a first instalment of £5, the balance you can pay in small amounts, commencing January, spread out from one to three years if desired.

Many styles of the Pianola Piano, such as the Steinway, Weber, or Steck Grand Pianola Pianos, are magnificent and costly instruments. The homes to which they go are homes of wealth and refinement, and the Pianos which they displace are splendid high-grade makes, in keeping with their surroundings, a number of them coming from some of Sydney's finest homes.

These are the Pianos offered in the Sale (together with our magnificent collection of new Pianos). To call them used Pianos is actually misleading, as the majority are here because their owners could not use them, and wanted in their place the Pianola Piano, the Piano which everyone can play.

We invite you to look at the specimen values shown here. Whatever may be your Piano need, whether you desire a famous Grand for your drawing-room, an Upright for your children's nursery, or a Piano for your summer home, you will find an instrument eminently suited for your purpose—an instrument with a name that stands for quality—an instrument in beautiful condition, which you may purchase at but a part of its usual price.

STECK (6). We have six of these instruments, our largest models sold at 90 Guineas, but exchanged after 12 to 24 months' use for a Steck or Steinway Pianola Piano. The little playing received during that period has rather improved the tone than otherwise. They look like brand new instruments, and our Sale Price is £75.

LIPP. One of the modern large Upright Grand models, cost new £105. Sale Price, £70.

BECHSTEIN, GRAND. Not one of the most modern styles, but it is overstrung, full iron frame, Rosewood case. Cost new over £200. Sale Price, £65.

GROUP 4.

A NUMBER OF USED PIANOLA PIANOS AT GREAT REDUCTIONS.

The introduction of the Grand Pianola Piano has brought to us a large number of Pianola Pianos in the Upright model which have been exchanged for these costlier instruments.

20 genuine Steck Pianola Pianos—used.
2 Style 9. Original price, £150. Sale Price, £100.
7 Style 8. Original Price, £152. Sale Price, £120 to £125.
5 Style 7. Original Price, £162. Sale Price, £130.
2 Style 6. Original Price, £178. Sale Price, £145.

Style 4.—We have a limited number of these instruments, original price £190. Not one of these Pianos has ever seen a day's use. The one and only reason for the reduction in price is that they are not listed in our new 1914 catalogue. They are very handsome instruments, but the latest advices from our European Factories are that this style is discontinued, which makes it desirable to dispose of them at once. Sale Price, £155.

A number of PLAYER PIANOS, of other makes, are also offered, together with a number of Exchanged Pianolas, the most highly perfected detachable Piano Player. Note the exceptionally low prices.

12 Player Pianos of other makes, from £80. This collection is made up of Auto Player Pianos, Stirling, Claviola Ronisch (3), Angelus, Jansen (88-note), Broadwood, Spencer 88, 72, and 65 note.

40 Exchanged Pianolas taken back from our Customers, together with their Pianos, in Exchange for Pianola Pianos. Regular prices, 60 Guineas; now £18 to £45. Each one is in perfect condition, and carries the complete new guarantee.

The Pianola does not require any alteration in your Piano whatever; does not in any way injure it, and may be entirely removed from the keyboard when not in use.

Also, 3 Claviolas, £15 to £25; Apollos and Angelus, from £10 up.

AEOLIAN ORCHESTRELLES.

A few slightly used instruments exchanged for the larger and more costly styles:—
2 Style V's—Original Price, £350; Sale Price, £200.
Style W (Grecian model)—Original Price, £400; Sale Price, £275.
Style M—Original Price, £200; Sale Price, £110.
And several other similar Instruments at enormous reductions.

IMPORTANT.

Every Instrument at this Sale may be bought subject to the condition that the full purchase price will be allowed in exchange for any brand new instruments from our stock of over 200 NEW PIANOS AND PIANOLA PIANOS, in exchange, within 2 months from date of purchase.

The Pianola Company's Easy Payment Plan makes the purchase of any one of the above instruments a matter involving but a few shillings a week, payable monthly.

STATE ELECTIONS.

TO CANDIDATES, ELECTORS GENERALLY, and SCHOOL TEACHERS PARTICULARLY.—The present attitude of the Churches towards Politics generally, and State Schools in particular, is threatening Politicians and the People with the loss of their secular liberty. We should get free of the Churches, and become a Secular State. Declare your Secularism, and join the Rationalist Press Association, Limited, of London—an absolutely non-political body. Particulars from W. J. MILES, Hon. Sec. for N.S.W., Challis House.

THE LOCAL OPTION POLL.

150,000 PEOPLE IN NEW ZEALAND, 2,000,000 IN CANADA, and 45,000,000 IN THE UNITED STATES have adopted NO-LICENSE OR PROHIBITION.

WOULD THEY VOTE FOR IT IF A FAILURE?

ARE THEY FOOLS?

THE STEADY GROWTH PROVES REAL AND GREAT SUCCESS.

DRINK IN THIS STATE is the RIGHT-HAND OF SIN, and SIRE OF COUNTLESS WOES!

IT FEEDS GAOLS, ASYLUMS, and BREAKS UP HOMES.

The social wreckage known by official figures is large, but that not made public is wonderfully greater.

Think of 32,977 convictions in the courts for drunkenness last year! The men and women would make a procession five miles long.

Raise your locality morally, socially, and make it happier by abolishing the bar—the temptation—the allurement!

VOTE FOR NO-LICENSE.

I CRAVE SPACE, in regard to the No-License Question, to say a few words. To close the Liquor Bars will be a mistake, and will mean a big loss of Revenue or Money. ONE WHO KNOWS.

"Where Shopping is Always a Pleasure,"
OXFORD AND CROWN STREETS, SYDNEY.

PEARY SAID [illegible] he could never have reached the Pole without his dogs. Maeterlinck said, "The more I know of men, the better I like dogs." In India dogs are taught to carry lanterns, and thus act as lamp posts. And now we have what are known as the "dog" days—when days are unbearably hot. On such days you will find an excellent place to do your shopping. Snow's stocks are so complete, so varied, and so moderately priced, that one may come to this Specialty Store, with its pleasant surroundings, finish her shopping—for the needs of the house, as well as apparel for herself—and go away satisfied and contented. We try to make shopping at Snow's as pleasant as possible.

SNOW'S SPECIALTY STORE

WHO NEEDS CALICO?

THEN BUY FERGUSON'S.

But see that you get Ferguson's—the name is stamped on the selvedge—be particular about it, because there are "Calicoes and Calicoes."
"Ferguson's" looks, feels, washes, launders, and wears beautifully—it's possible for it to do all these things, because there is no dressing used in its manufacture.
There's another point about "Ferguson's"—it's made in special weights to suit Australian conditions. This makes it a stronger and harder wearer than all others.
Don't accept any other brand. All Drapers and Stores sell "Ferguson's"—and that's the brand you want—no other.

CHARMING CLOTHES FOR WOMEN OF TASTE AT MARK FOY'S, LIMITED.

WHETHER IN TRIM, TAILORED STYLE, EVENING GOWN, OR AT BUSINESS, A WOMAN SHOULD BE APPROPRIATELY ATTIRED, AND IN A MANNER TO DIFFUSE A GENUINE CHARM. IT IS WITH THIS IN MIND THAT EVERY GARMENT IN OUR STOCK IS CHOSEN.

As for our Price-savings, only Investigation can prove how splendid they are.

COSTUMES.

Between the hours of 9 o'clock and 12 o'clock TO-DAY Foy's are offering

374—THREE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FOUR—374 "MAIDS' ONE-PIECE MUSLIN FROCKS," all to go at a special Xmas Clearing Price—4/11½.

These are very daintily trimmed with fancy yokes of all-over Muslin Embroidery, nicely edged and finished with dainty Val. Laces and Insertions. They were originally priced as high as 10/6 and 12/6. They are in full Maids' sizes—such as 42in, 45in, 48in, 51in, and we offer you your choice of any style or any size at 4/11½. 4/11½. 4/11½.

The biggest bargain ever offered in Maids' Frocks.

Table of JAPANESE FANCY COTTON CREPE KIMONOS, in the latest Oriental patterns and colourings. These are silk-faced, but slightly "SOILED BY RAINWATER."
They are usually marked 4/11 and 5/11, but being slightly damaged we are clearing the whole lot out at 3/11½, 3/11½.

Special Clearing Line of LADIES' VOILE and MUSLIN ONE-PIECE ROBES, in "WHITE ONLY." These are made in the newest Puritan effects, low necks and high necks—in all sizes. They are very prettily trimmed, and constitute a great HOLIDAY BARGAIN at 8/11. 8/11.

Pay us a visit—the values will surprise you.

Table of very superior quality WHITE MUSLIN and VOILE ONE-PIECE ROBES. These are very dainty effects indeed, being handsomely trimmed with fine workings—some by hand. They are in some cases honestly worth as much as 29/11 each—but they are all to be cleared out at 13/11.

Some really excellent values in ONE-PIECE ROBES, at 19/11 each, in a big collection of the very latest materials—such as VOILES, MUSLINS, FROSTED CREPES, SPONGE CLOTH, RATINES, etc. These are in all colours and sizes. Price only 19/11.

Ladies, here's the "DRAWING CARD" in Foy's Showroom this week. Over 500. 500.

ONE-PIECE COLOURED COTTON HOLIDAY FROCKS for Xmas outings. OZONIA ANTISEPTIC,

THE MARVELLOUS REMEDY FOR ALL ILLNESSES OF THE EYES, EYELIDS, AND EYELASHES.
COLD IN THE EYE, INFLAMMATION, STYES, ULCERS, FALLING EYELASHES, FILMS OR SPECKS, WEAK AND WATERY EYES.
EYE TROUBLES FOLLOWING SCARLATINA, MEASLES, OR INFLUENZA, GRANULATION, ETC.

FROM A WELL-KNOWN MERCHANT.

Sydney, October 22nd, 1913.
Gentlemen,—
I am sending you this, my unsolicited and honest expression of opinion with regard to OZONIA. For the last 20 years I have suffered with my eyes, and for the last five years have had frequent attacks of severe inflammation, which require very special treatment.
About six months ago, quite by accident, I heard of OZONIA, and at that time my eyes were in a very inflamed condition, and did not yield to any treatment.
I decided to try OZONIA, and after applying it with an eye bath every hour for 12 hours the inflammation began to decrease. I continued with the treatment, and in a couple of days the inflammation had entirely gone. What is better, it has not returned, for I use the eye bath with a little OZONIA each night before retiring, and my eyes are always clear and bright—a comfort I have not known for years. I keep a large bottle now in my office for the use of the factory and warehouse, and can also bear testimony to the fact that for cuts, burns, and wounds it is all that you claim for it. For certain business reasons I do not wish my name to be published with this, but you are at liberty to give my name and address to anyone, and refer them to me personally.
All these troubles are cured by OZONIA Antiseptic, which has been working almost miraculous cures for a number of years.
OBTAINABLE AT ALL CHEMISTS AND STORES.
PRICE, 1/6.
AND AT 72 GOULBURN-STREET.

IS THE BEST POLISH FOR LINOLEUMS AND FURNITURE, SO DO NOT TAKE ANY IMITATION SAID TO BE "JUST-AS-GOOD," FOR THEY ARE NOT. LOOK WELL AT THE NAME.

SHI-NOLEUM.

"MOSES" DENTAL METHODS.

My method of extraction is so remarkably effective that I can extract even abscessed teeth painlessly. And by my treatment you suffer no painful pricking, no swollen gums, or nasty festers; no broken teeth, and, if your heart be weak, you will not be affected. My method suits all ages, from 3 years to 90.
I can dull and fill the most sensitive tooth without pain. I have a special apparatus—the only one in Sydney—for this fine humane work. I guarantee, in writing, all Fillings and Plate Work for 5 years. If any rare defect should appear, I cheerfully make it good. The most delicate and nervous children, and adults with the most sensitive gums, can come to me with perfect confidence. Gentleness and extreme care I always give, owing to my thorough knowledge of what can be done, and should be done. Let me examine your teeth, and I will tell you exactly what it will cost to have your teeth put in perfect order. This will place you under no obligation whatever.

OPEN TILL 6 P.M. DAILY (SATS. INCLUDED), UNTIL 9 P.M. FRIDAY.
